This listing is no longer in use. To attract and retain health professionals to pediatric research careers by offering educational loan repayment for participants who agree by written contract to engage in pediatric research in a qualifying nonprofit institution for a minimum of 2 years.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Direct Payments for Specified Use

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

To provide repayment of extant educational loans incurred by health professionals engaged in pediatric research in a qualified nonprofit institution or Federal or other domestic government agency (State or local), and who are engaged in research that is supported by a nonprofit foundation, nonprofit professional association, or other nonprofit entity, or a Federal or other domestic government agency (State, local). Recipients must agree by written contract to engage in such research, initially, for a minimum of 2 years; individuals who have conflicting service obligations may not participate in this program until those obligations are satisfied or have been deferred during the period of program service. Participants may apply for and the Secretary may grant extension contracts for one-year or two-year periods, as determined by the Secretary, if the individual continues to engage in qualifying research. Renewal applications are competitively reviewed and the submission of a renewal application does not assure the award of benefits. Maximum program benefit is $50,000 per year in loan repayments and $19,500 per year in Federal tax reimbursements. Recipients must have qualified educational debt in excess of 20 percent of their annual salary, which is referred to as their "debt threshold."

Applicant Eligibility:

Specialized group (e.g. health professionals, students, veterans); Eligible applicants must: (1) be a U.S. citizen, U.S. national, or permanent resident of the United States; (2) have a Ph.D., M.D., D.O., D.D.S., D.M.D., D.P.M., Pharm.D., D.C., N.D., O.D. or equivalent doctoral degree from an accredited institution; (3) have total qualifying educational loan debt equal to or in excess of 20 percent of their institutional base salary on the date of program eligibility (the effective date that a loan repayment contract has been executed by the Secretary of Health and Human Services or designee); (4) conduct qualifying research supported by a domestic nonprofit foundation, nonprofit professional association, or other nonprofit institution, or a U.S. or other government agency (Federal, State, or local); (5) engage in qualified pediatric research (pediatric research is research that is directly related to diseases, disorders, and other conditions in children); (6) engage in qualified pediatric research for at least 50 percent of their time, i.e., not less than 20 hours per week based on a 40 hour week; (7) agree to conduct research for which funding is not prohibited by Federal law, regulation, or HHS/NIH policy, and in accordance with applicable Federal, State and local law (e.g., applicable human subject protection regulations); and (8) sign and submit to the Secretary of Health and Human Services, at the time of application submission, a contract agreeing to engage in pediatric research in a qualifying institution for a minimum of 2 years. Full-time employees of Federal Government agencies are ineligible to apply for LRP benefits. Part-time Federal employees who engage in qualifying research as part of their non-Federal duties for at least 20 hours per week based on a 40 hour week, and who are not compensated as Federal employees for their research, are eligible to apply for loan repayment if they meet all other eligibility requirements.

PROGRAM ACCOMPLISHMENTS:

Fiscal Year 2020: Since its inception in 1972, the National Health Service Corps (NHSC) has worked to support qualified health care providers dedicated to working in underserved communities in urban, rural, and tribal areas. Across the nation, NHSC clinicians serve patients in HPSAs communities with limited access to health care. As of September 30, 2020, there were 7,203 primary care HPSAs, 6,487 dental HPSAs, and 5,733 mental health HPSAs. The NHSC seeks clinicians who demonstrate a commitment to serve the Nations medically underserved populations at NHSC-approved sites located in HPSAs. NHSC-approved sites provide care to individuals regardless of ability to pay; currently, there are over 16,400 NHSC-approved sites. Eligible sites include Federally Qualified Health Centers (FQHC) and FQHC Look-Alikes, American Indian and Native Alaska health clinics, rural health clinics, critical access hospitals and hospitals managed or owned by the Indian Health Service (IHS), school-based clinics, mobile units, free clinics, community mental health centers, state or local health departments, community outpatient facilities, federal facilities such as the Bureau of Prisons, U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement, IHS, and private practices. In particular, the NHSC has partnered closely with HRSA-supported FQHCs to help meet their staffing needs. Over 60 percent of NHSC clinicians serve in Health Centers around the nation, and 15 percent of clinical staff at FQHCs are NHSC clinicians. The NHSC also places clinicians in other community-based systems of care that serve underserved populations, targeting HPSAs of greatest need. As of September 30, 2020, there are 13,000 primary care medical, dental, and mental and behavioral health practitioners providing service nationwide.

This cooperative agreement program relates to Healthy People 2020 objectives in the topic area of Tobacco Use. In addition, this cooperative agreement program supports the Government Performance Results Modernization Act Long-term Objective 4.6: Reduce Death and Disability Due to Tobacco and the following measures: Tobacco Measure: 4.6 - Reduce death and disability due to tobacco use; 4.6.2 - Reduce per capita cigarette consumption in the U.S. per adult age 18+; 4.6.3 - Reduce the proportion of adults (age 18 and over) who are current cigarette smokers; 4.6.4 Increase the proportion of the U.S. population covered by comprehensive state and/or local laws making workplaces, restaurants, and bars 100% smoke free (no smoking allowed, no exceptions); 4.6.5 - Reduce the proportion of adolescents (grade 9-12) who are current cigarette smokers. Furthermore, this cooperative agreement program supports national public health priorities and strategic plans including: (1) Centers for Disease Controls Winnable Battles; (2) Department of Health and Human Services Ending the Tobacco Epidemic and Strategic Plan; (3) National Prevention Councils National Prevention Strategy; (4) Institute of Medicines, Ending the Tobacco Problem; and (5) numerous Surgeon General Reports.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Cooperative Agreements

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Awardees may not use funds for research or clinical care, to provide direct cessation services or other direct services other than those through evidence-based quitline services; to purchase nicotine replacement therapy or other products used for cessation; to pay for inspection of tobacco retail establishments. Awardees may only expend funds for reasonable program purposes, including personnel, travel, supplies, and services, such as contractual. Awardees may only use federal funds for evidence-based tobacco control interventions and strategies. No federal funds from this cooperative agreement may be used to purchase K-12 school curriculum. In most cases, awardees may not use HHS/CDC/ATSDR funding for the purchase of furniture or equipment. Any such proposed spending must be clearly identified in the budget. Reimbursement of pre-award costs is not allowed. Awardees may not use funds for any kind of impermissible lobbying activity designed to influence proposed or pending legislation, appropriations, regulations, administrative actions, or Executive Orders (legislation and other orders). These restrictions include grass roots lobbying efforts and direct lobbying. Certain activities within the normal and recognized executive-legislative relationships within the executive branch of that government are permissible. See Additional Requirement (AR) 12 for further guidance on this prohibition. The direct and primary recipient in a cooperative agreement program must perform a substantial role in carrying out project outcomes and not merely serve as a conduit for an award to another party or provider who is ineligible.

Applicant Eligibility:

State (includes District of Columbia, public institutions of higher education and hospitals); State departments of health are essential for coordinating the public health response to prevent tobacco use and protect the population from second hand smoke exposure. They have experience with implementing evidence-based interventions and strategies that use environment, policy, and system approaches that have the potential to reach large numbers of people in the state. State departments of health have experience working with an array of state and local governmental and non-governmental organizations to leverage resources that can support tobacco control efforts across a number of categorical programs and sectors. State departments of health are uniquely positioned to carry out the activities outlined in this funding opportunity announcement. State departments of health serve as the lead for tobacco control in every state. State departments of health have existing personnel who are able to provide technical assistance based on their area of expertise (e.g., environment, policy, and systems approaches, program planning, implementation, and evaluation, health communication, surveillance and epidemiology, partnership development) which conserves valuable resources. All this infrastructure and capacity can be integrated and employed by state departments of health to: Leverage partnerships to support the implementation of evidence-based interventions and strategies to prevent and control tobacco at the state and local levels; implement policy and programmatic strategies that cut across multiple chronic conditions and that leverage individual categorical efforts and create synergies and efficiencies across multiple state programmatic efforts also funded by CDC, given the high level of co-morbidities among people with chronic diseases and conditions (e.g., obesity, diabetes, hypertension, heart disease and stroke); utilize the public health resources and capacity unique to state departments of health to achieve a comprehensive state-based tobacco control program; develop models that integrate with other state departments of health chronic disease programs affecting similar populations; collect state-wide surveillance data on tobacco use, secondhand smoke exposure, and the populations most affected through data sources that are uniquely available to state departments of health.

Grants are intended to support the direct costs of a project in accordance with an approved budget, plus appropriate amount for indirect costs. Grantees must agree to administer the grant in accordance with the regulations and policies governing the research grants program of the Public Health Service. Endowment grants: Some qualifying institutions may use income earned from a research endowment corpus to support institutions in their effort to expand and add teaching programs in the biomedical and behavioral sciences and related areas, to improve facilities, to enhance student and faculty recruitment and retention, to develop instructional delivery systems and information technology in areas that will enhance minority health and other health disparities research activities, and to establish endowed chairs and programs. Other qualifying institutions must use income earned from a research endowment corpus to increase the institutions investments in the recruitment and retention of underrepresented minority students and students from other health disparity populations that matriculate at such institutions. This includes activities such as increasing student recruitment and retention, creating merit-based and need-based scholarships, establishing or enhancing tutoring, providing counseling, and designing student service programs to improve academic success, and faculty recruitment and retention. SBIR grants: SBIR Phase I grants are to establish the technical merit and feasibility of a proposed research effort that may lead to a commercial product or process. SBIR Phase II grants are for the continuation of the research initiated in Phase I and are likely to result in commercial products or processes. Only Phase I awardees are eligible to apply for Phase II support. STTR grants: STTR Phase I grants are to determine the scientific, technical, and commercial merit and feasibility of the proposed cooperative effort that has potential for commercial application. STTR Phase II grants are based on results of research initiated in Phase I and scientific and technical merit and commercial potential on Phase II application. ASSISTANCE LISTINGS DESCRIPTIONS

Repayment Program: (1) Extramural Loan Repayment Program for Health Disparities Research (LRP-HDR): recruits and retains qualified health professionals to research careers that focus on minority health disparities research or other health disparities research and the (2) Extramural Clinical Research Loan Repayment Program for Individuals from Disadvantaged Backgrounds (LRP-IDB), recruits and retains qualified health professionals from disadvantaged backgrounds to conduct clinical research. The objective of these extramural loan repayment programs are to recruit and retain qualified health professionals including those from health disparity populations and those from disadvantaged backgrounds to conduct minority health disparities research, other health disparities research, and clinical research. (1) Health Disparities Research may pertain to basic, clinical, or behavioral research on health disparity populations (including individual members and communities of such populations), that relate to health disparities, including the causes of such disparities and methods to prevent, diagnose, and treat such disparities. (2) Clinical research consists of patient-oriented clinical research conducted with human subjects, or research on the causes and consequences of disease in human populations involving material of human origin (such as tissue specimens and cognitive phenomena) for which the investigator or colleague directly interacts with human subjects in an outpatient or inpatient setting to clarify a problem in human physiology, pathophysiology or disease, or epidemiologic or behavioral studies, outcomes research or health services research, or developing new technologies, therapeutic interventions, or clinical trials.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Direct Payments for Specified Use

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

To provide repayment of existing educational loan debt incurred by health professionals including those from health disparity populations and those from disadvantaged backgrounds to conduct minority health disparities or other health disparities research and clinical research. Your research must be supported by a domestic nonprofit foundation, university, professional association, or other nonprofit institution, or a U.S. government agency (federal, state, or local). A domestic foundation, professional association, or institution is considered to be nonprofit if exempt from federal tax under the provisions of Section 501 of the Internal Revenue Code (26 U.S.C. 501). NIH grants and university salaries are considered eligible funding. Your primary employment must be with a nonprofit institution. Any employment or income outside of the nonprofit institution must be separate from your research and cannot represent a significant amount of your total income. Recipients must agree by written contract to engage in such research, initially, for a minimum of 2 years; individuals who have conflicting service obligations may not participate in this program until those obligations are satisfied or have been deferred during the period of program service. Participants may apply for and the Secretary may grant extension contracts for one-year or two-year periods, as determined by the Secretary, if the individual continues to engage in qualifying research. Renewal applications are competitively reviewed and the submission of a renewal application does not assure the award of benefits. The maximum program benefit is $50,000 per year in loan repayments and $19,500 per year in Federal tax reimbursements. Recipients must have qualified educational debt in excess of 20 percent of their annual salary, which is referred to as their "debt threshold."

Public Health Service Act Sections 301(a)[42 U.S.C. 241(a)], 317(k)(1)[42 U.S.C. 247b(k)(1)], and 317(k)(2)[42 U.S.C. 247b(k)(2)], as amended.,

OBJECTIVES:

The purpose of the Emerging Infections Programs (EIP) is to assist in local, state, and national efforts to prevent, control, and monitor the public health impact of infectious diseases. The EIP cooperative agreement was formed in 1995 as a key component of CDC's national strategy to address and reduce emerging infectious disease (EID) threats. The EIP is a population-based network of state health agencies and their collaborators, including (but not limited to) academic institutions, local health departments, public health and clinical laboratories, infection control professionals, and healthcare providers. The network plays a critical role in conducting surveillance and applied epidemiologic and laboratory

The network must also consist of definitive populations large enough to adequately determine disease burden, evaluate large scale interventions, and impact public health policy decisions.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

U.S. Territories; Anyone/general public; State; Local; Beneficiaries of this program include State and local health departments, the District of Columbia, U.S. Territories, and the general public.

Credentials/Documentation:

FEDERAL AGENCY:

ADMINISTRATION FOR CHILDREN AND FAMILIES, HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES, DEPARTMENT OF

AUTHORIZATION:

22 US Code 7105(f) (Section 107(f) of the Trafficking Victims Protection Act of 2000, as amended; and Section 213(a)(1) of the William Wilberforce Trafficking Victims Protection Reauthorization Act of 2008, , Public Law 110457, 22 USC Code 7105(f). Frederick Douglass Trafficking Victims Prevention and Protection Reauthorization Act of 2018, , Public Law 115-425

OBJECTIVES:

The Office on Trafficking in Persons (OTIP) currently funds the following three programs under the Domestic Victims of Human Trafficking (DVHT) Program. In FY 21, under the DVHT Program model, OTIP funded the Domestic Victims of Human Trafficking- Services and Outreach (DVHT-SO) Program and the Victims of Human Trafficking in Native Communities (VHT-NC) Demonstration Program. Under the DVHT-SO Program, the following activities are required: 1) Provision of comprehensive, culturally responsive, and linguistically appropriate case management and assistance to adult and minor domestic victims of human trafficking; 2) Outreach efforts to increase identification of domestic victims of sex and labor trafficking; and 3) Training to service providers and community partners. Under the VHT-NC Program, the following activities are required: 1) Provision of comprehensive, culturally responsive, and linguistically appropriate case management and victim assistance to adult and minor Native American victims of human trafficking; 2) Outreach efforts to increase identification of Native American victims of sex and labor trafficking; and 3) Training for service providers and community partners. Both the DVHT-SO Program and the VHT-NC

Program are informed by a whole family approach that focuses equally and intentionally on services and opportunities for victims and their immediate family members living within their households. Both programs encourage the establishment of community partnerships, meaningful engagement of survivors, and the hiring of qualified professionals that reflect the communities being served in all project implementation strategies. Additionally, in FY 21, OTIP funded the Human Trafficking Youth Prevention Education (HTYPE) Demonstration Program. The primary purpose of the HTYPE Demonstration Program is to fund local educational agencies (LEA) to develop and implement programs to prevent human trafficking victimization through the provision of skills-based human trafficking training and education for school staff and students. The HTYPE Demonstration Program will fund LEAs to establish a cohesive strategy, with the support of a partnered nonprofit or nongovernmental organization (NGO), to build the capacity to provide all aspects of human trafficking prevention education to students and school staff.

Reporting provides continuous program monitoring and identifies successes and challenges that awardees encounter throughout the project period. Also, reporting is a requirement for awardees who want to apply for yearly continuation of funding. Reporting helps CDC and awardees because it: Helps target support to awardees, particularly for cooperative agreements; Provides CDC with periodic data to monitor awardee progress towards meeting the FOA outcomes and overall performance; Allows CDC to track performance measures and evaluation findings to validate continuous program improvement throughout the project period and to determine applicability of evidence-based approaches to different populations, settings, and contexts; and Enables CDC to assess the overall effectiveness and influence of the FOA. As described in the following text, awardees must submit an annual performance report, ongoing performance measures data, administrative reports, and a final performance and financial report. A detailed explanation of any additional reporting requirements will be provided in the Notice of Award to successful applicants. a. Specific reporting requirements: i. Awardee Evaluation and Performance Measurement Plan: Awardees must provide a more detailed evaluation and performance measurement plan within the first six months of the project. This more detailed plan must be developed by awardees as part of first-year project activities, with support from CDC. This more detailed plan must build on the elements stated in the initial plan, and must be no more than 25 pages. At a minimum, and in addition to the elements of the initial plan, this plan must: Indicate the frequency that evaluation and performance data are to be collected. Describe how data will be reported. Describe how evaluation findings will be used to ensure continuous quality and program improvement. Describe how evaluation and performance measurement will yield findings that will demonstrate the value of the FOA (e.g., effect on improving public health outcomes, effectiveness of FOA as it pertains to performance measurement, cost-effectiveness, or cost-benefit). Describe dissemination channels and audiences (including public dissemination). Describe other information requested and as determined by the CDC program. When developing evaluation and performance measurement plans, applicants are encouraged to use the Introduction to Program Evaluation for Public Health Programs: A Self-Study Guide, available at: <http://www.cdc.gov/eval/guide/index.htm> ii. Annual Performance Report: This report must not exceed 30 pages excluding administrative reporting; attachments are not allowed, but Web links are allowed. The awardee must submit the Annual Performance Report via www.grants.gov 120 days before the end of the budget period. In addition, the awardee must submit an annual Federal Financial Report within 90 days after the end of the calendar quarter in which the budget year ends. This report must include the following: Performance Measures (including outcomes) Awardees must report on performance measures for each budget period and update measures, if needed. Evaluation Results Awardees must report evaluation results for the work completed to date (including any data about the effects of the program). Work Plan Awardees must update work plan each budget period. Successes Awardees must report progress on completing activities outlined in the work plan. Awardees must describe any additional successes (e.g., identified through evaluation results or lessons learned) achieved in the past year. Awardees must describe success stories. Challenges Awardees must describe any challenges that might affect their ability to achieve annual and project-period outcomes, conduct performance measures, or complete the activities in the work plan. Awardees must describe any additional challenges (e.g., identified through evaluation results or lessons learned) encountered in the past year. CDC Program Support to Awardees Awardees must describe how CDC could help them overcome challenges to achieving annual and project-period outcomes and performance measures, and completing activities outlined in the work plan. Administrative Reporting (No page limit) SF-424A Budget Information-Non-Construction Programs. Budget Narrative must use the format outlined in Content and Form of Application Submission, Budget Narrative section. Indirect Cost-Rate Agreement. For Year 2 and beyond of the award, awardees may request that unobligated funds be carried over to the next budget year. The carryover request must: Express a bona fide need for permission to use an unobligated balance; Include a signed, dated, and accurate Federal Financial Report (FFR) for the budget period from which funds will be transferred (as much as 75% of unobligated balances); and Include a list of proposed activities, an itemized budget, and a narrative justification for those activities. The awardee must submit the Annual Performance Report via www.grants.gov 120 days before the end of the budget period. iii. Performance Measure Reporting: CDC programs must require awardees to submit performance measures annually as a minimum, and may require reporting more frequently. Performance measure reporting must be limited to data collection. When funding is awarded initially, CDC programs must specify required reporting frequency, data fields, and format. iv. Federal Financial Reporting (FFR): The annual FFR form (SF-425) is required and must be submitted through eRA Commons within 90 days after each budget period ends. The report must include only those funds authorized and disbursed during the timeframe covered by the report. The final report must indicate the exact balance of unobligated funds, and may not reflect any unliquidated obligations. The final FFR expenditure data and the Payment Management Systems (PMS) cash transaction data must correspond; no discrepancies between the data sets are permitted. Failure to submit the required information by the due date may affect adversely the future funding of the project. If the information cannot be provided by the due date, awardees are required to submit a letter of explanation and include the date by which the information will be provided. v. Final Performance and Financial Report: At the end of the project period, awardees must submit a final report including a final financial and performance report. This report is due 90 days after the project period ends. (Maximum of 40 pages). At a minimum, this report must include: Performance Measures (including outcomes) Awardees must report final performance data for all performance measures for the project period. Evaluation Results Awardees must report final evaluation results for the project period. Impact/ Results Awardees must describe the effects or results of the work completed over the project period, including success stories. Additional forms as described in the Notice of Award, including Equipment Inventory Report and Final Invention Statement. In addition, grantees must include the following information in their Final Performance Report: Summary of successes, challenges, and lessons learned that can be shared with other central registries interested in establishing ECC methodology. Awardees must email the report to the CDC PO and the GMS listed in the Agency Contacts section of the FOA. Federal Financial Reports are required 90 days after the end of the fiscal year. here to enter text. In addition to previously described reporting requirements the awardee will monitor performance as follows - Performance Monitoring and Evaluation: CDC may revise the existing requirements through an addendum to this notice, which could include additional recipient requirements for evaluation and performance measurement. The Awardee Evaluation and Performance Measurement Plan will be comprised of three components: 1. Tracking progress and completion of strategies. By using the CDC identified electronic performance monitoring and reporting system, Category A and B awardees will track overall progress on infrastructure and short-term outcome objectives, as well as, specific progress on activities on a quarterly basis. Category A awardees will also be required to track sub-recipients overall progress on infrastructure and short-term outcome objectives, as well as, specific progress on activities on a quarterly basis. This collection of this data is known as performance monitoring data. CDC will provide training and guidance on the use of the performance monitoring and reporting system. a. Use ongoing performance monitoring data, along with any community health assessment data, for ongoing program improvement and midcourse corrections. b. Track overall progress on outcome objectives as well as specific progress on activities designed for vulnerable populations. Use performance monitoring data and other available sources to document the steps taken to implement multi-level improvements by describing successes, barriers, and challenges.2. Measurement of Short-term Outcome. Using detailed guidance from CDC (provided post-award), Category A awardees will assist sub-recipients in setting targets and then monitor their progress towards these targets on the number of people who have access to healthier environments as a result of the implementation of each awardee strategy. This is known as Awardee Reach for each strategy. These targets will be ultimately rolled up into the relevant Short-term Outcome. In addition, Category A sub-recipients will also be required to track sub-awardees Reach for each strategy and report this to CDC on a quarterly basis. a. For example, a sub-awardee might be implementing two strategies that are targeting different populations in different sectors. One strategy is increasing physical activity in elementary age children by implementing recommended standards of physical activity in all 80 elementary schools in the community, which would increase physical activity for 55,000 children enrolled in these schools. The awardee will track the successful implementation of recommended standards in each school so that they will know how many children have access to an improved physical activity environment. The second strategy is increasing physical activity in 350 early care/child care centers by implementing recommended standards of physical activity in these settings, which would increase physical activity for 2000 children enrolled in these programs. The awardee will track the successful implementation of recommended standards in each early care/child care centers, so that they will know how many children have access to an improved physical activity environment. The target short-term outcome would combine the target sub-recipients Reach for these two strategies, and progress would be tracked over time. Thus, the target Short-term Outcome would be 57,000 people with increased access to physical activity opportunities. b. Report sub-recipients Reach data for each strategy and update on a quarterly basis. In addition, Awardees should adhere to the following guidance: Sub-recipients of Category A are encouraged to use available data to measure intermediate-term outcomes, when possible. However, as mentioned above, due to lack of adequate, existing data in many communities, primary responsibility for measuring intermediate-term outcomes will rest in most cases with CDC. oCommunities with access to adequate data to measure intermediate-term outcomes might include: 1) counties with a large number of respondents to the Behavioral Risk Factor Surveillance System (BRFSS), 2) counties that conduct the Youth Risk Behavior Surveillance System (YRBSS), 3) school districts that routinely record the height and weight of students. Category A awardees and sub-recipients should share their successes and lessons learned through the creation and dissemination of two (or more) success stories per year (one submitted every 6 months with the Interim and Annual Progress Report). Category B awardees should prepare one (or more) unique dissemination documents created for stakeholders or the broader community based on the outcome evaluation of high impact strategies applied by Category A awardees and/or sub-recipients. Developed by the end of Year 3, this document may be briefing updates, reports, case studies, peer-reviewed manuscripts or use other formats.

93.332 Cooperative Agreement to Support Navigators in Federally-facilitated Exchanges

Navigator Grants,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

CENTERS FOR MEDICARE AND MEDICAID SERVICES, HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES, DEPARTMENT OF

AUTHORIZATION:

Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act 1311(d)(4)(K), 1311(i), and 1321(c)(1); 45 C.F.R. 155.210 and 155.215.,

OBJECTIVES:

The Cooperative Agreement to Support Navigators in Federally-facilitated Exchanges (Funding Opportunity) will enable recipients to operate as Exchange Navigators in States with a Federally-facilitated Exchange (FFE), as authorized by the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (PPACA). Section 1311(i) of the PPACA requires Exchanges to establish a Navigator grant program. The following duties are required of all recipients of funding under this Funding Opportunity, including but are not limited to: Conducting public education activities to raise awareness about the Exchange; Facilitating selection of a QHP; Providing information in a manner that is culturally and linguistically appropriate to the needs of the population served by the Exchange, including individuals with limited English proficiency, and ensuring accessibility and usability of Navigator tools and functions for individuals with disabilities; Providing referrals to any applicable office of health insurance consumer assistance or health insurance ombudsman established under section 2793 of the Public Health Service Act, or any other appropriate state agency or agencies, for any enrollee with a grievance, complaint, or question regarding their health plan, coverage, or a determination under such plan or coverage; Complying with applicable training and conflict of interest standards; Obtaining the authorization of applicants for coverage available through an Exchange application prior to accessing their personally identifiable information; and Providing targeted assistance to serve underserved or vulnerable populations, as identified by the Exchange, within the Exchange service area. Change: The Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act, HHS Notice of Benefit and Payment Parameters for 2020 Final Rule amended 45 C.F.R. 155.210(e)(9), effective June 24, 2019, to make the provision of certain types of assistance, including post-enrollment assistance, permissible for FFE Navigators instead of required. However, due to significant increased funding in this Funding Opportunity and ensuring that consumers understand and have their questions answered about their health plan, coverage, or a determination under such plan or coverage, and IRS tax implications, for example, CMS plans to pursue regulatory changes to reinstate these post-enrollment assistance topics as required Navigator duties within this period of performance.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

All of the instructions that an eligible applicant must follow to apply for the Cooperative Agreement to Support Navigators in Federally-facilitated Exchanges (Funding Opportunity) are published on <https://www.grants.gov>. Consistent with 45 C.F.R. 155.215(a)(1)(i), all applicants (individuals, entities, and all members making up a consortium) should submit a brief statement (one or two short paragraphs) within the Cover Letter attesting that they, as Navigator cooperative agreement applicants, are not ineligible entities, and include attestations that all other Navigator entities (including subrecipients and contractors performing Navigator duties, the Navigator(s) including the Navigator's staff), do not have any of the prohibited relationships with health insurance or stop loss insurance issuers that are outlined above. As is explained in 45 C.F.R. 155.215 and the preamble language discussing that provision, some conflicts of interest (other than the prohibited relationships outlined above) would not be absolute bars to service as a Navigator, provided that the conflict of interest would not ultimately prevent the entity or individual from providing information and services in a fair, accurate, and impartial manner. CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:

For detailed information on the review and selection process, please refer to Appendix V, Review and Selection Process of the Funding Opportunity. Applications will be screened to determine initial eligibility for further review using the criteria outlined in Section C, Eligibility Information, and Section D, Application and Submission Information (with cross reference to Appendix II, Application and Submission Information), of this Funding Opportunity. An objective review panel will be convened to determine the merits of each application by reviewing and scoring the applications based on the criteria outlined in Section E1, Criteria. The objective review panel may include both Federal employees and non-Federal employees. CMS reserves the right to request that applicants revise or otherwise modify their proposals and budget based on CMS recommendations. The objective review, the selection and award process may be separated into two stages. When making awards during both stages of the selection and award process discussed above, HHS reserves the right to reduce the budget requested, or only partially fund proposed activities, or not at all, based on the aforementioned criteria. Scores and rankings are only one element used in the award decision-making process. ACF may elect not to fund applicants with management or financial problems that would indicate an inability to successfully complete the proposed project. ACF reserves the right to consider preferences to fund organizations serving emerging, unserved, or under-served populations, including those populations located in pockets of poverty. ACF will also consider the geographic distribution of federal funds in its award decisions. ACF will complete a review of risk posed by applicants as described in 45 CFR 75.205.

93.341 Analyses, Research and Studies to Address the Impact of CMS Programs on American Indian/Alaska Native (AI/AN) Beneficiaries and the Health Care System Serving these Beneficiaries

FEDERAL AGENCY:

CENTERS FOR MEDICARE AND MEDICAID SERVICES, HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES, DEPARTMENT OF

AUTHORIZATION:

The Social Security Act, Section 1110, codified at 42 U.S.C., Section 1310. This authority permits the obligation of funding for CMS to enter into grants and cooperative arrangements with organizations and certain other entities in order to aid in improving the administration and effectiveness of programs carried out by the agency. For purposes of this award, CMS is accepting an application from the National Indian Health Board (NIHB) under a single-source cooperative agreement. Approval to award this cooperative agreement to NIHB under a single-source award was granted by the Chief Grants Management Officer, dated April 6, 2017.

OBJECTIVES:

To further CMS mission and goals related to providing high quality health care to the American Indian/Alaska Native (AI/AN) community by providing research and analysis to increase the understanding of, access to, and impact of CMS programs in Indian Country. Congress authorized AI/ANs to have access to Medicare and Medicaid services when provided through Indian Health Service (IHS) facilities located in tribal communities and amended titles XVIII and XIX of the Social Security Act to permit IHS facilities to bill Medicare and Medicaid for services provided to eligible AI/ANs. This authority was later extended to tribal facilities. Congress has also provided authority for Indian health care programs and beneficiaries to participate in the Children's Health Insurance program and the Health Insurance Marketplace. These changes have created a direct relationship between CMS and the Indian Health Service. The research conducted under this cooperative agreement is needed to help improve administration of CMS programs given that CMS and IHS programs operate under different and sometimes competing authorities for CMS programs, the Social Security Act and for IHS programs, the Indian Health Care Improvement Act and the Indian Self Determination Education and Assistance Act, P.L. 93-638. To make CMS programs work with Indian health program authorities, a crucial first step is for CMS to understand the impact of its policies on Indian health care providers and tribal members so that the agency can provide the AI/AN community greater access to CMS programs in an effective and efficient manner. The authority at Section 1110 of the Social Security Act permits CMS to enter into grants and cooperative arrangements with organizations and certain other entities in order to aid in improving administration and effectiveness of programs administered by the agency. To this end, the work conducted under this cooperative agreement will address the potential and actual impacts of CMS programs on AI/ANs and the health care system serving these beneficiaries. CMS understanding of the impact of its policies is vital to improving greater AI/AN access to and participation in CMS programs; improving and ensuring that appropriate health care payments and resources are provided to IHS tribal, and urban Indian Health program providers; and contributing to overall improved health outcomes for Indian people. The information and activities produced or provided under the cooperative agreement will be used to develop culturally appropriate activities and strategies to improve how CMS programs operate and are administered in Indian country.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Cooperative Agreements, Cooperative Agreements (Discretionary Grants)

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

In recent years a number of statutory changes have been made to CMS programs and regulations have been developing to implement those changes. The assistance provided under this cooperative agreement will be used to: a) assess the ongoing impact of CMS programs through an analysis of CMS regulations and CMS initiatives that have a potential impact or effect on IHS, Tribal and Urban Indian providers and AI/AN beneficiaries and use this information to monitor AI/AN participation in the CMS regulatory process to assess whether such participation contributes to the understanding of how CMS-related provisions in the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (ACA) impact the financing and delivery of health care in the Indian health care system; b) refine the inventory of AI/AN demographic, enrollment, and utilization data in order to develop strategies that make CMS data systems capable of reporting AI/AN enrollments, service utilization, health status and payment data from the Medicare, Medicaid and CHIP programs to facilitate program planning and evaluation, performance measurement, health status monitoring, and target enrollment efforts, identify gaps in data collection, propose and analyze approaches necessary to change and augment data collection systems and other information needed to support all reporting requirements under ACA, CHIPRA and ARRA, and propose reporting mechanisms and protocols for such reporting; c) update and revise the CMS Tribal Technical Advisory Groups 2013-2018 Strategic Plan (which is used to guide the administration of CMS programs in Indian country) to incorporate legislative and regulatory changes resulting from the ACA; and d) Provide research support on the use and effectiveness of the CMS tribal consultation policy so that the agency can be assured to get appropriate tribal input when developing policies that will have a substantial direct effect on tribes. (e) Evaluate the effectiveness of outreach and enrollment efforts to AI/AN beneficiaries in CMS programs by conducting training on the basics of CMS programs to enrollment assisters and Indian health provider third party resource staff, learning and sharing best practices to increase AI/AN enrollment, and developing AI/AN culturally appropriate outreach materials based on feedback from training and outreach efforts. Provide quarterly reports summarizing outreach trainings and enrollment events, compilation of best practices utilized and lessons learned, and analysis of and recommendations to improve outreach efforts in Indian Country. Indirect Costs - If grantee requests indirect costs, an approved Indirect Cost Rate Agreement will be required to support those costs. The provisions of OMB Circular A-87 govern reimbursement of indirect costs under this funding opportunity announcement. OMB Circulars are available on line at: <http://www.whitehouse.gov/omb/circulars> Direct Services - funds may not be used to provide individuals with services that are already funded through Medicare, Medicaid and/or CHIP. These services do not include expenses budgeted for provider and/or consumer task force member participation in conferences, provision of technical assistance, or attendance at technical assistance conferences sponsored by CMS or its national technical assistance providers for the benefit of awardees. The applicants budget may not exceed a maximum funding level or project period of five years. Reimbursement of Pre-Award Costs No funds awarded under this funding opportunity announcement may be used to reimburse pre-award costs. Other Prohibited Uses of Funds To match any other Federal funds. To provide services, equipment, or supports that are the legal responsibility of another party under Federal or State law (e.g., vocational rehabilitation or education services) or under any civil rights laws. Such legal responsibilities include, but are not limited to, modifications of a workplace or other reasonable accommodations that are a specific obligation of the employer or other party. To supplant existing state, local, or private funding of infrastructure or services, such as staff salaries, etc. To be used by local entities to satisfy state matching requirements. To pay for the use of specific components, devices, equipment, or personnel that are not integrated into the application. To pay for construction or alteration and renovation of real property (A&R). To pay for information technology (IT) equipment exceeding 10 percent of the total award. Any equipment, which includes IT, over $5,000 must be approved by CMS. To pay states for the use of any of their data made available for this initiative. Other limitations - A current recipient cannot be awarded a new, renewal, or competing continuation grant for any of the following reasons: The current project is not progressing in a satisfactory manner; The current project is not in compliance with program and financial reporting requirements; The applicant has an outstanding delinquent Federal debt; No award shall be made until the delinquent account is paid in full; or A negotiated repayment schedule is established and at least one payment is received.

Applicant Eligibility:

Private nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Native American Organizations (includes Indian groups, cooperatives, corporations, partnerships, associations); Eligibility is limited to the National Indian Health Board, and this single source award was approved by the Chief Grants Management Officer. NIHB meets the definition of tribal organization under the Indian Health Care Improvement Act (IHCIA) 25 USC Section 1603(26), with significant historical experience in providing outreach and education and the provision of health care information for Indian Tribes and Tribal Organizations. NIHB is a legally established organization controlled and governed by Indians and includes the maximum participation of Indians in all phases of its activities. NIHB has 100 percent appointed or elected officers that comprise the Board of Directors. NIHB acts in a supportive role to ensure the dissemination of health care education and information to tribes. NIHB must submit a copy of the 501(c)(3) Non-profit Certification as proof of non-profit status. Applicant must have an Employer Identification Number (EIN), otherwise known as a Taxpayer Identification Number (TIN), to apply. Applicant must have a Dun and Bradstreet (D&B) Data Universal Numbering System (DUNS) number. The DUNS number is a nine-digit identification number that uniquely identifies business entities. To obtain a DUNS number, access the following website: <http://www.dnb.com/> or call -866-705-5711. This number should be entered in the block 8c (on the Form SF-424, Application for Federal Assistance). The organization name and address entered in block 8a and 8c should be exactly as given for the DUNS number. Applicant should obtain this DUNS number immediately to ensure all registration steps are completed in time. Applicant must also register in the Central Contractor Registration (CCR) database in order to be able to submit the application. Applicant should begin the CCR registration process immediately to ensure that it does not impair ability to meet required submission deadlines.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Federal; Native American Organizations; American Indian; Federally Recognized Indian Tribal Governments; The primary beneficiaries of this effort are American Indians and Alaska Natives who are eligible for CMS programs to get them educated about and enrolled in CMS programs, as appropriate, ensure that Indian health care providers can participate and are enrolled in CMS programs, and to reduce health disparities in tribal communities. By enrolling in CMS programs, AI/ANs benefit by having greater access to services that may not be provided by their local Indian health care providers, and tribal communities benefit through increased resources to their Indian health care programs. The Federal government will benefit by obtaining information to help make more informed policies which will improve administration of CMS programs in tribal communities and thereby provide AI/ANs access to quality health care. Federally Recognized Indian Tribal Governments and Native American Organizations would benefit because they can provide information and insight to help CMS understand the tribal provider and tribal beneficiary perspective so that CMS can make informed policies decisions that would permit CMS programs to be administered and operate effectively and efficiently in tribal communities and not conflict with legislative/regulatory authority under which the Indian Health Service programs operates.

93.347 Trusted Exchange Framework and Common Agreement (TEFCA) Recognized Coordinating Entity (RCE) Cooperative Agreement

TEFCA RCE Cooperative Agreement,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

IMMED OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES, HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES, DEPARTMENT OF AUTHORIZATION:

Title 21st Century CURES Act, Division A, Part Title IV - Delivery, Section 4003 - Interoperability, Title HR 6157 - Department of Defense and Labor, Health and Human Services, and Education Appropriations Act, 2019 and Continuing Appropriations Act, 2019, Part , Section , Public Law 115-245, Division B, Title II. OBJECTIVES:

The purpose of this program is to support efforts to advance the establishment of an interoperable health system that (1) empowers individuals to use their electronic health information to the fullest extent (2) enables providers and communities to deliver smarter, safer, and more efficient care, and (3) promotes innovation at all levels. The Draft Trusted Exchange Framework, released on January 5, 2018, advances the goals of the 21st Century Cures Act (Cures Act) to advance nationwide interoperability by creating a common set of principles, terms, and conditions that facilitate trust between health information networks (HINs). The Draft Trusted Exchange Framework contains two parts: Part A Principles for Trusted Exchange and Part B Minimum Required Terms and Conditions for Trusted Exchange. Part A provides guard rails and general principles that HINs and Qualified HINs should follow to engender trust amongst Participants and End Users. Part B provides specific minimum required terms and conditions to be included into a single Common Agreement by a RCE. ONC will review comments received on Part A and Part B to develop a final Trusted Exchange Framework that the RCE would assist in implementing. Part B of the Draft Trusted Exchange Framework is not intended to be an all-encompassing participation agreement, but rather includes provisions to address identified areas of variation across existing network agreements. This funding opportunity announcement seeks to identify a single RCE that will in collaboration with ONC incorporate the final Part B requirements into a single Common Agreement to which Qualified HINs and their Participants may voluntarily agree to adhere. Development of a single, all-encompassing agreement that is nationwide in scope will significantly reduce the need for one-off or point-to-point interfaces, which are costly, complex to create and maintain, and an inefficient use of provider and health IT developer resources.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Cooperative Agreements

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

This cooperative agreement program will fund a single award with a three (3) year period of performance. The award amount is a minimum of $500,000. ONC reserves the right to make adjustments made in later years based on the scope of work for each year, the RECs performance to plan, and appropriated funding available. ONC intends to select a single RCE, through a competitive process, to operationalize the Common Agreement component of the Trusted Exchange Framework and Common Agreement (TEFCA) The RCE will work closely with ONC to develop a single, all-encompassing Common Agreement that incorporates the Minimum Required Terms and Conditions outlined in Part B of the Draft Trusted Exchange Framework, as well as additional provisions, as long as such provisions do not conflict with the Trusted Exchange Framework. ONC will have the right to review any additional provisions before they are added. The RCE will act as a governance body to maintain, oversee, and enforce the Common Agreement, while ONC will update and maintain the Trusted Exchange Framework. ONC and the RCE will maintain over time the Trusted Exchange Framework and the Common Agreement, respectively. In order to meet the goals of the Cures Act, to build on existing work done by the industry, and to scale interoperability nationwide, ONC believes that an external entity would be an effective implementer of the TEFCA on behalf of ONC and as per ONC direction. We are seeking an existing, industry-based organization that is external to ONC to operationalize the Common Agreement component of the TEFCA We expect that the entity applying to be the RCE would have active participation by diverse stakeholders from across the country, including providers, payers, federal agencies, health information networks, and others.

Such stakeholders can include, but are not limited to, healthcare systems, payers, purchasers, care providers (i.e. long-term and post-acute care, behavioral health, community-based and safety net providers, and emergency medical services), key partners and stakeholders, health IT developers; health information networks, and/or other multi-stakeholder collaboratives that enable widespread health information exchange to occur; 5.Demonstrates the presence of a current (or previous) board or commission with broad stakeholder representation, that has governing authority over the entity, and the ability to modify as needed immediately upon award; 6.Has a mission statement or similar principal organizational goal indicating their commitment to the advancement of health care interoperability; and 7.Demonstrates a commitment to transparent, fair, and nondiscriminatory data exchange by participants through existing organizational policies and governing structure.a.The existing organizational policies must include policies that prevent conflicts of interest.b.The applicant must not be majority controlled by any single entity. c.If awarded, the applicant may never be affiliated with a QHIN and must make an attestation specifically to this requirement.

The 21st Century Cures Act, Title II, Part A, Section 2037, Public Law 114-114-255

OBJECTIVES:

The mission of the National Center for Advancing Translational Sciences (NCATS) is to catalyze the generation of innovative methods and technologies that will enhance the development, testing, and implementation of diagnostics and therapeutics across a wide range of human diseases and conditions.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Cooperative Agreements, Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

NCATS is all about getting more treatments to more patients more quickly. Several thousand genetic diseases affect humans, of which only about 500 have any treatment. A novel drug, device or intervention can take 14 years and $2 billion to develop, with a failure rate exceeding 95%. NCATS is directly addressing this problem by discovering new technologies and other approaches that could greatly accelerate the process of developing and deploying solutions that can be used by all translational researchers. The Clinical and Translational Science Awards Program includes several activities to support and foster innovation in clinical and translational centers, methods, and training (UL1, KL2, TL1). The Trial Innovation Centers awards (U24) are intended to be lead centers of excellence in clinical trials and will facilitate the implementation of multi-site clinical studies by the CTSA Network. The Recruitment Innovation Centers (U24) aim to improve participant recruitment into clinical trials by using innovative means to assess the availability of potential participants and to enroll them in a timely manner. The Collaborative Innovation Awards aim to stimulate innovative collaborative research in the NCATS Clinical and Translational Science Award (CTSA) Program. Pre-application is required. The Office of Rare Disease Research (ORDR) supports a network of research consortia, each targeted to several related rare diseases (U54). ORDR also supports an extensive resource of information for the public on rare diseases. The Discovering New Therapeutic Uses for Existing Molecules (UH2/UH3) program focuses on finding new uses for existing therapies. Small Business Innovation Research (SBIR) grants (R43, R44) and Small Business Technology Transfer (STTR) grants (R41, R42) support domestic small businesses engaging in research and development that has the potential for commercialization. The Tissue Chip program funds bioengineered devices to improve the process of predicting whether drugs will be safe or toxic in humans. Through Translator, NCATS will integrate existing biomedical data to help reveal new relationships within those data and also identify novel opportunities for research. The bioprinting program will generate high throughput screenable assay models of human tissues for drug discovery.

AUTHORIZATION:

Public Health Service Act, Section 301, 464, 487, 42 USC Code 285q. Public Health Service Act, , Public Law 115-408

OBJECTIVES:

Nurses understand that improving health and well-being means addressing peoples needs in multiple settings, contexts, and over the whole life course. Science supported by the National Institute of Nursing Research (NINR) uses this holistic perspective to improve individual and population health and advance health equity. NINR-supported research promotes health and well-being by addressing needs at multiple levels individual, family, community, and societal levels and developing treatment and prevention strategies that are responsive to the reality of peoples lives. Nurses know people, and people trust nurses. Patient and families interact with nurses more than any other clinicians. Nursing science uses this special relationship to better understand patients, families, and communities and the many factors that influence their health. Nursing science supported by NINR uses this knowledge to develop strategies for improving health and wellness across populations, health care settings, and the lifespan, with an emphasis on achieving health equity. NINR-supported scientists have developed interventions for: supporting parents of premature infants; promoting HIV prevention in underserved populations; improving transitional care leading to better outcomes and cost-savings; and helping inner-city children manage asthma. Nursing science transcends the boundaries of disease and research disciplines to better understand the experiences of individuals and families living with illness and to develop personalized approaches that maximize health and well-being for individuals at all stages of life, across diverse populations and settings. NINR-supported science uses nursing sciences unique, patient and community-focused perspective and wide reach across clinical and community settings to advance our understanding of the social determinants of health: those factors that are at the root of the inequities that we see, such as food insecurity and access to healthcare. NINR research efforts in wellness investigate the key biological, behavioral, and social factors that promote long-term health and healthy behaviors and prevent the development of illness across health conditions, settings, and the lifespan. Research in wellness is also focused on developing and testing culturally appropriate interventions to promote health and prevent illness in minority and underserved groups. NINR also supports science to assist individuals, families, and health care professionals in managing advanced, serious illness, and planning for end-of-life decisions. In addition, NINR promotes technological advancements that address a range of health care challenges and facilitate the delivery of real-time personalized information to individuals and families, health care providers, and communities. Finally, NINR has a longstanding and continuing commitment to developing the next generation of nurse scientists: those individuals and team members who will carry the field of nursing science into the future. In order to prepare an innovative, diverse, and talented next generation of nurse scientists, NINR supports a variety of training opportunities for scientists and trainees at all career levels, particularly those at an early career stage who are so critical to sustaining the future of innovative research and high quality health care.

CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:

Reviewers provide an overall impact/priority score to reflect their assessment of the likelihood for the project to exert a sustained, powerful influence on the research field(s) involved, in consideration of the following review criteria and additional review criteria (as applicable for the project proposed): (1) Significance: Does the project address an important problem or a critical barrier to progress in the field? Is there a strong scientific premise for the proposed project, including consideration of the strengths and weaknesses of published research or preliminary data crucial to the support of the application? If the aims of the project are achieved, how will scientific knowledge, technical capability, and/or clinical practice be improved? How will successful completion of the aims change the concepts, methods, technologies, treatments, services, or preventative interventions that drive this field? For clinical trial applications, the following additional criteria will be considered. Are the scientific rationale and need for a clinical trial to test the proposed hypothesis or intervention well supported by preliminary data, clinical and/or preclinical studies, or information in the literature or knowledge of biological mechanisms? For trials focusing on clinical or public health endpoints, is this clinical trial necessary for testing the safety, efficacy or effectiveness of an intervention that could lead to a change in clinical practice, community behaviors or health care policy? For trials focusing on mechanistic, behavioral, physiological, biochemical, or other biomedical endpoints, is this trial needed to advance scientific understanding? (2) Investigators: Are the PD/PIs, collaborators, and other researchers well suited to the project? If Early Stage Investigators or New Investigators, or in the early stages of independent careers, do they have appropriate experience and training? If established, have they demonstrated an ongoing record of accomplishments that have advanced their field(s)? If the project is collaborative or multi-PD/PI, do the investigators have complementary and integrated expertise; are their leadership approach, governance and organizational structure appropriate for the project? For clinical trial applications, the following additional criteria will be considered. With regard to the proposed leadership for the project, do the PD/PI(s) and key personnel have the expertise, experience, and ability to organize, manage and implement the proposed clinical trial and meet milestones and timelines? Do they have appropriate expertise in study coordination, data management and statistics? For a multicenter trial, is the organizational structure appropriate and does the application identify a core of potential center investigators and staffing for a coordinating center? (3) Innovation: Does the application challenge and seek to shift current research or clinical practice paradigms by utilizing novel theoretical concepts, approaches or methodologies, instrumentation, or interventions? Are the concepts, approaches or methodologies, instrumentation, or interventions novel to one field of research or novel in a broad sense? Is a refinement, improvement, or new application of theoretical concepts, approaches or methodologies, instrumentation, or interventions proposed? For clinical trial applications, the following additional criteria will be considered. Does the design/research plan include innovative elements, as appropriate, that enhance its sensitivity, potential for information or potential to advance scientific knowledge or clinical practice? (4) Approach: Are the overall strategy, methodology, and analyses well-reasoned and appropriate to accomplish the specific aims of the project? Have the investigators presented strategies to ensure a robust and unbiased approach, as appropriate for the work proposed? Are potential problems, alternative strategies, and benchmarks for success presented? If the project is in the early stages of development, will the strategy establish feasibility, and will particularly risky aspects be managed? Have the investigators presented adequate plans to address relevant biological variables, such as sex, for studies in vertebrate animals or human subjects? If the project involves human subjects and/or NIH-defined clinical research, are the plans to address 1) the protection of human subjects from research risks, and 2) inclusion (or exclusion) of individuals on the basis of sex/gender, race, and ethnicity, as well as the inclusion or exclusion of age across life span, justified in terms of the scientific goals and research strategy proposed? For clinical trial applications, the following additional criteria will be considered. Is the study design justified and appropriate to address primary and secondary outcome variable(s)/endpoints that will be clear, informative and relevant to the hypothesis being tested? Is the scientific rationale/premise of the study based on previously well-designed preclinical and/or clinical research? Given the methods used to assign participants and deliver interventions, is the study design adequately powered to answer the research question(s), test the proposed hypothesis/hypotheses, and provide interpretable results? Is the trial appropriately designed to conduct the research efficiently? Are the study populations (size, gender, age, demographic group), proposed intervention arms/dose, and duration of the trial, appropriate and well justified? Are potential ethical issues adequately addressed? Is the process for obtaining informed consent or assent appropriate? Is the eligible population available? Are the plans for recruitment outreach, enrollment, retention, handling dropouts, missed visits, and losses to follow-up appropriate to ensure robust data collection? Are the planned recruitment timelines feasible and is the plan to monitor accrual adequate? Has the need for randomization (or not), masking (if appropriate), controls, and inclusion/exclusion criteria been addressed? Are differences addressed, if applicable, in the intervention effect due to sex/gender and race/ethnicity? Are the plans to standardize, assure quality of, and monitor adherence to, the trial protocol and data collection or distribution guidelines appropriate? Is there a plan to obtain required study agent(s)? Does the application propose to use existing available resources, as applicable? Are planned analyses and statistical approach appropriate for the proposed study design and methods used to assign participants and deliver interventions? Are the procedures for data management and quality control of data adequate at clinical site(s) or at center laboratories, as applicable? Have the methods for standardization of procedures for data management to assess the effect of the intervention and quality control been addressed? Is there a plan to complete data analysis within the proposed period of the award? (5) Environment: Will the scientific environment in which the work will be done contribute to the probability of success? Are the institutional support, equipment and other physical resources available to the investigators adequate for the project proposed? Will the project benefit from unique features of the scientific environment, subject populations, or collaborative arrangements? For clinical trial applications, the following additional criteria will be considered. If proposed, are the administrative, data coordinating, enrollment and laboratory/testing centers, appropriate for the trial proposed? Does the application adequately address the capability and ability to conduct the trial at the proposed site(s) or centers? Are the plans to add or drop enrollment centers, as needed, appropriate? If international site(s) is/are proposed, does the application adequately address the complexity of executing the clinical trial? If multi-sites/centers, is there evidence of the ability of the individual site or center to: (a) enroll the proposed numbers; (b) adhere to the protocol; (c) collect and transmit data in an accurate and timely fashion; and, (d) operate within the proposed organizational structure? In addition to the above criteria, the following items will continue to be considered in the determination of scientific merit and the impact/priority score. Protections for Human Subjects: For research that involves human subjects but does not involve one of the six categories of research that are exempt under 45 CFR Part 46, the committee will evaluate the justification for involvement of human subjects and the proposed protections from research risk relating to their participation according to the following five review criteria: 1) risk to subjects, 2) adequacy of protection against risks, 3) potential benefits to the subjects and others, 4) importance of the knowledge to be gained, and 5) data and safety monitoring for clinical trials. For research that involves human subjects and meets the criteria for one or more of the six categories of research that are exempt under 45 CFR Part 46, the committee will evaluate: 1) the justification for the exemption, 2) human subjects involvement and characteristics, and 3) sources of materials. Inclusion of Women, Minorities, and Age across Life Span: When the proposed project involves human subjects and/or NIH-defined clinical research, the committee will evaluate the proposed plans for the inclusion (or exclusion) of individuals on the basis of sex/gender, race, and ethnicity, as well as the inclusion (or exclusion) of age across life span to determine if it is justified in terms of the scientific goals and research strategy proposed. Vertebrate Animals: The committee will evaluate the involvement of live vertebrate animals as part of the scientific assessment according to the following criteria: (1) description of proposed procedures involving animals, including species, strains, ages, sex, and total number to be used; (2) justifications for the use of animals versus alternative models and for the appropriateness of the species proposed; (3) interventions to minimize discomfort, distress, pain and injury; and (4) justification for euthanasia method if not consistent with the AVMA Guidelines for the Euthanasia of Animals. Reviewers will assess the use of chimpanzees as they would any other application proposing the use of vertebrate animals. For additional information on review of the Vertebrate Animals section, please refer to the Worksheet for Review of the Vertebrate Animal Section. Biohazards: Reviewers will assess whether materials or procedures proposed are potentially hazardous to research personnel and/or the environment, and if needed, determine whether adequate protection is proposed. Resubmission: The committee will evaluate the application as now presented, taking into consideration the responses to comments from the previous scientific review group and changes made to the project. Renewal: The committee will consider the progress made in the last funding period. Revision: The committee will consider the appropriateness of the proposed expansion of the scope of the project. If the Revision application relates to a specific line of investigation presented in the original application that was not recommended for approval by the committee, then the committee will consider whether the responses to comments from the previous scientific review group are adequate and whether substantial changes are clearly evident. For clinical trial applications, the study timeline will be considered in the following. Is the study timeline described in detail, taking into account start-up activities, the anticipated rate of enrollment, and planned follow-up assessment? Is the projected timeline feasible and well justified? Does the project incorporate efficiencies and utilize existing resources (e.g., CTSA, practice-based research networks, electronic medical records, administrative database, or patient registries) to increase the efficiency of participant enrollment and data collection, as appropriate? Applications compete for available funds with all other recommended applications. The following will be considered in making funding decisions: Scientific merit of the proposed project as determined by peer review; Availability of funds; Relevance of program priorities.

PROGRAM ACCOMPLISHMENTS:

Fiscal Year 2021: NIH BRAIN Initiative-funded researchers (funded from all of these scientific priority areas) have made significant advances made possible in part by 21st Century Cures funding. They have created a system for studying circuits in a postmortem animal brain; programmed a computer to mimic natural speech from peoples brain signals; and developed a new viral genetic-based brain mapping tool. Through advanced imaging techniques, they have watched neurons fire in the brains of running mice and made high-speed, high-resolution, 3D films of a nervous system in action. These scientists have created the most detailed parts list of the human brain to date and shown how it can remarkably adapt after one half is damaged or remove by re-wiring specialized neural networks.

Integrated Care for Kids Model,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

CENTERS FOR MEDICARE AND MEDICAID SERVICES, HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES, DEPARTMENT OF

AUTHORIZATION:

Section 1115A of the Social Security Act (the Act), as added by 3021 of the Affordable Care Act, Title Section 1115A of the Social Security Act, Section 1115A

OBJECTIVES:

The purpose of this cooperative agreement funding opportunity is to support the implementation of the Integrated Care for Kids (INCK) model with up to eight (8) awardees. The InCK Model is a child-centered state payment and local service delivery model aimed at reducing expenditures and improving the quality of care for children up to age 21 covered by Medicaid and CHIP through early identification and treatment of priority health concerns like behavioral health conditions, and physical health needs. CMS will award InCK Model cooperative agreements to partnerships between state Medicaid agencies (hereafter called the state) and local organizations (hereafter called the Lead Organization) to leverage and build on existing child programs. One or more state-driven alternative payment models (APMs) will support these partnerships to improve the coordination and quality of care through accountability for costs and outcomes. Model Awardees will develop local care delivery approaches and infrastructure to: Identify, assess, and risk stratify children with or at-risk for significant behavioral and physical health needs within their service area; Deliver integrated care coordination and case management across local child services, supported by child and family-centered information sharing and alignment of program eligibility and enrollment processes; Increase local capacity to shift care for children at-risk for, or already in, out-of-home placement to less costly and more effective home and community-based settings; and implement one or more APMs that support the local integrated service delivery model and promote accountability for improved outcomes, such as lower rates of opiate and other substance use, as well as long-term health system sustainability.

All applicants must have a Dun and Bradstreet (D&B) Data Universal Numbering System (DUNS) number. The applicant must also register in the System for Award Management (SAM) database in order to be able to submit the application. 2 CFR 200, Sub-part E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is required. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372. N/A

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. CMS will award funding for InCK Model implementation through a cooperative agreement to a single entity, either a Lead Organization or a state Medicaid agency. For this model the Lead Organization is defined as an existing or newly created business entity that meets the definition of a covered entity under HIPAA (examples could include a hospital system, managed care plan, or local health department). The Lead Organization and state Medicaid agency must partner to write and submit a single model application, and must commit to work together to implement the model if awarded. Each applicant for the InCK Model must submit a Model Implementation Plan, Model Impact Analysis, and a completed Model Budget Proposal and Program Duplication Questionnaire. The Awardee will be responsible for determining the budget allocations for staff time and infrastructure costs consistent with the terms of the cooperative agreement, and demonstrating how the state and Lead Organization will use funds to accomplish their respective roles in model implementation as part of their application. The application procedure is as follows: Application materials will be available for download at <http://www.grants.gov>. Please note that HHS requires applications for all announcements to be submitted electronically through <http://www.grants.gov>. For assistance with <http://www.grants.gov>, contact support@grants.gov or 1-800-518-4726. At Grants.gov, applicants will be able to download a copy of the application packet, complete it off-line, and then upload and submit the application via the Grants.gov website. Specific instructions for applications submitted via <http://www.grants.gov>: You may access the electronic application for this project at <http://www.grants.gov>. You must search the downloadable application page by the CFDA number. At the <http://www.grants.gov> website, you will find information about submitting an application electronically through the site, including the hours of operation. HHS strongly recommends that you do not wait until the application due date to begin the application process through <http://www.grants.gov> because of the time needed to complete the required registration steps. The applicant must be registered in the System for Award Management (SAM) database in order to be able to submit the application. Applicants are encouraged to register early, and must have their DUNS and EIN/TIN numbers in order to do so. Authorized Organizational Representative: The Authorized Organizational Representative (AOR) who will officially submit an application on behalf of the organization must register with grants.gov for a username and password. AORs must complete a profile with Grants.gov using their organizations DUNS Number to obtain their username and password at http://grants.gov/applicants/get_registered.jsp. AORs must wait one business day after successful registration in SAM before entering their profiles in Grants.gov. Applicants should complete this process as soon as possible after successful registration in SAM to ensure this step is completed in time to apply before application deadlines. When an AOR registers with Grants.gov to submit applications on behalf of an organization, that organizations E-Biz POC will receive an email notification. The email address provided in the profile will be the email used to send the notification from Grants.gov to the E-Biz POC with the AOR copied on the correspondence. The E-Biz POC must then login to Grants.gov (using the organizations DUNS number for the username and the special password called M-PIN) and approve the AOR, thereby providing permission to submit applications. Any files uploaded or attached to the Grants.gov application must be PDF file format and must contain a valid file format extension in the filename. Even though Grants.gov allows applicants to attach any file formats as part of their application, CMS restricts this practice and only accepts PDF file formats. Any file submitted as part of the Grants.gov application that is not in a PDF file format, or contains password protection, will not be accepted for processing and will be excluded from the application during the review process. In addition, the use of compressed file formats such as ZIP, RAR, or Adobe Portfolio will not be accepted. The application must be submitted in a file format that can easily be copied and read by reviewers. It is recommended that scanned copies not be submitted through Grants.gov unless the applicant confirms the clarity of the documents. Pages cannot be reduced in size, resulting in multiple pages on a single sheet, to avoid exceeding the page limitation. All documents that do not conform to the above specifications will be excluded from the application materials during the review process. After you electronically submit your application, you will receive an acknowledgement from Grants.gov that contains a Grants.gov tracking number. CMS will retrieve your application package from Grants.gov. Please note that applicants may incur a time delay before they receive acknowledgement that the application has been accepted by the Grants.gov system. Applicants should not wait until the application deadline to apply because notification by Grants.gov that the application is incomplete may not be received until close to or after the application deadline, eliminating the opportunity to correct errors and resubmit the application. Applications submitted after the deadline, as a result of errors on the part of the applicant, will not be accepted. After CMS retrieves your application package from Grants.gov, a return receipt will be emailed to the applicant contact. This will be in addition to the validation number provided by Grants.gov. Applications cannot be accepted through any email address. Full applications can only be accepted through <http://www.grants.gov>. Full applications cannot be received via paper mail, courier, or delivery service. All grant applications must be submitted electronically and be received through <http://www.grants.gov> by 3:00 pm Eastern Daylight Time on the applicable due date of June 10, 2019. Applications not successfully submitted to Grants.gov by the

All applications will receive an automatic time stamp upon submission and applicants will receive an email reply acknowledging the applications receipt. Please be aware of the following: 1) Search for the application package in Grants.gov by entering the CFDA number. This number is shown on the cover page of this announcement. 2) If you experience technical challenges while submitting your application electronically, please contact Grants.gov Support directly at: www.grants.gov/customersupport or (800) 518-4726. Customer Support is available to address questions 24 hours a day, 7 days a week (except on Federal holidays). 3) Upon contacting Grants.gov, obtain a tracking number as proof of contact. The tracking number is helpful if there are technical issues that cannot be resolved. To be considered timely, applications must be received by the published deadline date. However, a general extension of a published application deadline that affects all State applicants or only those in a defined geographical area may be authorized by circumstances that affect the public at large, such as natural disasters (e.g., floods or hurricanes) or disruptions of electronic (e.g., application receipt services) or other services, such as a prolonged blackout. This statement does not apply to an individual entity having internet service problems. In order for there to be any consideration there must be an effect on the public at large. Grants.gov complies with Section 508 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. If an individual uses assistive technology and is unable to access any material on the site including forms contained with an application package, they can email the Grants.gov contact center at support@grants.gov or call 1-800-518-4726.

When an AOR registers with Grants.gov to submit applications on behalf of an organization, that organizations E-Biz POC will receive an email notification. The email address provided in the profile will be the email used to send the notification from Grants.gov to the E-Biz POC with the AOR copied on the correspondence. The E-Biz POC must then login to Grants.gov (using the organizations DUNS number for the username and the special password called M-PIN) and approve the AOR, thereby providing permission to submit applications. Any files uploaded or attached to the Grants.gov application must be PDF file format and must contain a valid file format extension in the filename. Even though Grants.gov allows applicants to attach any file formats as part of their application, CMS restricts this practice and only accepts PDF file formats. Any file submitted as part of the Grants.gov application that is not in a PDF file format, or contains password protection, will not be accepted for processing and will be excluded from the application during the review process. In addition, the use of compressed file formats such as ZIP, RAR, or Adobe Portfolio will not be accepted. The application must be submitted in a file format that can easily be copied and read by reviewers. It is recommended that scanned copies not be submitted through Grants.gov unless the applicant confirms the clarity of the documents. Pages cannot be reduced in size, resulting in multiple pages on a single sheet, to avoid exceeding the page limitation. All documents that do not conform to the above specifications will be excluded from the application materials during the review process. After you electronically submit your application, you will receive an acknowledgement from <http://www.grants.gov> that contains a Grants.gov tracking number. HHS will retrieve your application package from Grants.gov. Please note, applicants may incur a time delay before they receive acknowledgement that the application has been accepted by the Grants.gov system. Applicants should not wait until the application deadline to apply because notification by Grants.gov that the application is incomplete may not be received until close to or after the application deadline, eliminating the opportunity to correct errors and resubmit the application. Applications submitted after the deadline, as a result of errors on the part of the applicant, will not be reviewed. After HHS retrieves your application package from Grants.gov, a return receipt will be emailed to the applicant contact. This will be in addition to the validation number provided by Grants.gov. Applications cannot be accepted through any email address. Full applications can only be accepted through <http://www.grants.gov>. Full applications cannot be received via paper mail, courier, or delivery service. All grant applications must be submitted electronically and be received through <http://www.grants.gov> by 3:00 pm Eastern Daylight Time on the applicable due date. Applications not successfully submitted to Grants.gov by the due date and time will not be eligible for review. All applications will receive an automatic time stamp upon submission and applicants will receive an email reply acknowledging the applications receipt. Please be aware of the following: 1) Search for the application package in Grants.gov by entering the CFDA number. This number is shown on the cover page of this announcement. 2) If you experience technical challenges while submitting your application electronically, please contact Grants.gov Support directly at: www.grants.gov/customersupport or (800) 518-4726. Customer Support is available to address questions 24 hours a day, 7 days a week (except on Federal holidays). 3) Upon contacting Grants.gov, obtain a tracking number as proof of contact. The tracking number is helpful if there are technical issues that cannot be resolved. To be considered timely, applications must be received by the published deadline date. However, a general extension of a published application deadline that affects all State applicants or only those in a defined geographical area may be authorized by circumstances that affect the public at large, such as natural disasters (e.g., floods or hurricanes) or disruptions of electronic (e.g., application receipt services) or other services, such as a prolonged blackout. This statement does not apply to an individual entity having internet service problems. In order for there to be any consideration there must be an effect on the public at large. Grants.gov complies with Section 508 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. If an individual uses assistive technology and is unable to access any material on the site including forms contained with an application package, they can email the Grants.gov contact center at support@grants.gov or call 1-800-518-4726. This NOFO is designed to collect responsive proposals from eligible applicants and retain them as approved but unfunded (ABU) until a crisis occurs. The NOFO will only be funded upon occurrence of a particular public health or healthcare crisis. At that time, depending on the nature of the scenario, specific applicants and specific components of their applications will be selected for funding. These funding decisions will take into account various relevant factors such as geographic location, expectations of spread (e.g., with infectious disease-related emergencies), applicants capabilities, national priorities, impact of the emergency on an eligible jurisdiction, and target populations, etc. Method of awarding/releasing assistance: lump sum.

Reports:

Awardee Evaluation and Performance Measurement Plan, including Data Management Plan (DMP). Periodic and Final Federal Financial Reports; Federal Cash Transaction Reports (in PMS). Annual Progress Reports are required. Periodic and Final Federal Financial Reports; Federal Cash Transaction Reports (in PMS). Performance Measure Reports are required.

Audits:

In accordance with the provisions of 2 CFR 200, Subpart F - Audit Requirements, nonfederal entities that expend financial assistance of $750,000 or more in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. Non-Federal entities that expend less than $750,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in 2 CFR 200.503

Records:

Grantees are required to maintain grant accounting records for a minimum of three years after the end of a grant period. If any litigation, claim, negotiation, audit or other action involving the record has been started before the expiration of the 3-year period, the records shall be retained until completion of the action and resolution of all issues which arise from it, or until the end of the regular 3-year period, whichever is later. More detailed information regarding retention requirements is provided in 45 CFR Part 75.

Obligations:

Project Grants (Cooperative Agreements) FY 20 $36,107,258.00; FY 21 est $0.00; FY 22 est $0.00;

Range and Average of Financial Assistance:

Due to the nature of the issues that would trigger CDC to activate this NOFO as designed, it is difficult to project the total funding amount that would be made available. When and if CDC activates this NOFO, it is expected to be only for the time necessary to respond to the emergency at hand, and that long-term recovery needs (and/or emergencies that shift from an epidemic to an endemic nature) would be addressed by other NOFOs as appropriate.

Small Business Technology Transfer (STTR) program: To stimulate and foster scientific and technological innovation through cooperative research and development carried out between small business concerns and research institutions; to foster technology transfer through cooperative research and development between small business concerns and research institutions; to increase private sector commercialization of innovations derived from Federal research and development funding, and foster participation in innovation and entrepreneurship by women and socially/economically disadvantaged persons.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Cooperative Agreements, Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Grants and cooperative agreements may be made to eligible institutions for the support of cancer research projects. The grants and cooperative agreements may be used for personnel, consultant costs, equipment, supplies, travel, patient costs, animals, alterations and renovations, miscellaneous items, and indirect costs. Restrictions are imposed against the use of funds for entertainment, foreign travel (unless specifically authorized), office equipment, and other items not normally necessary for the effective prosecution of such research. SBIR Phase I grants (of approximately 6-months' duration) are to establish the technical merit and feasibility of a proposed research effort that may lead to a commercial product or process. Phase II grants are for the continuation of the research initiated in Phase I, and that are likely to result in commercial products or processes. Only Phase I awardees are eligible to receive Phase II support. STTR Phase I grants (normally of 1-year duration) are to determine the scientific, technical, and commercial merit and feasibility of the proposed cooperative effort that has potential for commercial application. Phase II funding is based on results of research initiated in Phase I and scientific and technical merit and commercial potential of Phase II application. The SBIR Fast-Track Initiative provides additional assistance to applicants by expediting the decision and award of SBIR Phase II funding for scientifically meritorious applications for projects that have a high potential for commercialization. Fast-Track is a parallel review option whereby Phase I and Phase II projects are reviewed concurrently with the aim of reducing or eliminating the funding gap between Phase I and Phase II.

Applicant Eligibility:

State (includes District of Columbia, public institutions of higher education and hospitals); Local (includes State-designated Indian Tribes, excludes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Public nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Private nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); The awardee will be a university, college, hospital, public agency, nonprofit research institution or for-profit organization that submits an application and receives a grant or cooperative agreement for support of research by a named principal investigator. SBIR grants can be awarded only to domestic small businesses (entities that are independently owned and operated for profit, are not dominant in the field in which research is proposed, and have no more than 500 employees). Primary employment (more than one-half time) of the principal investigator must be with the small business at the time of award and during the conduct of the proposed project. In both Phase I and Phase II, the research must be performed in the U.S. and its possessions. To be eligible for funding, a grant application must be approved for scientific merit and program relevance by a scientific review group and a national advisory council. STTR grants can be awarded only to domestic small business concern (entities that are independently owned and operated for profit, are not dominant in the field in which research is proposed and have no more than 500 employees) which "partner" with a research institution in cooperative research and development. At least 40 percent of the project is to be performed by the small business concern and at least 30 percent by the research institution. In both Phase I and Phase II, the research must be performed in the U.S. and its possessions. To be eligible for funding, a grant application must be approved for scientific merit and program relevance by a scientific review group and a national advisory council.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Individual/Family; Profit organization; Private nonprofit institution/organization; Quasi-public nonprofit organization; Other private institution/organization; Public nonprofit institution/organization; Other public institution/organization; Any nonprofit or for-profit organization, company, or institution engaged in biomedical research on cancer.

Credentials/Documentation:

For-profit organizations' costs are determined in accordance with 48 CFR, Subpart 31.2 of the Federal Acquisition Regulations. For other grantees, costs will be determined in accordance with HHS Regulations 45 CFR, Part 75. State (includes District of Columbia, public institutions of higher education and hospitals); Local (includes State-designated Indian Tribes, excludes institutions of higher education and hospitals; Public nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Private nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); The awardee will be a university, college, hospital, public agency, nonprofit research institution, or for-profit organization that submits an application and receives a grant or cooperative agreement for support of research by a named principal investigator. SBIR grants can be awarded only to domestic small businesses (entities that are independently owned, and operated for profit, are not dominant in the field in which research is proposed and have no more than 500 employees). Primary employment (more than one-half time) of the principal investigator must be with the small business at the time of award and during the conduct of the proposed project. In both Phase I and Phase II, the research must be performed in the U.S. and its possessions. To be eligible for funding, a grant application must be approved for scientific merit and program relevance by a scientific review group and a national advisory council. STTR grants can be awarded only to domestic small business concerns (entities that are independently owned and operated for profit, are not dominant in the field in which research is proposed and have no more than 500 employees) which "partner" with a research institution in cooperative research and development. At least 40 percent of the project is to be performed by the small business concern and at least 30 percent by the research institution. In both Phase I and Phase II, the research must be performed in the U.S. and its possessions. To be eligible for funding, a grant application must be approved for scientific merit and program relevance by a scientific review group and a national advisory council.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Credentials/Documentation:

For-profit organizations' cost are determined in accordance with 48 CFR, Subpart 31.2 of the Federal Acquisition Regulations. For other grantees, costs will be determined in accordance with HHS Regulations 45 CFR, Part 75. For SBIR and STTR grants, applicant organization (small business concern) must present in a research plan an idea that has potential for commercialization and furnish evidence that scientific competence, experimental methods, facilities, equipment, and funds requested are appropriate to carry out the plan. Grant form SF424 is used to apply for SBIR Phase I and Phase II, respectively. Grant form SF424 is also used to apply for STTR Phase I and Phase II, respectively. Initial award provides funds for the first budget period (usually 12 months) and Notice of Grant Award (Form PHS 1533) indicates support recommended for remainder of project period, allocation of Federal funds by budget categories, and special conditions, if any. All accepted SBIR/STTR applications are evaluated for scientific and technical merit by an appropriate scientific peer review panel and if they are recommended for further consideration, by a national advisory council or board. All applications receiving a priority score compete for available SBIR/STTR set-aside funds on the basis of scientific and technical merit and commercial potential of the proposed research, program relevance, and program balance among the areas of research.

The major elements in evaluating proposals include the assessment of: (1) The scientific merit and general significance of the proposed study and its objectives; (2) the technical adequacy of the experimental design and approach; (3) the competency of the proposed investigator or group to successfully pursue the project; (4) the adequacy of the available and proposed facilities and resources; (5) the necessity of the budget components requested in relation to the proposed project; and (6) the relevance and importance to announced program objectives.

93.399 Cancer Control

Cancer Control Grants,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

NATIONAL INSTITUTES OF HEALTH, HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES, DEPARTMENT OF

AUTHORIZATION:

Public Health Service Act, Sections 301, 410 and 412, Public Law 78-410, as amended, Public Law 99-500, Public Law 100-607, 42 U.S.C. 241, 42 U.S.C. 285 - 285a-1; Small Business Research and Development Enhancement Act of 1992, Public Law 102-564.,

OBJECTIVES:

To reduce cancer risk, incidence, morbidity, and mortality and enhance quality of life in cancer survivors through an orderly sequence from research on interventions and their impact in defined populations to the broad, systematic application of the research results through dissemination and diffusion strategies. Primary emphasis is on the inclusion of cancer prevention and control intervention(s) in any proposed study. Cancer Prevention and Cancer Control research studies are classified into one of five phases: (1) Hypothesis development; (2) methods development and testing; (3) controlled intervention trials to establish cause-and-effect relationships; (4) research in defined populations; and (5) demonstration and implementation studies. Primary interests are in research on cancer control interventions in Phases 2 through 5, and on cancer prevention research in all phases. Cancer Prevention and Control programs include those in the following areas: (1) cancer epidemiology; (2) cancer communications; (3) nutrition, diet, and physical activity; (4) screening and early detection in health care delivery; (5) biobehavioral mechanisms; (6) tobacco control; (7) health disparities research; (8) supportive care and survivorship; (9) health services and outcomes research; and (10) surveillance research. Cancer Control uses Small Business Innovation Research (SBIR) and Small Business Technology Transfer (STTR) Programs to engage domestic small business concerns in federal research and development that has potential for commercialization. The goals of the SBIR & STTR Programs are to stimulate technological innovation, increase private-sector commercialization of federal research and development, increase small business participation in federally funded research and development, and foster participation by socially and economically disadvantaged small business concerns and women-owned small business concerns in technological innovation. The STTR Program requires the small business concern to formally collaborate with a research institution in Phase I and Phase II of the program.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants, Project Grants (Cooperative Agreements)

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Grants and cooperative agreements may be made to eligible institutions for the support of cancer research projects. The grants and cooperative agreements may be used for personnel, consultant costs, equipment, supplies, travel, patient costs, animals, alterations and renovations, miscellaneous items, and indirect costs. Restrictions are imposed against the use of funds for entertainment, foreign travel (unless specifically authorized), office equipment, and other items not normally necessary for the effective prosecution of such research. SBIR Phase I grants (of approximately 6-months' duration) are to establish the technical merit, feasibility and commercial potential of a proposed research effort and to determine the quality of performance of the awardee. Phase II grants are for the continuation of the research initiated in Phase I, and are likely to result in commercial products or processes. Only SBIR Phase I awardees are eligible to receive Phase II support. STTR Phase I grants (normally of 1-year duration) are to determine the scientific, technical, and commercial merit and feasibility of the proposed cooperative effort that has potential for commercial application. Phase II funding is based on results of research initiated in Phase I, and the scientific and technical merit and commercial potential of the proposed Phase II project. Only STTR Phase I awardees are eligible to receive Phase II support. The NIH Fast-Track mechanism provides additional assistance to applicants by expediting the decision and award of funding for scientifically meritorious applications for projects that have a high potential for commercialization. The mechanism allows small businesses to submit applications for both Phase I and Phase II together for review as one application, with the aim of reducing or eliminating the funding gap between Phase I and Phase II.

Applicant Eligibility:

State (includes District of Columbia, public institutions of higher education and hospitals); Local (includes State-designated Indian Tribes, excludes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Public nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Private nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); The awardee will be a university, college, hospital, public agency, nonprofit research institution or for-profit organization that submits an application and receives a grant or cooperative agreement for support of research by a named principal investigator. SBIR grants can be awarded only to domestic small businesses (entities that are independently owned and operated for profit, are not dominant in the field in which research is proposed, and have no more than 500 employees). Primary employment (more than one-half time) of the principal investigator must be with the small business at the time of award and for the duration of the project period. In both Phase I and Phase II, the research must be performed in the U.S. and its possessions. To be eligible for funding, a grant application must be approved for scientific merit, technical merit, and program relevance by a scientific review group and a national advisory council. STTR grants can be awarded only to domestic small business concern (entities that are independently owned and operated for profit, are not dominant in the field in which research is proposed and have no more than 500 employees) which "partner" with a research institution in cooperative research and development. At least 40 percent of the project is to be performed by the small business concern and at least 30 percent by the research institution. The Principal Investigator may be primarily employed by either the small business concern or the collaborating research institution at the time of award and for the duration of the project period. In both Phase I and Phase II, the research must be performed in the U.S. and its possessions. To be eligible for funding, a grant application must be approved for scientific merit, technical merit and program relevance by a scientific review group and a national advisory council.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

For SBIR and STTR grants, the applicant organization (small business concern) must present in a research plan an idea that has potential for commercialization and furnish evidence that scientific competence, experimental methods, facilities, equipment, and funds requested are appropriate to carry out the plan. Grant form SF424(R&R) (version as specified in the FOA) is used to apply for SBIR Phase I and Phase II, and STTR Phase I and Phase II. 2 CFR 200, Sub-part E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Applicants will be notified electronically if the application did not meet eligibility and/or published submission requirements thirty (30) days after the completion of Phase II review.Phase III Review: In addition, the following factors may affect the funding decision during Phase II Review: Priority will be given to organizations that demonstrate national scope of work. National scope of work is defined as the mandated or approved authority to work across the 10 HHS Regions. Evidence of a national scope of work must be reflected in the applicant's articles of incorporation, bylaws, or signed board resolutions indicating approval to work on a national level. An additional 15 points will be added to the final score of applications that demonstrate national scope. Preference will be given to avoid duplication of CBA services to the same target populations. Preference may be given to the funding of applicants that propose to provide CBA services to target populations not served by higher ranking applicants. Preference will be given to ensure funding of organizations that provide CBA services to target populations not duplicated in other CDC funding mechanisms. CDC will provide justification for any decision to fund outside of ranked order of scores.Final funding determinations for core-funding will be based on application scores from the objective review panels and consideration for CDC's funding preferences.*Phase IV: Work Plans in Response to CIO Project Plans Organizations that are selected for core funding under the Phase III Review and Selection process will be eligible to submit Work Plans in Response to CIO Project Plans as part of a supplement to OT18-1802. Organizations will be eligible to submit proposals based on the Target Population Category and Target Population for which they were selected to provide CBA under the OT18-1802 initial competition. The supplement package detailing the CIO Project Plans and the submission process will be posted to grants.gov following selection and notification of organizations that will receive care funding. The award recipients will submit stand-alone proposals in response to a range of CBA projects that represent public health disciplinary areas and cross-cutting disciplines and/or topics. CIO Project Plans may also include limited CBA to international public health constituents where there is a benefit to U.S. public health efforts or to the U.S. public health system. Work Plans in Response to CIO Project Plans will be reviewed for eligibility, completeness and merit. Once submitted, all Work Plans in Response to CIO Project Plans will be initially reviewed for eligibility and completeness by the CDC Office of Grants Services and the Partnership Support Unit. Complete applications will be reviewed for responsiveness by the Grants Management Officials and Program Officials. Work Plans in Response to CIO Project Plans that are deemed non-responsive will not advance to the merit review. Organizations will be notified that their applications did not meet eligibility and/or published submission requirements. Merit review of Work Plans in Response to CIO Project Plans will involve an objective or technical review that evaluates complete, eligible proposals using criteria aligned with the three broad sections described earlier in the NOFO: Approach Evaluation and Performance Measurement Applicants Organizational Capacity Merit reviews that require an objective review will be evaluated using the scoring criteria set forth in the OT18-1802 Supplement. In the event a technical review is more efficient for the Work Plans in Response to CIO Project Plans (i.e., there is one proposal submitted for a particular CIO Project Plan), the technical review will be held in place of an objective review. Final funding determinations of Work Plans in Response to CIO Project Plans that require an objective review will be based on proposal scores from the merit review. When a technical review is used, Work Plans in Response to CIO Project Plans will not be scored. The proposals will receive feedback and guidance regarding required revisions in place of scoring.

REGULATIONS, GUIDELINES, AND LITERATURE:

Regulations governing the application process for State Innovation Waivers can be found at the Federal Register at 77 Fed. Reg. 11700 (Feb. 27, 2012). Among other things, these regulations provide guidance on how to apply for a waiver and what an application from a state must contain, including actuarial and economic analyses. The regulations detail public notice and comment requirements that a state must comply with before an application is submitted, including holding public hearings, in order to facilitate a meaningful level of public involvement, input, and transparency in the state application process. They also describe the Federal public notice and comment process that will occur after a completed application has been received. The regulations also describe the requirements for post-award reporting and the standards under which post-award monitoring will take place. On October 24, 2018, the Departments published guidance (83 FR 53575, 2018 Guidance) providing information about the requirements that must be met for the approval of section 1332 waivers, including the Secretaries' application review procedures, the calculation of pass-through funding, certain analytical requirements, and operational considerations. The 2018 Guidance replaces the guidance related to Section 1332 of the ACA that was previously published on December 16, 2015 (80 FR 78131). Additionally, in November 2018, CMS released the Section 1332 State Relief and Empowerment Waiver Concepts: Discussion Paper. This paper includes four waiver concepts which are offered to spur innovative ideas that can be utilized by individual states to improve their health care markets. The four waiver concepts include: State-Specific Premium Assistance, Adjusted Plan Options, Account-Based Subsidies, and Risk Stabilization Strategies. We welcome the opportunity to work with states to take advantage of the new flexibilities provided in the guidance and to pursue section 1332 waivers incorporating these waiver concepts. On July 15, 2019, CMS also published an updated section 1332 waiver checklist to help states as they develop and complete the required elements of their applications, particularly, waiver applications for implementing high-risk pool/state-operated reinsurance programs. This updated checklist itemizes the elements required to be included in the waiver application, including specific information about the waiver concepts, and a citation to the relevant regulatory provisions. On November 6, 2020, the Departments published an interim final rule (85 FR 71142), which revises regulations to set forth flexibilities in the public notice requirements and post award public participation requirements for waivers under section 1332 during the COVID-19 PHE. On December 4, 2020 the Departments published the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act; HHS Notice of Benefit and Payment Parameters for 2022 and Pharmacy Benefit Manager Standards; Updates to State Innovation Waiver (Section 1332 Waiver) Implementing Regulations proposed rule (85 FR 78572) to codify certain policies and interpretations of the 2018 Guidance. On January 19, 2021 the Departments published the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act; HHS Notice of Benefit and Payment Parameters for 2022; Updates to State Innovation Waiver (Section 1332 Waiver) Implementing Regulations final rule (86 FR 6138) which codified many of the policies and interpretations outlined in the 2018 Guidance into section 1332 regulations. On July 1, 2021 the Departments published the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act; Updating Payment Parameters, Section 1332 Waiver Implementing Regulations, and Improving Health Insurance Markets for 2022 and Beyond Proposed Rule proposed rule (86 FR 35156) which proposed modifications to the section 1332 section 1332 waivers implementing regulations, including changes to many of the policies and interpretations of the guardrails recently codified in regulation. As outlined in the proposed rule, the policies and interpretations proposed in the rule, if finalized, would supersede and rescind those outlined in the October 2018 guidance and repeal the previous codification of the interpretations of statutory guidelines in part 1 of the 2022 Payment Notice final rule. The Departments also proposed to modify regulations to set forth flexibilities in the public notice requirements and post award public participation requirements for section 1332 waivers under certain emergent situations. The Departments also proposed processes and procedures for amendments and extensions for approved waiver plans.

OBJECTIVES:

This program will cover NON-ACA/PPHF-funded capacity building assistance projects under CDC-RFA-OT13-1302: Building Capacity of the Public Health System to Improve Population Health through National, Nonprofit Organizations. Applicant organizations will have the opportunity to compete for ACA/PPHF supported projects as well as high priority CDC projects. This program will assist state, tribal, local and U.S. territorial health departments, and other components of the public health system by making available to them capacity building assistance (including technical consultation, skills building/training, information, and technology transfer assistance) that will result in: systems and organizational efficiencies; a capable and qualified workforce; state-of-the-art information technology systems and integrated and standardized community and population data; improved planning, implementation and evaluation of evidence-based public health policies, laws, programs and services; results driven local and national public and private partnerships; and increased availability and accessibility of public health resources, such as publications, educational materials, syndicated website material, training curricula, assessments and evaluation tools, and other

The overall goal of capacity building assistance is to ensure improvements in the public health infrastructure so that it is prepared for responding to both acute and chronic threats relating to the Nations health such as emerging infections, disparities in health status, and increases in chronic disease and injury rates. Capacity building assistance will focus on the provision of technical consultation, skills building/training, and information and technology transfer assistance to ensure successful planning, implementation, coordination and evaluation of the key areas for public health infrastructure investments. CBA may also be provided for CDC-funded projects which may include limited CBA to international public health agencies where there is a benefit to US public health efforts or to the US public health system. Investing in CBA is expected to help public health agencies and other public health components fulfill their mission of protecting and promoting health in their communities and effectively performing essential public health services. Some of the capacity building needs are in the following areas: Improving the public health workforce (e.g., e-learning, other training, and fellowship programs); vital statistics systems (electronic birth and death registration); food and water borne disease identification and prevention, prevention of hospital acquired infections, electronic health record/IT systems, communications systems and processes (e.g. information syndication and social media capacity), and laboratory and epidemiologic capacity. Developing information systems to support adoption, implementation, enforcement, and/or evaluation of public health legislation, codes, rules, regulations, ordinances, and other policies. Improving public health system development/redevelopment by building or re-engineering infrastructure to improve networking, coordination, standardization, and centralization of public health services to effectively and efficiently address priority health indicators. Implementing best health care practices and conducting impact evaluation Improving information and data system capacity through policy/communication for standardized data collection and analysis systems, information management technology, information dissemination, and meaningful data use and translation Improving organizational capacity to effectively and efficiently use resources such as fiscal agents, and intermediaries, and Improving technical and program guidance and evaluation of preventive services to expand coverage for community and clinical preventive services. This includes technical consultation and promotion on the adoption and utilization of the recommendations from the Guide for Community Preventive Services.

Award Procedure:

1. Phase I Review: All eligible applications will be initially reviewed for completeness by CDC's Procurement and Grants Office (PGO) staff. In addition, eligible applications will be jointly reviewed for responsiveness by CDC/OSTLTS and PGO. Incomplete applications and applications that are non-responsive to the eligibility criteria will not advance to Phase II review. Applicants will be notified if the application did not meet eligibility and/or published submission requirements.

2. Phase II (Initial Base-Funding) Review: An objective review panel will evaluate complete and responsive applications according to the criteria listed in the Criteria section of the FOA. The applications will be compiled and reviewed according to the category for which applicants submitted their applications. Applicants will be notified electronically if the application did not meet eligibility and/or published submission requirements thirty (30) days after the completion of Phase II review.

3. Phase III Review: In addition, the following factors may affect the funding decision during Phase II (Initial Base-Funding Competition) Review:

- Preference to avoid duplication of CBA services to the same target populations.
- Preference may be given to the funding of applicants that propose to provide CBA services to target populations not served by higher ranking applicants.
- Preference will be given to ensure funding of organizations that provide CBA services to target populations not duplicated in other CDC funding mechanisms. CDC will provide justification for any decision to fund outside of ranked order of scores.

Final funding determinations will be based on application scores from the objective review panels and consideration for CDC's funding preferences.

4. Phase IV (Secondary CIO-Funding) Review: Applicants that are successful in Phase II (Initial Base-Funding) Review and are awarded funds will be eligible to participate in the Phase IV (Secondary CIO-Funding) Review for CDC-wide public health projects. CIO-funded projects may also include limited CBA to international public health constituents where there is a benefit to U.S. public health efforts or to the U.S. public health system. The applications will be compiled and reviewed according to the Category and CIO project for which applicants submitted proposals. In the event a technical review is more efficient (i.e., there is one proposal submitted for a particular CIO project), the technical review will be held in place of an objective review. Final funding determinations will be based on application scores from the objective review (and technical review) panels.

Applications submitted under Component 2 will be competitive and will support the implementation and evaluation of work on a small set of innovative strategies designed to reduce risks, complications, and/or barriers to prevent and control diabetes and prevention of heart disease and stroke. Component 2 applications will undergo an objective review panel process to evaluate complete and responsiveness according to the criteria section of the funding opportunity. Phase III Review: Applications submitted under Component 1 will be funded in accordance with the number of strategies selected by applicants from each of the diabetes and heart disease so that investments and outcomes may be clearly identified by funding line. Applications submitted under Component 2 will be funded in order by score and rank determined by the objective review panel. The Selecting official shall rely on the rank order established by the objective review panel as the primary factor in making awards.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is not applicable.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program.

Award Procedure:

Phase I Review: All applications will be initially reviewed for eligibility and completeness by CDC Office of Grants Services. Complete applications will be reviewed for responsiveness by the Grants Management Officials and Program Officials. Non-responsive applications will not advance to Phase II Review. Applicants will be notified if their application does not meet eligibility and/or published submission requirements. Phase II Review: An objective review panel will evaluate complete and responsive applications according to the criteria listed in the Criteria section of the NOFO. The applications will be compiled and reviewed according to the category for which applicants submitted their applications. Applicants will be notified electronically if the application did not meet eligibility and/or published submission requirements thirty (30) days after the completion of Phase II review. Phase III Review: In addition, the following factors may affect the funding decision during Phase II Review: Priority will be given to organizations that demonstrate national scope of work. National scope of work is defined as the mandated or approved authority to work across the 10 HHS Regions. Evidence of a national scope of work must be reflected in the applicant's articles of incorporation, bylaws, or signed board resolutions indicating approval to work on a national level. An additional 15 points will be added to the final score of applications that demonstrate national scope. Preference will be given to avoid duplication of CBA services to the same target populations. Preference may be given to the funding of applicants that propose to provide CBA services to target populations not served by higher ranking applicants. Preference will be given to ensure funding of organizations that provide CBA services to target populations not duplicated in other CDC funding mechanisms. CDC will provide justification for any decision to fund outside of ranked order of scores. Final funding determinations for core-funding will be based on application scores from the objective review panels and consideration for CDC's funding preferences. Phase IV: Work Plans in Response to CIO Project Plans Organizations that are selected for core funding under the Phase III Review and Selection process will be eligible to submit Work Plans in Response to CIO Project Plans as part of a supplement to OT18-1802. Organizations will be eligible to submit proposals based on the Target Population Category and Target Population for which they were selected to provide CBA under the OT18-1802 initial competition. The supplement package detailing the CIO Project Plans and the submission process will be posted to grants.gov following selection and notification of organizations that will receive core funding. The award recipients will submit stand-alone proposals in response to a range of CBA projects that represent public health disciplinary areas and cross-cutting disciplines and/or topics. CIO Project Plans may also include limited CBA to international public health constituents where there is a benefit to U.S. public health efforts or to the U.S. public health system. Work Plans in Response to CIO Project Plans will be reviewed for eligibility, completeness and merit. Once submitted, all Work Plans in Response to CIO Project Plans will be initially reviewed for eligibility and completeness by the CDC Office of Grants Services and the Partnership Support Unit. Complete applications will be reviewed for responsiveness by the Grants Management Officials and Program Officials. Work Plans in Response to CIO Project Plans that are deemed non-responsive will not advance to the merit review. Organizations will be notified that their applications did not meet eligibility and/or published submission requirements. Merit review of Work Plans in Response to CIO Project Plans will involve an objective or technical review that evaluates complete, eligible proposals using criteria aligned with the three broad sections described earlier in the NOFO: Approach Evaluation and Performance Measurement Applicants Organizational Capacity Merit reviews that require an objective review will be evaluated using the scoring criteria set forth in the OT18-1802 Supplement. In the event a technical review is more efficient for the Work Plans in Response to CIO Project Plans (i.e., there is one proposal submitted for a particular CIO Project Plan), the technical review will be held in place of an objective review. Final funding determinations of Work Plans in Response to CIO Project Plans that require an objective review will be based on proposal scores from the merit review. When a technical review is used, Work Plans in Response to CIO Project Plans will not be scored. The proposals will receive feedback and guidance regarding required revisions in place of scoring.

Networking2Save,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

CENTERS FOR DISEASE CONTROL AND PREVENTION, HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES, DEPARTMENT OF

AUTHORIZATION:

This program is authorized under sections 201(a), 317(k)(2) of the Public Health Service Act, [42 U.S.C. 241(a) and 247b(k)(2), as amended.,

OBJECTIVES:

The Office on Smoking and Health and Division of Cancer Prevention and Control seek to build on the progress of the previously funded networks and expand work to address tobacco-and cancer- related health disparities among populations particularly vulnerable to tobacco industry marketing tactics and with higher cancer incidence and death rates. To accelerate the decline in cigarette smoking, address other tobacco use, and reduce the burden of cancer disease and death among the entire population, it will be critical to continue to focus prevention and control efforts on those populations that are most vulnerable and harder to reach with general population interventions. The complex interaction of multiple factors (e.g. socioeconomic status, cultural characteristics, acculturation, inequitable policy implementation and enforcement, stress) and persistent and targeted tobacco industry marketing to these vulnerable populations, contribute to tobacco related disparities. Many factors also contribute to cancer-related disparities such as socioeconomic status, cultural characteristics, diet, and access to healthcare services. Continued efforts to address the unique need for population-specific capacity and infrastructure to support tobacco and cancer control strategies and promote access to tobacco cessation services, cancer prevention, and treatment and survivor resources for populations experiencing disparities are justified. This tailored strategy is designed to achieve the benefits of an overall population-based policy approach to commercial tobacco and cancer control.

93.434 Every Student Succeeds Act/Preschool Development Grants

ESSA/Preschool Development Grants Birth-5,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

ADMINISTRATION FOR CHILDREN AND FAMILIES, HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES, DEPARTMENT OF

AUTHORIZATION:

Every Student Succeeds Act/Preschool Development Grants, Title , Section 9212(c)(1), Public Law 114-95, Note to 42 USC Code 9831.

OBJECTIVES:

Section 9212 of the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), PL 114-95 establishes the Preschool Development Grants (PDG). This grant initiative seeks to assist States in helping low-income and disadvantaged children enter Kindergarten prepared and ready to succeed in school and to help improve the transitions from the early care and education setting to elementary school. The overall responsibility of the ESSA PDG is to assist States in the coordination of their existing early childhood service delivery models and funding streams - for the purpose of serving more children birth through age five in a mixed delivery model. The ESSA PDG has three targeted purposes. It aims to: "(1) assist States to develop, update, or implement a strategic plan that facilitates collaboration and coordination among existing programs of early childhood care and education in a mixed delivery system across the State designed to prepare low-income and disadvantaged children to enter kindergarten and to improve transitions from such system into the local educational agency or elementary school that enrolls such children, by(A) more efficiently using existing Federal, State, local, and non-governmental resources to align and strengthen the delivery of existing programs, (B) coordinating the delivery models and funding streams existing in the State's mixed delivery system; and (C) developing recommendations to better use existing resources in order to improve-- (i) the overall participation of children in a mixed delivery system of Federal, State, and local early childhood education programs;(ii) program quality while maintaining availability of services;(iii) parental choice among existing programs; and (iv) school readiness for children from low- income and disadvantaged families, including during such children's transition into elementary school;(2) encourage partnerships among Head Start providers, State and local governments, Indian tribes and tribal organizations, private entities (including faith- and community- based entities), and local educational agencies, to improve coordination, program quality, and delivery of services; and(3) maximize parental choice among a mixed delivery system of early childhood education program providers." [Note to 42 USC 9831(a)]The PDG B-5 Initial Grants are one-year planning grants allowing states and territories to develop and implement a comprehensive, statewide, birth through five needs assessment. States and territories then develop a related strategic plan that also addresses activities that lead to more meaningful parent engagement, the sharing of resources and best practices among the different early childhood program providers, and improvements in overall quality, specific to each state's developmental goals. The PDG B-5 Renewal grants are three-year implementation grants that allow states to implement their strategic plans and periodically update their needs assessments and related strategic plans. The renewal grantees continue to improve their coordination and collaboration of programs, services, and systems, while focusing on data integration, ongoing monitoring and evaluation, and improvement of governance structures, policy development, and stakeholder engagement.

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

PDG B-5 Initial Grant: A State, acting through the State agency appointed by the Governor, which receives a PDG B-5 Initial Grant shall use the grant funds for all of the following activities: (1) Conducting a periodic statewide needs assessment of(A) the availability and quality of existing programs in the State, including such programs serving the most vulnerable or underserved populations and children in rural areas; (B) to the extent practicable, the unduplicated number of children being served and (C) awaiting service in such programs. (2) Developing a strategic plan that recommends collaboration, coordination, and quality improvement activities among existing programs in the State and local educational agencies, including activities to improve children's transition from early childhood education programs into elementary schools. If a State chooses to award subgrants, the State shall prioritize activities to improve areas in which there are State-identified needs that would improve services for low-income and disadvantaged children living in rural areas.

Applicant Eligibility:

State; U.S. Territories and possessions; Each of the 50 States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, and the U.S. territories that do not currently have a pre-school development grant are eligible to apply for an initial grant. Recipients that have previously received an initial grant or a State that submits a completed needs assessment with its application are eligible to apply for a renewal grant. Please reference the Notice of Funding Opportunity (NOFO) for a list of States that are eligible to apply.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

State; Local; Preschool; Infant (0-5); Moderate Income; Low Income; Beneficiaries are state and local communities with children birth through 5 and their families.

Credentials/Documentation:

Correspondence from the Governor identifying the state agency that will serve as the lead entity appointed to administer and oversee the PDG B-5 grant award is required. 2 CFR 200, Sub-part E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is required. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372. Coordination is expected at the state level among all state departments involved in providing supportive early childhood services to children birth through age 5 and their families prior to the submission of a formal application to the Federal funding agency.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. Applicants may find NOFOs on <https://www.grants.gov> or on the ACF website at <https://ami.grantsolutions.gov/>. Applicants may apply on <https://grants.gov>. Notice of Funding Opportunities (NOFO) for this listing will be posted on Grants.gov.

Award Procedure:

Each application will be screened to determine whether it meets any of the disqualifying factors: missing the application deadline, required electronic submission or waiver requested and approved, or exceeding the Award Ceiling. Disqualified applications are considered to be non-responsive and are excluded from the competitive review process. Applications competing for financial assistance will be reviewed and evaluated by objective review panels using only the criteria described in NOFO. Each panel is composed of experts with knowledge and experience in the area under review. Generally, review panels include three reviewers and one chairperson. Results of the competitive objective review are taken into consideration by ACF in the selection of projects for funding; however, objective review scores and rankings are not binding. Scores and rankings are only one element used in the award decision-making process. ACF reserves the right to evaluate applications in the larger context of the overall portfolio by considering geographic distribution of federal funds (e.g. ensuring coverage of states, counties, or service areas) in its pre-award decisions. ACF will complete a review of risk posed by applicants as described in 45 CFR 75.205. ACF may elect not to fund applicants with management or financial problems that would indicate an inability to successfully complete the proposed project. Applications may be funded in whole or in part. Successful applicants may be funded at an amount. Because these grants will be administered jointly by the HHS/ACF and ED, ACF and ED shall review the applications to confirm that each State submitting an application has, as of the date of the application, a mixed delivery system in place. Finally, once a slate has been developed, identifying the rankings of each applicant and the amount of funding requested by each, the Secretaries of both Departments will give final approval to those who will receive an award.

AUTHORIZATION:

Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (PL 11-148), Title IV, Section 4002 (Prevention and Public Health Fund) for expanded and sustained national investment in prevention and public health programs. This program is funded in part by 2012 Prevention and Public Health Funds (PPHF-2012), Section 301 and 317, 42 USC Code 241 and 247b. Sections 301 and 317 of the Public Health Service Act (PHS Act), 42 USC, 241 and 247b as amended; and Funding is appropriated under Affordable Care Act (PL 111-148), Title IV, Section 4002 (Prevention and Public Health Fund), Title IV, Section 4002

OBJECTIVES:

The Prevention and Public Health Fund (Title IV, Section 4002) was established under the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act to provide for expanded and sustained national investment in prevention and public health programs to improve health and help restrain the rate of growth in private and public sector health care costs. The Epidemiology and Laboratory Capacity for Infectious Diseases (ELC) and Emerging Infections Program (EIP) cooperative agreements were formed in 1995 as key components of CDC's national strategy to address and reduce emerging infectious disease (EID) threats. The programs play a critical role in strengthening national infectious disease infrastructure by serving as collaborative platforms for state and local health departments, CDC programs, and academic and various other public health partners to improve the ability to detect and respond to EIDs and other public health threats. Specifically, the programs build epidemiology, laboratory, and information systems capacity, integrate epidemiology and laboratory practice, implement active surveillance, and conduct targeted research aimed at improving methods and informing national surveillance and response activities. Overall, additional funds from multiple sources including PPHF will allow ELC and EIP partner agencies to substantially address gaps in EID epidemiology and laboratory capacity (e.g. number and training level of epi and lab staff, efficient/functional information systems, etc).

93.524 Building Capacity of the Public Health System to Improve Population Health through National, Non-Profit Organizations- financed in part by Prevention and Public Health Funds (PPHF)

CBA to Strengthen Public Health Infrastructure and Performance,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

CENTERS FOR DISEASE CONTROL AND PREVENTION, HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES, DEPARTMENT OF

AUTHORIZATION:

This program is authorized under sections 301 and 317 of the Public Health Service Act (PHS Act), 42 U.S.C. 241 and 247b as amended, and the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (Public Law 111-148), Title IV, Section 4002 (Prevention and Public Health Fund), Title IV, Section 4002, Public Law 111-148, 42 USC Code 242,247.

OBJECTIVES:

This program will cover projects under two funding initiatives: 1) specific capacity building activities (CBA) under PPHF; and 2) CBA activities under an umbrella cooperative agreement for unique target populations. Applicant organizations will have the opportunity to compete for PPHF supported projects as well as high priority CDC projects. This program will assist state, tribal, local and U.S. territorial health departments, and other components of the public health system by making available to them capacity building assistance (including technical consultation, skills building/training, information, and technology transfer assistance) that will result in: systems and organizational efficiencies; a capable and qualified workforce; state-of-the-art information technology systems and integrated and standardized community and population data; improved planning, implementation and evaluation of evidence-based public health policies, laws, programs and services; results driven local and national public and private partnerships; and increased availability and accessibility of public health resources, such as publications, educational materials, syndicated website material, training curricula, assessments and evaluation tools, and other products for improvement of public health agencies and other agencies in the public health system. The overall goal of capacity building assistance is to ensure improvements in the public health infrastructure so that it is prepared for responding to both acute and chronic threats relating to the Nations health such as emerging infections, disparities in health status, and increases in chronic disease and injury rates. Capacity building assistance will focus on the provision of technical consultation, skills building/training, and information and technology transfer assistance to ensure successful planning, implementation, coordination and evaluation of the key areas for public health infrastructure investments. CBA may also be provided for CDC-funded projects which may include limited CBA to international public health agencies where there is a benefit to US public health efforts or to the US public health system. Investing in CBA is expected to help public health agencies and other public health components fulfill their mission of protecting and promoting health in their communities and effectively performing essential public health services. Some of the capacity building needs are in the following areas: Improving the public health workforce (e.g., e-learning, other training, and fellowship programs); vital statistics systems (electronic birth and death registration); food and water borne disease identification and prevention, prevention of hospital acquired infections, electronic health record/IT systems, communications systems and processes (e.g. information syndication and social media capacity), and laboratory and epidemiologic capacity. Developing information systems to support adoption, implementation, enforcement, and/or evaluation of public health legislation, codes, rules, regulations, ordinances, and other policies. Improving public health system development/redevelopment by building or re-engineering infrastructure to improve networking, coordination, standardization, and centralization of public health services to effectively and efficiently address priority health indicators. Implementing best health care practices and conducting impact evaluation. Improving information and data system capacity through policy/communication for standardized data collection and analysis systems, information management technology, information dissemination, and meaningful data use and translation. Improving organizational capacity to effectively and efficiently use resources such as fiscal agents, and intermediaries, and Improving technical and program guidance and evaluation of preventive services to expand coverage for community and clinical preventive services. This includes technical consultation and promotion on the adoption and utilization of the recommendations from the Guide for Community Preventive Services.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Cooperative Agreements

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Project funds will be used for costs associated with providing capacity building assistance to strengthen the infrastructure of State, Tribal, Local, and Territorial public health agencies and other components of the public health system. For the purposes of this program, other components of the public health system refers to specific professional constituencies (i.e., epidemiologists, community health nurses, health education and promotion specialists tribal health leaders, chronic disease directors, health information specialists, Medicaid/Medicare Directors, state/local public health financial officials, etc.) or key components of the public health system (i.e., community and neighborhood health centers, public health and primary care delivery systems, community and faith-based organizations, public health and accreditation boards, public health institutes, primary care residency programs, health insurance consortia, family/social services programs, maternal/child health associations, etc.).

Applicant Eligibility:

Other public institution/organization; Non-Government - General; 1. Eligible Applicants: Organizations with nonprofit 501(c)(3) or nonprofit 501(c)(6) IRS status (other than institutions of higher education). 2. Special Eligibility Requirements: The applicant organization must provide evidence of national scope of work and of public health charge or mission. 3. Justification for Less than Maximum Competition: The program leadership in the Office of State, Tribal, Local and Territorial Support (OSTLTS) determined that in order to achieve its strategic priorities for strengthening the public health infrastructure and advancing the quality of public health decision making, OSTLTS will need to expand its capacity building assistance (CBA) efforts through national, non-profit organizations with experience and expertise providing capacity building assistance to governmental and non-governmental components of the public health system. Eligible applicants are limited to national, non-profit professional public health mission organizations with experience and expertise providing capacity building assistance (CBA) to governmental and non-governmental components of the public health system. The CDC is requesting the provision of capacity building assistance (CBA) to public health agencies and other public health entities across the United States and its territories in order to strengthen public health practice to improve health for all populations. These national public health mission organizations are the only entities positioned to effectively and efficiently execute on the expected capacity building outcomes, outputs, and activities outlined in the FOA. The characteristics that position these organizations are: 1) designated mission and experience working nationally, 2) demonstrated infrastructure, experience and expertise providing CBA, and 3) relationship to the public health system workforce across the United States and Territories. Therefore, eligibility is limited to the above specified types of applicants/organizations that are expected to demonstrate significant experience and expertise providing capacity building assistance (CBA) to the target populations described in the attached OT13-1302 FOA. This expertise is necessary for the grantee to effectively and efficiently complete the related activities and achieve the program outcomes described in the funding opportunity announcement. Additionally the following capacities will facilitate the completion of projects in the specified timeframe:  Infrastructure to organize, conduct work and disseminate key outcomes.  Communicate key information to organization members, stakeholders and the public health community on a regular basis.  Leverage a wide array of resources among organization members and the public health community to expeditiously achieve results in a cost-effective manner.  Interact with other public health organizations; act as a networking hub to build the capacity of governmental and non-governmental components of the public health system.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

U.S. Territories; Anyone/general public; State; Local; Federally Recognized Indian Tribal Governments; Beneficiaries include state health departments; tribal health organizations; local health departments; the District of Columbia; U.S. Territories; and other components of the public health system. The general public will also serve as beneficiaries.

Credentials/Documentation:

The applicant organization must include evidence of national scope of work and of public health role or mission. Articles of incorporation, board resolution or by-laws are acceptable forms of evidence. The applicant must also provide evidence of federally assigned 501(c)(3) or 501(c)(6) status designation by submitting a copy of the current, valid Internal Revenue Service (IRS) determination letter. This program is excluded from coverage under 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is not applicable.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. Allowable costs will be determined in accordance with OMB Circular No. A-87 for non-profit non-governmental organizations. Applicants must download application forms from www.grants.gov, and completed applications must be submitted electronically at www.Grants.gov. Award Procedure:

1. Phase I Review: All eligible applications will be initially reviewed for completeness by CDC's Procurement and Grants Office (PGO) staff. In addition, eligible applications will be jointly reviewed for responsiveness by CDC/OSTLTS and PGO. Incomplete applications and applications that are non-responsive to the eligibility criteria will not advance to Phase II review. Applicants will be notified if the application did not meet eligibility and/or published submission requirements. 2. Phase II (Initial Base-Funding) Review: An objective review panel will evaluate complete and responsive applications according to the criteria listed in the Criteria section of the FOA. The applications will be compiled and reviewed according to the category for which applicants submitted their applications. Applicants will be notified electronically if the application did not meet eligibility and/or published submission requirements thirty (30) days after the completion of Phase II review. 3. Phase III Review: In addition, the following factors may affect the funding decision during Phase II (Initial Base-Funding Competition) Review: a. Preference to avoid duplication of CBA services to the same target populations. b. Preference may be given to the funding of applicants that propose to provide CBA services to target populations not served by higher ranking applicants. c. Preference will be given to ensure funding of organizations that provide CBA services to target populations not duplicated in other CDC funding mechanisms. CDC will provide justification for any decision to fund outside of ranked order of scores. Final funding determinations will be based on application scores from the objective review panels and consideration for CDC's funding preferences. 4. Phase IV (Secondary CIO-Funding) Review: Applicants that are successful in Phase II (Initial Base-Funding) Review and are awarded funds will be eligible to participate in the Phase IV (Secondary CIO-Funding) Review for CDC-wide public health projects. Eligible awardees will receive an application packet detailing the Phase IV (Secondary CIO-Funding) application submission process upon receipt of the Phase II (Initial-Base Funding) Notice of Award. The awardees must submit stand-alone applications in response to a range of CBA projects that represent public health disciplinary areas and cross-cutting disciplines and/or topics. Reports:

a.Reporting: Reporting allows for continuous program monitoring and identifies successes and challenges that awardees encounter throughout the award. Reporting is also necessary for awardees to apply for yearly continuation of funding. In addition, reporting is helpful to CDC and awardees because it helps target support to awardees, particularly for cooperative agreements. Provides CDC with periodic data to monitor awardee progress towards meeting the FOA outcomes and overall performance. Allows CDC to track performance measures and evaluation findings for continuous program improvement throughout the project period and to determine applicability of evidence-based approaches to different populations, settings, and contexts. Enables the assessment of the overall effectiveness and impact of the FOA. For organizations that receive PPHF funding, additional reporting is required. These requirements will be communicated to awardees post-award. As described below, awardees must submit one report per year; ongoing performance measures data, administrative reports, and a final performance and financial report. Below are the specific reporting requirements: b. Annual Performance Report (due 120 days before the end of the budget period; serves as a continuation application). This report must not exceed 35 pages, excluding work plan and administrative reporting. Attachments are not permitted when submitting this report. This report must include the following: Performance Measures (including outcomes): Awardees must report on performance measures for each budget period and update measures, if needed. Evaluation Results: Awardees must report evaluation results for the work completed to date (including any impact data). Work Plan (maximum of 25 pages): Awardees should update the work plan each budget period. Successes: Awardees must report progress on completing activities outlined in the work plan. Awardees must describe any additional successes (e.g., identified through evaluation results or lessons learned) achieved in the past year. Awardees must describe success stories. Challenges: Awardees should describe any challenges that hinder achievement of both annual and project period outcomes, performance measures, or their ability to complete the activities in the work plan. Awardees must describe any additional challenges (e.g., identified through evaluation results or lessons learned) encountered in the past year. CDC Program Support to Awardees: Awardees should describe how CDC could assist them in overcoming any challenges to achieve both annual and project period outcomes and performance measures, and complete activities outlined in the work plan. Administrative Reporting (not subject to page limits): SF-424A Budget Information-Non-construction Programs; Budget Narrative Must use the format outlined in Section IV. Content and Form of Application Submission, Budget Narrative Section; Indirect Cost Rate Agreement. During years 25, awardees may request up to 75% of their estimated unobligated funds to be carried forward into the next budget period. The carryover request must: Express a bona fide need for permission to use an unobligated balance. Include a signed, dated, and accurate Federal Financial Report (FFR) for the budget period from which the fund will be transferred (can request up to 75% unobligated balances). Include a list of proposed activities, an itemized budget, and a narrative justification of those activities. The applicant must submit the Annual Performance Report via www.grants.gov 120 days before the end of the budget period. c. Performance Measure Reporting: CDC programs must require awardees to submit performance measures at least annually. CDC may require more frequent reporting of performance measures. CDC programs should specify reporting frequency, required data fields, and format for awardees at the beginning of the award. As indicated in the previous section, awardees will submit annual performance reports based on their selected program strategies and activities. These performance measures and the frequency of reporting will vary by project. d. Federal Financial Reporting: The Annual Federal Financial Report (FFR) SF 425 is required and must be submitted through eRA Commons within 90 days after the end of each budget period. The FFR should only include those funds authorized and disbursed during the timeframe covered by the report. The final FFR must indicate the exact balance of unobligated funds and may not reflect any unliquidated obligations. There must be no discrepancies between the final FFR expenditure data and the Payment Management Systems (PMS) cash transaction data. Failure to submit the required information in a timely manner may adversely affect the future funding of this project. If the information cannot be provided by the due date, you are required to submit a letter explaining the reason and date by which the Grants Management Officer will receive the information. e. Final Performance and Financial Report: At the end of the five-year project period, awardees should submit a final report to include a final financial and performance report. Note: Recipients that were previously financed solely by PPHF funds and are now financed solely by a source other than PPHF do not need to adhere to the reporting and tracking requirements for the continuation portion of the project. Grantees that do not have FY13 PPHF funding do not need to adhere to the PPHF reporting requirements for FY13. However, grantees will still need to adhere to PPHF reporting requirements for the PPHF funding from FY12. No later than 10 days after the end of each calendar quarter, starting with the quarter ending December 31, 2012 and reporting by January 10, 2013, the recipients must submit a calendar quarter cash transaction report (SF-272 or top portion of the SF-425 Financial Report Form) to the Payment Management System (PMS). New awards (Type 1) issued under this funding opportunity announcement are subject to the reporting requirements of the Federal Funding Accountability and Transparency Act (FFATA) of 2006 (Pub. L. 109282), as amended by section 6202 of Public Law 110252, and implemented by 2 CFR Part 170. Grant and cooperative agreement recipients must report information for each first-tier subaward of $25,000 or more in federal funds and executive total compensation for the recipients and subrecipients five most highly compensated executives as outlined in Appendix A to 2 CFR Part 170 (FFATA details are available online at <http://www.hrsa.gov/grants/ffata.html>). Competing continuation awardees, etc. may be subject to this requirement and will be so notified in the Notice of Award. The award recipient must submit a progress report to HRSA on an annual/quarterly basis. For multi-year awards: Submission and HRSA approval of the Progress Report(s) triggers the budget period renewal and release of subsequent year funds. The progress report typically has two parts. The first part demonstrates grantee progress on program-specific goals. The second part collects core performance measurement data including performance measurement data to measure the progress and impact of the project. An annual Federal Financial Report is required.

The report is an accounting of expenditures under the project that year. More specific information will be included in the Notice of Award. Refer to the HRSA funding opportunity announcement for the roles and responsibilities of the Federal government and the recipient.

Audits:

In accordance with the provisions of 2 CFR 200, Subpart F - Audit Requirements, nonfederal entities that expend financial assistance of $750,000 or more in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. Non-Federal entities that expend less than $750,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in 2 CFR 200.503

Records:

Awardees are required to maintain grant accounting records 3 years after the date they submit the Federal Financial Report. If any litigation, claim, negotiation, audit or other action involving the award has been started before the expiration of the 3-year period, the records shall be retained until completion of the action and resolution of all issues which arise from it, or until the end of the regular 3-year period, whichever is later.

93.545 Consumer Operated and Oriented Plan [CO-OP] Program

FEDERAL AGENCY:

CENTERS FOR MEDICARE AND MEDICAID SERVICES, HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES, DEPARTMENT OF

AUTHORIZATION:

Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (PPACA), Section 1322.,

OBJECTIVES:

To provide assistance to applicants for activities related to establishing and maintaining a Consumer Operated and Oriented (CO-OP), nonprofit health insurance issuer. Please refer to the Funding Opportunity Announcement (FOA) for additional information

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Direct Loans

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Section 1322 of The Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (PPACA), calls for the establishment and continuation of the CO-OP Program, which will foster the creation and maintenance of qualified nonprofit health insurance issuers to offer competitive health plans in the individual and small group markets. The American Taxpayer Relief Act of 2012 (ATRA) rescinded, as of the date of enactment, ninety percent of the unobligated balance under Section 1322 of the PPACA, transferred the remaining ten percent of the unobligated balance to the Consumer Operated and Oriented Plan Program Contingency Fund, and rescinded authority to further issue CO-OP loans. As of the date of the rescission, CO-OP loan agreements had closed with 24 CO-OP borrowers. The loan agreement with one of those borrowers was terminated in 2013 before the entity had obtained an insurance license. The other 23 borrowers became licensed. Between 2015 and 2020, twenty of them have ceased operations and gone into state-supervised receivership or liquidation, or otherwise left the program after settling all debt obligations to the government. Although CMS no longer has the authority to make loans to new borrowers, Section 644 of ATRA authorizes CMS to continue to provide assistance and oversight to existing CO-OPs as they work to achieve program milestones and maintain viable CO-OPs in each state in which they operate. No further funding is available to borrowers under the original Funding Opportunity Announcement (FOA) published on December 9, 2011, Number OO-COO-001. The CO-OP Program awards two types of loans: Start-up Loans: Start-up Loans are intended to assist applicants with the start-up costs associated with establishing a new health insurance issuer, such as: renting or developing administrative technology systems; renting or developing provider networks; hiring counsel and consultants to assist with State licensure requirements; hiring actuaries and management staff; conducting community and prospective member education; developing strategic plans to build enrollment; developing plans for quality improvement, member and provider services, and grievances and appeals systems with feedback loops to improve operations; establishing and participating in a private purchasing council; and other start-up costs. Start-up Loans cannot be used to fund costs associated with construction of facilities, including clinical facilities, nor can Start-up Loans be used for clinical expenses, such as provider salaries or payments, provider clinical space or administrative staff associated with clinical functions, and clinical equipment. These items are intended to be covered by the premiums and reflected in the reimbursement to providers. Funds drawn from Start-up Loans must be repaid within five years of disbursement. Solvency Loans: Solvency Loans are intended to assist eligible entities with meeting the solvency and capitalization requirements of states in which they do business. Funds drawn from Solvency Loans must be repaid within 15 of disbursement. Loan recipients must use the loans awarded under the CO-OP program to fund the activities proposed and approved in the loan recipients application, consistent with the terms of the CO-OPs loan agreement with CMS. Loan recipients are prohibited from using the loans awarded under the CO-OP program to conduct marketing or carry on propaganda and other activities attempting to influence legislation. Additional information on both start-up and solvency loans can be found in the original FOA for this program, to acquire details on each type of loan and the requirements for each type of loans use and repayment.

Applicant Eligibility:

Submit in its loan application an Eligibility Affidavit and Application Certification signed by the applicants Chief Executive Officer, Chief Financial Officer, or an officer of the applicants Board of Directors, certifying the accuracy, completeness, and truthfulness of all information contained in the loan application; and certifying that, if the applicant organization is awarded loan(s) under this FOA, it will repay them according to the terms laid out in this FOA, finalized in 45 CFR part 156 subpart F, and in the Loan Agreement issued when the award is announced. The signatory must be legally authorized to bind the CO-OP. For a description of the Eligibility Affidavit and Application Certification, see Section IV.B.10. 4. PROGRAM ACCOMPLISHMENTS:

Fiscal Year 2020: Since its inception in 1972, the National Health Service Corps (NHSC) has worked to support qualified health care providers dedicated to working in underserved communities in urban, rural, and tribal areas. Across the nation, NHSC clinicians serve patients in Health Professional Shortage Areas (HPSAs) communities with limited access to health care. As of September 30, 2020, there were 7,203 primary care HPSAs, 6,487 dental HPSAs, and 5,733 mental health HPSAs. The NHSC seeks clinicians who demonstrate a commitment to serve the Nations medically underserved populations at NHSC-approved sites located in HPSAs. NHSC-approved sites provide care to individuals regardless of ability to pay; currently, there are over 16,400 NHSC-approved sites. Eligible sites include Federally Qualified Health Centers (FQHC) and FQHC Look-Alikes, American Indian and Native Alaska health clinics, rural health clinics, critical access hospitals and hospitals managed or owned by the Indian Health Service (IHS), school-based clinics, mobile units, free clinics, community mental health centers, state or local health departments, community outpatient facilities, federal facilities such as the Bureau of Prisons, U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement, IHS, and private practices. In particular, the NHSC has partnered closely with HRSA-supported FQHCs to help meet their staffing needs. Over 60 percent of NHSC clinicians serve in Health Centers around the nation, and 15 percent of clinical staff at FQHCs are NHSC clinicians. The NHSC also places clinicians in other community-based systems of care that serve underserved populations, targeting HPSAs of greatest need. As of September 30, 2020, there are 13,000 primary care medical, dental, and mental and behavioral health practitioners providing service nationwide.

FEDERAL AGENCY:

AUTHORIZATION:

Social Security Act, Title IV, Part B, Section Subpart 2, Sections 430 - 435; 436(a), (b)(1), (3) - (4) and (c) and 437(a), (b)(1), (3), (c) - (e), and (g).

OBJECTIVES:

The objectives of the MaryLee Allen Promoting Safe and Stable Families Program (PSSF) are: 1) to prevent child maltreatment among families at risk through the provision of supportive family services; 2) to assure children's safety within the home and preserve intact families in which children have been maltreated, when the family's problems can be addressed effectively; 3) to address the problems of families whose children have been placed in foster care so that reunification may occur in a safe and stable manner; 4) to support adoptive families by providing support services as necessary so that they can make a lifetime commitment to their children. This is accomplished through the issuance of grants to child welfare agencies in states, territories, and eligible Indian tribes to serve families at risk or in crisis, to develop or expand and operate coordinated programs of community-based family support services, family preservation services, family reunification services, and adoption promotion and support services. In addition, a portion of funds is reserved for separate formula grants for states and territories to support monthly caseworker visits with children who are in foster care. A small proportion of appropriated funds are reserved for research, evaluation, and technical assistance, which may be awarded competitively through contracts or discretionary grants. Additional funds were appropriated to develop, enhance or evaluate kinship navigator programs for FYs 2018 - 2021. (TANF),

FEDERAL AGENCY:

ADMINISTRATION FOR CHILDREN AND FAMILIES, HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES, DEPARTMENT OF

AUTHORIZATION:

Social Security Act, Title IV, Part A, Section N/A, 42 USC Code 601 et seq..

OBJECTIVES:

To provide grants to States and the District of Columbia, Territories, and Indian Tribes to assist needy families with children so that children can be cared for in their own homes or in the homes of relatives; end the dependence of needy parents on government benefits by promoting job preparation, work, and marriage; prevent and reduce the incidence of out-of-wedlock pregnancies; and encourage the formation and maintenance of two-parent families.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Dissemination of Technical Information, Formula Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

TANF funds monthly cash assistance payments to low-income families with children, as well as a wide range of services that are reasonably calculated to address the programs four broad purposes. States, Territories, the District of Columbia, and Federally-recognized Indian Tribes operating their own TANF programs have flexibility to use the grant funds in any manner that meets the purposes of the program and in ways that States and Territories were authorized to use funds received under the predecessor Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC), Job Opportunities and Basic Skills Training (JOBS), and Emergency Assistance (EA) programs. States and Territories may also transfer a limited portion of their assistance grant funds to the Child Care and Development Block Grant (CCDBG) and Social Services Block Grant (SSBG) Programs. Not more than 15 percent of any State grant may be spent on administrative costs, exclusive of certain computerization and information technology expenses. Cash grants, work opportunities, and other services are made directly to needy families with children. For Tribal programs, ACF will negotiate a limitation on administrative costs for the first year of the program's operation not to exceed 35 percent, for the second year of the program's operation not to exceed 30 percent, and then for the third and subsequent years of the program's operation not to exceed 25 percent. Grantees may use PEAFF funds only to provide certain non-recurrent, short term (NRST) benefits. For the purposes of PEAFF, NRST benefits mean cash payments or other benefits that meet the regulatory definition (45 CFR 260.31(b)(1)), but are limited to those that fall into the specific expenditure reporting category mentioned in the legislation (line 15 of the ACF-196R, the state financial reporting form for the TANF program).

Applicant Eligibility:

Federally Recognized Indian Tribal Governments; U.S. Territories and possessions; State; Eligible entities include States and Indian Tribes. According to 45 C.F.R. 260.30, State refers to the 50 States of the United States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the United States Virgin Islands, Guam, and American Samoa, unless otherwise specified. Indian Tribe is defined under 25 U.S.C. 5304 per 42 U.S.C. 619(4)(A), and includes the 13 specified entities in Alaska, per 42 U.S.C. 619(4)(B). States and Indian Tribes that operate TANF programs must do so under plans determined to be complete (or for Tribes, approved) by the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS). In accordance with 42 U.S.C. 603(b) for Contingency Funds, all States and the District of Columbia are eligible if they are determined to be a "needy State", as defined under 42 U.S.C. 603(b)(5), by satisfying criteria related to the state's unemployment rate or the average number of participants in the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (or SNAP, formerly known as food stamps). Tribes are not eligible for Contingency Funds. See 45 C.F.R. 264.70(c). Per the American Rescue Plan Act of 2021, eligible grantees for Pandemic Emergency Assistance Funds are: states, the District of Columbia, Tribes operating a Tribal TANF program, and all five U.S. territories.

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. See "Policy Requirements" for more information on applicable subparts of 2 CFR 200 and 45 CFR 75. In accordance with section 402 of the Social Security Act [42 U.S.C. 602], each State must develop a State plan and include the certifications signed by the Executive Officer (Governor). Applicants must consult with local governments and private organizations and provide them 45 days to comment on the plan. The State plan and certifications must be submitted to the Secretary of HHS, and the State must make available to the public a summary of any plan or plan amendment section. Indian Tribes may apply to the Secretary to receive funds and to administer the TANF block grant, as well as submit a 3-year family assistance plan. The Secretary, in consultation with the Indian Tribe, would set program requirements and time-limits for receipt of welfare-related services, consistent with the purposes of the program and economic conditions/resources of each Tribe. Indian Tribes should contact the OFA Regional TANF Program Manager for further Tribal plan submittal procedures. For Contingency Funds, each State must request these funds monthly for each month they meet either the unemployment or SNAP triggers. For Pandemic Emergency Assistance Funds, each eligible state, territory, and tribe must request the funds by the statutory deadline.

Award Procedure:

Once a plan is determined complete, or in the case of an Indian Tribe, the plan is approved, by HHS, Family Assistance Grants are awarded in quarterly payments. Supplemental Grants are also awarded in quarterly payments. Contingency Fund awards will be made monthly. Renewals:

>180 Days. In accordance with section 402 of the Social Security Act [42 U.S.C. 602] states must periodically renew their funding status by submitting their TANF plan. A state must submit a new plan for a fiscal year if the state has not submitted to the Secretary a plan that the Secretary has found to be complete during the 27month period ending with the close of the 1st quarter of the fiscal year. This means that a plan is due every two or three years. The regulations outline the process for tribes to submit renewal plans every three years at 45 CFR 286.65. For Contingency Funds, requests for additional funding must be made monthly.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory Formula: Title IV, Chapter n/a, Part A, Subpart 403, Public Law . Matching requirements are not applicable to this assistance listing. This program has MOE requirements, see funding agency for further details. Additional Information: .

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

States and Indian Tribes are awarded their assistance grants in quarterly payments. They may reserve grant monies, without fiscal year limitation, to provide any allowable benefits and services that are consistent with the purposes of the TANF program. With certain exceptions, per 42 U.S.C. 608(a)(7), most families are limited to no more than 5 years of assistance under the Federal grant. Tribes have the flexibility to establish time limits on receipt of assistance. For Contingency Funds, grant awards are issued monthly to States meeting the eligibility criteria stipulated under 45 C.F.R 264.70. For the Pandemic Emergency Assistance Fund (PEAF), a grantee has from April 1, 2021, to September 30, 2022, to expend its initial allotment of funds. If a grantee has not expended all PEAF funds by that date, HHS will reallocate any unused funds, to other states, territories, and tribes, which must expend them within 12 months of receipt, as specified in the legislation. Method of awarding/releasing assistance: quarterly

Reports:

States, Territories, the District of Columbia, and Tribes operating their own Tribal TANF programs are required to collect and report to the Secretary on a quarterly basis case record information on the families receiving assistance. They are also required to report financial data and work participation rate data. Public Law 112-96 added new reporting requirements, as states must report on the implementation of policies and practices related to restricting recipients from using their TANF assistance in electronic benefit transfer transactions at specified locations and must include in their state plans information on how the state will ensure that recipients have adequate access to their cash assistance. There are required quarterly financial reports. States submit the ACF-196R, Territories submit the ACF-196TR, and Indian Tribes submit the ACF-196T through the On Line Data Collection System (OLDC). Tangible Property - If requesting funds to purchase equipment, the recipient must request prior approval. Audits shall be conducted by the Inspector General under Chapter 75 of Title 31, United States Code. If a State or Territory is found to have used funds from the State Family Assistance Grant in violation of the statute, the Secretary shall reduce the grant payable to them for the immediately succeeding fiscal year by that same amount. For Tribes, the Secretary will have the ability to maintain program funding accountability consistent with generally accepted accounting principles and the requirements of the Single Audit Act of 1984 and 45 CFR Part 75. The Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) adopted the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Guidance in 2 CFR part 200, and has codified the text, with HHS-specific amendments in 45 CFR Part 75. 93.568 Low-Income Home Energy Assistance

LIHEAP,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

ADMINISTRATION FOR CHILDREN AND FAMILIES, HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES, DEPARTMENT OF

AUTHORIZATION:

Energy Policy Act of 2005, , Public Law 109-58, Section 121, Low Income Home Energy Assistance Act of 1981, as amended, , 42 USC Code 8621-30. Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act (CARES), Title , Part , Section , Public Law 116-136, American Rescue Plan (ARP) Act of 2021, Title , ,

Public Law 117-2

OBJECTIVES:

The objective of the Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP) is to make grants available to States, the District of Columbia, US Territories, and Native American Tribes and tribal organizations for the purpose of assisting eligible households to meet the costs of home energy. Supplemental Leveraging Incentive funds may be awarded to reward States that provide additional benefits and services to LIHEAP-eligible households beyond what could be provided with Federal funds. A portion of the leveraging incentive funds may be set aside by HHS for LIHEAP recipients to provide services through local administrating agencies to help LIHEAP-eligible households reduce their energy vulnerability under the Residential Energy Assistance Challenge Program (REACH). Training and Technical Assistance funds are authorized to conduct federal monitoring and provide training and technical assistance to recipients administering the LIHEAP block grant.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Formula Grants, Training

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Energy Assistance Block Grants: Funds are awarded to States, eligible Tribes and Tribal Organizations, and Territories, which then make payments directly to an eligible low-income household or, on behalf of such household, to an energy supplier to assist in meeting the cost of home energy. Up to 10 percent of these funds may be used for planning and administration by state and territories recipients. Tribal organizations have a different administrative earmark. Up to 15 percent may be used for low-cost residential weatherization. Beginning April 1st each year, LIHEAP recipients may request in writing a waiver from HHS for that federal fiscal year to increase the amount of funds that can be allotted by the recipient for residential weatherization up to 25 percent of the total LIHEAP grant for that year. Grantees must reserve a reasonable amount of funding for crisis assistance through at least March 15th each year. Leveraging: Depending upon specific appropriations, HHS may allocate supplemental LIHEAP leveraging incentive funds to current recipients, based upon receipt of a Leveraging Report made available by the Department regarding the extent to which the recipients acquired nonfederal leveraged resources in order to provide additional benefits and services to LIHEAP-eligible households to help them meet their home heating and cooling needs. REACH: Funds may also be allocated by HHS to current LIHEAP recipients, based upon a REACH proposal submitted by the recipient to the Department, when solicited. The proposal must provide services (through community-based nonprofit organizations for state recipients) to LIHEAP-eligible households to reduce their energy vulnerability, including health and safety risks posed by a high home energy burden, preventing homelessness due to home energy, and increasing the efficient usage of home energy. Emergency Contingency: Additional funds may be authorized and distributed as emergency contingency funds to meet needs arising from a natural disaster or other emergency. Such funds will be made available only after submission to Congress of a formal budget request for all or part of the funds by the President that designates the amount of the request as an emergency under the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985. Generally: LIHEAP grants funds of any kind must not be used by the State/recipient, or by any other person with which the State makes arrangements to carry out the purposes of this program, for the purchase or improvement of land, or the purchase, construction, or permanent improvement (other than low-cost residential weatherization or other energy-related home repairs) of any building or other facility. The FY 2020 CARES Act supplemental funding is obligated by grantee to meet the home energy needs the same way they obligate their regular block grant award. Training and Technical Assistance: Under the LIHEAP statute (42 U.S.C. 8628a) the Secretary has authority to set aside up to $300 thousand for technical assistance and training purposes. In FY 2012 Congress raised the amount available to the Secretary for LIHEAP T&TA to $3 million as part of the year's appropriation. Since FY 2014, Congress has earmarked approximately $2,988 million for each fiscal year from each years appropriation for training and technical assistance services and monitoring. These training and technical assistance activities can be accomplished through: grants, contracts, or jointly financed cooperative or interagency agreements with other Federal departments, States, Indian tribes, tribal organizations, public agencies, private companies, and private nonprofit organizations. Funds are used to conduct on-site compliance reviews of LIHEAP grantees and to provide training and technical assistance. The nature and amount awarded for training and technical assistance vary from year to year. Congress did not appropriate T&TA funding within the CARES Act or ARP funding for LIHEAP; therefore, ACF distributed all of the CARES and ARP Act LIHEAP funding directly to recipients.

Applicant Eligibility:

U.S. Territories and possessions; Federally Recognized Indian Tribal Governments; State; Local (includes State-designated Indian Tribes, excludes institutions of higher education and hospitals; Energy Assistance Block Grants, REACH Grants, Leveraging Grants: All States, the District of Columbia, federally-and State-recognized Indian Tribal governments and tribal organization which request direct funding, Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, Guam, American Samoa, the U.S. Virgin Islands, and the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands may receive direct grants. The territories may choose to apply for funding through a consolidated Social Services Block Grant Plan. Training and Technical Assistance Grant, Contracts, Cooperative Agreements, or Interagency Agreements: States, Indian tribes or tribal organizations, Territories, public agencies, private nonprofit organizations and other private entities may apply. CARES Act Grants: Only LIHEAP grantees active in FY 2020 received CARES Act LIHEAP grants without need for a separate application to ACF. There were 13 tribal grantees that did not receive CARES Act LIHEAP funding because ACF had already awarded the maximum permitted for FY 2020 to those tribes based on the pre-negotiated fixed award amounts that were greater than the minimum annual amount they were entitled to under the federal LIHEAP statute. ARP Act Grants: Only LIHEAP grantees active in FY 2021 received ARP Act LIHEAP grants without need for a separate application to ACF. There were 10 tribal grantees that did not receive ARP Act LIHEAP funding because ACF had already awarded the maximum permitted for FY 2021 to those tribes based on the pre-negotiated fixed award amounts that were greater than the minimum annual amount they were entitled to under the federal LIHEAP statute.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Low Income; Energy Assistance Block Grants: Households with incomes up to the greater of 150 percent of the federal poverty guidelines (FPG) or 60 percent of the estimated State median income (SMI) are eligible for benefits. Grantees may establish lower income eligibility levels, but they may not set the limit below 110 percent of FPG. Training and Technical Assistance Grants/Contracts: States, the District of Columbia, Indian tribes or tribal organizations, and Territories managing LIHEAP programs are the intended beneficiaries of the technical assistance services.

Credentials/Documentation:

Energy Assistance Block Grants: The chief executive officer of the State, Tribe or Territory or his/her designee, must certify to 16 assurances required by federal law and submit documentation of the public participation the grantee obtained on its Plan for the coming year. Households must meet beneficiary eligibility requirements set by grantees. This program is excluded from coverage under 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is required. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372. All prospective LIHEAP recipients must obtain public participation (inspection and comment) on their proposed LIHEAP Plans prior to submitting their Plans to ACF as their funding request. Additionally, States must conduct public hearings with respect to the proposed use and distribution of funds to be provided. Tribal recipients are not required to conduct public hearings, however meaningful public input is required.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. Some sections of 2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program (see also 45 CFR Part 75). Each State/Territory/Tribe desiring to receive an allotment for any federal fiscal year shall submit an application (LIHEAP Plan) via the ACF OLDC system no later than September 1st each year (unless otherwise directed by ACF). The prospective recipient's Plan must contain certification of the federal LIHEAP assurances by the chief executive officer of the State (Tribal Chief/Chairperson), or his/her designee. The Plans must include an explanation of how the entity sought public participation on the Plan and to what extent their Plan (and policies) changed as a result of the public comments received.

Award Procedure:

Energy Assistance Block Grants: Grants are made upon receipt of a complete application (plan) by the Administration for Children and Families, Office of Community Services, Headquarters Office via the OLDC system. Leveraging Incentive Funds can be awarded based on applications submitted by recipients when sought by ACF. Instructions will be issued if emergency contingency funds are released. REACH Grants: Each proposal/application will be screened to determine whether it meets any of the disqualifying factors: missing the application deadline, required electronic submission or waiver requested and approved, or exceeding the Award Ceiling. Disqualified applications are considered to be "non-responsive" and are excluded from the competitive review process. Applications competing for financial assistance will be reviewed and evaluated by objective review panels using only the criteria described in the NOFO. Each panel is composed of experts with knowledge and experience in the area under review. Generally, review panels include three reviewers and one chairperson. Results of the competitive objective review are taken into consideration by ACF in the selection of projects for funding; however, objective review scores and rankings are not binding. Scores and rankings are only one element used in the award decision-making process. ACF reserves the right to evaluate applications in the larger context of the overall portfolio by considering geographic distribution of federal funds (e.g. ensuring coverage of states, counties, or service areas) in its pre-award decisions. ACF will complete a review of risk posed by applicants as described in 45 CFR 75.205. ACF may elect not to fund applicants with management of financial problems that would indicate an inability to successfully complete the proposed project. Applications may be funded in whole or in part. Successful applicants may be funded at an amount lower than requested.

Deadlines:

Energy Assistance Block Grants: States and Territories must submit their applications by September 1, prior to the federal fiscal year for which funds are sought, unless the Department agrees to a later date in form of approved extension. The Department will only award new funding after it has reviewed and accepted complete plans from prospective recipients. Recipients that submit incomplete plans must address the deficiencies, no later than December 15, of the fiscal year for which funds are sought, unless the Department (in the case of States and Territories) or the State (in the case of tribal recipients) agrees to a later date on form of approved extension. Leveraging incentive fund reports are due by November 30 of each year, if funding is available. REACH applications are due by March 30 of each year, if funding is available. No application was needed to receive CARES Act or ARP Act LIHEAP funding.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

Other. Energy Assistance Block Grants: The Department reviews plans for completeness and will act on the plans submitted as quickly as possible. Leveraging Incentive and REACH applications will be reviewed and acted upon within deadlines. Training and Technical Assistance: Range of time varies, depending upon the nature and complexity of a request for proposals and as established by the Department. Energy Assistance Block Grants: Annual applications are required. Separated annual applications are also required for Leveraging Incentive Funds and REACH funds. Instructions will be issued if emergency contingency funds are released.

Appeals:

Other. Energy Assistance Block Grants: Recipients may request a hearing regarding repayment of funds or withholding of funds under Section 2608 of the authorization and 45 CFR 96.52. Training and Technical Assistance: There is no appeal for unsuccessful applicants. For existing recipients, appeals in regards to disputes may take place in accordance with 45 CFR Part 16, subject to the limitations of the Appendix A.

The block grant approach gives the States flexibility to tailor their programs to the particular services needs in their communities. States are required to use at least 90 percent of their allocations for grants to "eligible entities" as defined in the Community Services Block Grant (CSBG) Act, as amended; this includes primarily locally-based community action agencies and/or organizations that serve seasonal or migrant farm workers. No more than the greater of $55,000 or 5 percent of each State's allocation may be used for administrative expenses at the State level. Funds may not be used for the purchase or improvement of land, or the purchase, construction, or permanent improvement (other than low-cost residential weatherization or other energy-related home repairs) of any building or other facility unless a waiver is approved by the Secretary. For discretionary grants for T/TA: funds may be used in accordance with the objectives outlined in each Notice of Funding Opportunity (NOFO) and the terms and conditions of the CSBG and CSBG CARES award. CSBG CARES is to be used to prevent, prepare for, and respond to the coronavirus.

Applicant Eligibility:

Federally Recognized Indian Tribal Governments; State; U.S. Territories and possessions; The Secretary is authorized to make CSBG grants to States. This includes each of the 50 States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, Guam, the Virgin Islands, American Samoa, and the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands. The Secretary also provides assistance directly to the governing body of an Indian Tribe or Tribal organization upon application by the tribe. Only State-recognized tribes, as evidenced by a statement to that effect by the Governor, or tribes formally recognized by the Secretary of the Interior, under the procedure for such recognition in 25 CFR 54, are eligible to receive direct grants. In order for a private nonprofit or public organization to be considered an eligible entity, they must administer the Community Services Block Grant program through a tripartite board as described in 42 USC 9910 that fully participates in the development, planning, implementation, and evaluation of the program to serve low-income communities. Faith-based and community organizations that meet the eligibility requirements are eligible to receive awards. For the discretionary technical assistance and training (T/TA) grants: Eligible entities include CSBG eligible entities, or statewide or local organizations or associations, with demonstrated expertise in providing training to individuals and organizations on methods of effectively addressing the needs of low-income families and communities. Applications from individuals (including sole proprietorships) and foreign entities are not eligible. Faith-based and community organizations that meet the eligibility requirements are eligible to receive awards. For CSBG CARES Act awards, funding is generally anticipated to be made available through supplements to current recipients.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Individual/Family; Senior Citizen (60+); Unemployed; Low Income; Public nonprofit institution/organization; States make grants to qualified locally-based nonprofit community antipoverty agencies and other eligible entities which provide services to low-income individuals and families. The official poverty line, as established by the Secretary of Health and Human Services, is used as a criterion of eligibility in the Community Services Block Grant program. When a State determines that it serves the objectives of the block grant, it may revise the income limit, not to exceed a certain percentage of the official poverty line. Historically, the percentage has been set at 125%. However, appropriations made under the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act (the CARES Act) allows states to revise the percentage to 200% of the official poverty line.

ASSISTANCE LISTINGS DESCRIPTIONS

Award Procedure:

HHS determines the amount of funds to be allocated as block grants to each State in accordance with the formula set forth in the Community Services Block Grant Act. The Office of Management and Budget (OMB) has the authority to apportion to the HHS through the course of a year the Congressional appropriation for block grants. Consistent with OMB's apportionment of funds, HHS will assign allotments to the States through individual awards or a series of awards, normally on a quarterly basis. For discretionary grants: Each application will be screened to determine whether it meets any of the disqualifying factors; missing the application deadline, required electronic submission or waiver requested and approved, or exceeding the Award Ceiling. Disqualified applications are considered to be "non-responsive" and are excluded from the competitive review process. Applications competing for financial assistance will be reviewed and evaluated by objective review panels using only the criteria described in the NOFO. Each panel is composed of experts with knowledge and experience in the area under review. Generally, review panels include three reviewers and one chairperson. Results of the competitive objective review are taken into consideration by ACF in the selection of projects for funding; however, objective review scores and rankings are not binding. Scores and rankings are only one element used in the award decision-making process. ACF reserves the right to evaluate applications in the larger context of the overall portfolio by considering geographic distribution of federal funds (e.g. ensuring coverage of states, counties, or service areas) in its pre-award decisions. ACF will complete a review of risk posed by applicants as described in 45 CFR 75.205. ACF may elect not to fund applicants with management or financial problems that would indicate an inability to successfully complete the proposed project. Applications may be funded in whole or in part. Successful applicants may be funded at an amount lower than requested.

As a block grant, CCDF gives funding to States, Territories, and Tribes to provide child care subsidies primarily through vouchers or certificates to low-income families. In addition, CCDF funds are used to improve the quality of child care for both subsidized and unsubsidized children. CCDF consists of both Discretionary funding authorized by the Child Care and Development Block Grant (CCDBG) Act and Mandatory and Matching funding under the Social Security Act. The CCDBG was created by the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1990 (P.L. 101-508) and is subject to annual appropriations. The Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act (PRWORA) of 1996 (P.L. 104-193) consolidated funding for child care under the Social Security Act, where CCDF mandatory and matching funding is authorized, and made such funding generally subject to the requirements of the CCDBG Act.

The Child Care and Development Block Grant Act of 2014 (P.L. 113-186) reauthorized the discretionary portion of CCDF through FY 2020 and made significant changes to improve the health, safety, and quality of child care and provide more continuous child care assistance to low-income children and families. In addition to the block grants to States, Territories and Tribes, a small portion of the CCDF is used by the Office of Child Care to provide technical assistance to grantees on administering the program. A small portion of CCDF is also used for child care research, demonstration and evaluation activities. The Discretionary portion of the CCDF funds provides about $5.9 billion in federal funding per year for child care. Additional funding is provided by state matching and maintenance of effort funds, as well as funds transferred from the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) program. Further, the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act (CARES Act) (P. L. 116-136) was enacted March 27, 2020 and appropriated an additional $3.5 billion in supplemental CCDF Discretionary funds to prevent, prepare for, and respond to the Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19). The Coronavirus Response and Relief Supplemental Appropriations (CRRSA) Act (P. L. 116-260) was enacted December 27, 2020 and appropriated $10 billion in supplemental CCDF Discretionary funds to prevent, prepare for, and respond to coronavirus. The American Rescue Plan (ARP) Act of 2021 (P. L. 117-2) was enacted March 11, 2021 and appropriated $38,965,000,000 through two funding streams in supplemental CCDF Discretionary funds and include: $14,990,000,000 (Section 2201) for CCDF Supplemental Discretionary Funds, available until September 30, 2024; and $23,975,000,000 (Section 2202) for child care stabilization grants available until September 30, 2023. Requirements for competitive grants including research grants vary and can be found in the Notice of Funding Opportunities (NOFOs). There was an increase in mandatory and matching funding for CCDF, which is a permanent annual appropriation and is detailed in CFDA 93.596.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Formula Grants, Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

In the FY 2020 Further Consolidated Appropriations Act (P.L. 116-94), Congress directs that funds appropriated for the Child Care and Development Block Grant (CCDBG or Discretionary Funds) must be used to supplement, not supplant, State general revenue funds for child care assistance for low-income families. Lead Agencies must use Discretionary Funds for child care services on a sliding fee scale basis and for quality improvement activities. In addition to the block grants awarded to States, Territories and Tribes, a portion of the Discretionary Funds is designated for the U.S. Department of Health & Human Services to carry-out research, demonstration, and evaluation projects, and provide technical assistance through the use of contracts, grants, cooperative agreements, or interagency agreements. Not more than 5% of the aggregate amount of CCDF Funds expended by the State (15% for Tribes or tribal organizations) may be expended for administrative costs incurred by the State to carry-out all of its functions and duties. The term "administrative costs" does not include the costs of providing direct services.

Applicant Eligibility:

Federally Recognized Indian Tribal Governments; U.S. Territories and possessions; State; Eligibility: All 50 States, the District of Columbia, the Virgin Islands, Puerto Rico, Guam, American Samoa, the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands, and Federally recognized Tribal Governments and consortia. Eligibility for TA and Research projects can be found in the Notices of Funding Opportunities (NOFOs) or other solicitations.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Individual/Family; Low Income; Children under age 13 (or, at the option of the Lead Agency, up to age 19, if physically or mentally incapable of self-care or under court supervision), who (1) reside with a family whose income does not exceed 85% of the State median income for a family of the same size, and (2) who reside with a parent (or parents) who is working or attending job training or educational program, or who are in need of, or are receiving, protective services are eligible. A Lead Agency shall re-determine a child's eligibility for child care services no sooner than 12 months following the initial determination or most recent re-determination. Once determined eligible, children are expected to receive a minimum of 12 months of child care services, unless family income rises above 85% State median income or, at Lead Agency option, the family experiences a non-temporary cessation of work, education, or training.

ASSISTANCE LISTINGS DESCRIPTIONS

Credentials/Documentation:

Lead Agencies must operate under a CCDF plan approved by the Administration for Children and Families, and must provide assurances that the recipient will comply with the requirements of the CCDBG Act and all applicable Federal law(s). This program is excluded from coverage under 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is required. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372. Each recipient must designate a Lead Agency to which grants are awarded and that is accountable for the use of the Discretionary Funds provided, the duties of which shall include developing a CCDF plan. In conjunction with the development of the CCDF plan, the Lead Agency must hold at least one public hearing no earlier than nine months before the CCDF plan becomes effective and after at least 20 days of statewide public notice, to provide the public an opportunity to comment on the provision of child care services under the plan. In advance of the hearing, the Lead Agency must make the content of the plan available to the public. The Lead Agency must also coordinate the provision of services under the program with other Federal, State, and local child care and early childhood development programs. Also, the Lead Agency must consult with appropriate representatives of local governments. Tribal Lead Agencies submitting applications for construction must submit an environmental impact assessment. See most recent guidance regarding submission of state plans on OCCs website at <https://www.acf.hhs.gov/occ>.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. A State, Territory, or Tribal Lead Agency desiring to receive a block grant allotment for a fiscal year is required to submit a three-year CCDF plan to the Administration for Children and Families, as well as, financial and other information necessary for the grants process. Each CCDF plan must contain certifications and assurances by the Lead Agency that it will comply with the requirements of the CCDBG Act. The plan must also include: the designation of a Lead Agency; the provision of assurances regarding policies and procedures as stated in Section 658E(c)(2) of the CCDBG; an outline of the intended use of block grant funds in compliance with Section 658E(c)(3) of the CCDBG; the provision of certification regarding payment rates as stated in Section 658E(c)(4) of the CCDBG; and the establishment of a sliding fee scale. Additional requirements are specified by 45 CFR Parts 98 and 99. TA and research projects may be funded through grants, cooperative agreements, or contracts. For projects funded through discretionary grants, applicants may find NOFOs on <https://www.grants.gov> or on the ACF website at <https://ami.grantsolutions.gov/>. Applicants may apply on <https://grants.gov>.

Award Procedure:

Block grants to States, Territories and Tribes are awarded after the receipt and approval of the CCDF plan by the Administration for Children and Families. TA and research projects may be funded through grants, cooperative agreements, or contracts. For projects funded through discretionary grants, each application will be screened to determine whether it meets any of the disqualifying factors: missing the application deadline, required electronic submission or waiver requested and approved, or exceeding the Award Ceiling. Disqualified applications are considered to be non-responsive and are excluded from the competitive review process. Applications competing for financial assistance will be reviewed and evaluated by objective review panels using only the criteria described in the NOFO. Each panel is composed of experts with knowledge and experience in the area under review. Generally, review panels include three reviewers and one chairperson. Results of the competitive objective review are taken into consideration by ACF in the selection of projects for funding; however, objective review scores and rankings are not binding. Scores and rankings are only one element used in the award decision-making process. ACF reserves the right to evaluate applications in the larger context of the overall portfolio by considering geographic distribution of federal funds (e.g. ensuring coverage of states, counties, or service areas) in its pre-award decisions. ACF will complete a review of risk posed by applicants as described in 45 CFR 75.205. ACF may elect not to fund applicants with management or financial problems that would indicate an inability to successfully complete the proposed project. Applications may be funded in whole or in part. Successful applicants may be funded at an amount lower than requested.

93.576 Refugee and Entrant Assistance Discretionary Grants

FEDERAL AGENCY:

ADMINISTRATION FOR CHILDREN AND FAMILIES, HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES, DEPARTMENT OF

AUTHORIZATION:

Refugee Education Assistance Act of 1980, Title , , Statue 94-1809, Public Law 96-422, Refugee Act of 1980, Title VIII, Section 412, Statue 94-111, Public Law 96-212, Chapter 12, 8 USC Code 1522.

OBJECTIVES:

The Office of Refugee Resettlement (ORR) within the Administration for Children and Families (ACF) is funding eight programs under this listing: Refugee Individual Development Accounts (IDA), Refugee Agricultural Partnership Program (RAPP), Refugee Family Child Care Microenterprise Development Program (RFCCMED), Refugee Career Pathways (RCP) Program, Refugee Microenterprise Development (MED) Program, Preferred Communities (PC) Program, Ethnic Community Self Help (ECSH) Program, and the Refugee Technical Assistance Program (RTAP). The objectives of these discretionary grant programs include: (1) building capacity for the placement of refugees in locations with good opportunities and providing specialized case management for vulnerable cases; (2) assisting low-income refugees with matching funds for individual development accounts and with financial literacy classes; (3) providing micro-credit to refugees interested in starting new businesses but unable to access commercial sources of capital; (4) providing agricultural training and opportunities to improve the local food systems for refugee farmers; (5) promoting integration; (6) assisting refugees to achieve career advancement; (7) assisting refugees to open family based child care businesses; and (8) providing technical assistance to the refugee service providers; (9) providing employer based educational and language acquisition opportunities. Through the Refugee IDA Program recipients manage IDAs for low-income refugee participants. Eligible refugee participants who enroll in these projects will open and contribute systematically to IDAs for specified Asset Goals, including home ownership, business capitalization, vehicles for educational or work purposes, professional certification, and education (limited to postsecondary education, college entrance exam fees, and preparation and test fees for the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) and General Education Development (GED) exam). Recipients coordinate their policies and procedures for developing and administering refugee IDA projects with ORR and with the existing refugee IDA network. The RAPP recipients develop strategies that incorporate agriculture and food systems to improve the livelihoods and economic self-sufficiency of refugee families, with particular emphasis on newly arrived refugees. RAPP requirements are to provide: 1) access to land; 2) farming production; 3) training and technical assistance (TA); and 4) coordination with the refugee resettlement community. The RFCCMED Program enables recipients to help refugees to achieve self-sufficiency by establishing small family child care businesses. The program provides refugee participants with training and TA in professional child care, microenterprise development, and financial literacy; assists refugee participants in navigating the child care licensing process; and provides direct financial assistance as needed to enable participants to prepare their homes for child care business operation. Through the RCP Program, ORR provides funding to enable refugees to obtain self-sufficiency by obtaining the means to secure professional or skilled employment drawing upon previously-acquired knowledge, skills, and experience. The overall goal of the Refugee MED Program is to assist refugees to become economically self-sufficient by 1) assisting refugees to establish microenterprise businesses through the provision of MED loans, Training and TA, and 2) assisting refugees in building credit history and/or repairing their credit score. The goal of the ECSH Program is to support Ethnic Community-Based Organizations (ECBOs) in providing refugee populations with critical services to assist them in becoming integrated members of American society. An ECBO as a non-profit organization whose board of directors is comprised of at least 60 percent current and/or former refugees. Under the ECSH Program, the following three main objectives must be implemented: 1) to strengthen ECBOs provision of culturally and linguistically appropriate services to refugees within five years after their initial resettlement; 2) to support ECBOs' organizational development and engagement in capacity building by encouraging their collaboration with established refugee service providers and mainstream organizations; and 3) to support ECBOs in promoting community building and civic participation by refugee individuals and refugee community members. The PC Program supports the resettlement of especially vulnerable refugee groups at resettlement sites that PC service providers designate as Preferred Communities. The term refers to locations that offer excellent opportunities for the integration and resettlement of the most vulnerable newly and recently arrived refugees. The twin goals of the PC Program are: the successful resettlement and integration of especially vulnerable refugees (and other ORR client populations); and the enhancement of PC service providers capacity to serve such populations at new or established PC locations. The RTAP creates a national one-stop source or hub for refugee TA and training. This national hub provides coordinated, innovative TA and training to ORR-funded state refugee programs and ORR funded refugee service providers, filling gaps where no other such TA and training exists. The goal of the Employer Engagement Program (EEP) will be to develop relationships with employers to provide ESL and on-the-job learning opportunities for refugees. Funding may be used to support contracts for language instruction, career counseling, employer engagement/education, and other instructional material; and to offset costs of such programming for the employer.

EXAMPLES OF FUNDED PROJECTS:

2020 The Lower Elwha Klallam Tribe will launch a multi-tribal initiative to monitor and conserve the Olympic Peninsula's diverse wildlife. Currently, tribes in the Olympic Peninsula have limited capacity to protect wildlife species and their habitats. Using wildlife cameras, project staff will take 76,000 photos of various species, allowing staff to make informed population estimates. Among these species will be cougars, who are a culturally significant animal to all tribes involved. This will lead to a more comprehensive understanding of current animal populations and migrating patterns. Ultimately, this project will allow the tribe and partnering tribal communities to provide long-term stewardship over culturally important species and resources. In Alaska, the Chugach Regional Resources Commission will develop a tribally led Harmful Algal Blooms (HABs) monitoring program in Southcentral Alaska that provides accurate, informative data for community subsistence harvesters in order to reduce the risk of Paralytic Shellfish Poisoning (PSP) illnesses. Currently, the Paralytic Shellfish Poisoning (PSP) and other marine bio toxin illnesses are on the rise in Southcentral Alaska, due in part, to climate change. The project will specifically collect and analyze 46 phytoplankton samples and 26 shellfish samples so that the 7500 tribal citizens in Tatitlek Village IRA Council, Native Village of Eyak, Port Graham Village Council, Nanwalek IRA Council, Chenega Bay IRA Council, Qutekcaak Native Tribe, and the Valdez Native Tribe can access the SEATOR database. Ultimately, this project will aim to build a regional HAB monitoring program that allows Tribes to test local shellfish samples, leading to effective subsistence shellfish management plans that provide accurate advisory notices to community members regarding high levels of paralytic shellfish toxins (PSTs).

CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:

The criteria for selecting proposals will be published in the NOFO. In general, proposals are judged on the basis of relevance to program objectives as stated in the NOFO, project viability, community support, reasonable cost estimates, and qualifications of applicant organization and personnel.

93.586 State Court Improvement Program

State and Tribal Court Improvement Programs,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

ADMINISTRATION FOR CHILDREN AND FAMILIES, HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES, DEPARTMENT OF

AUTHORIZATION:

Social Security Act, Title IV-B, Part 2, Section 438

OBJECTIVES:

This program provides grant opportunities to state and tribal courts to improve the quality of court processes and legal representation. Before FY 2022, the program provided three grants: a basic grant for assessment work; a grant for data collection and analysis; and a grant to increase training of court personnel, including cross training with agency staff. These were consolidated into one grant with the Consolidated Appropriations Act of 2021, but retain the prior program purposes. The program provides courts flexibility to design assessments which identify barriers to timely and effective decision-making, highlight practices which are not fully successful, examine areas they find to be in need of correction or added attention, and then implement reforms which address specific needs. State courts are required to collaborate with the state child welfare agency and tribes in this work. The program also provides $1,000,000 annually for tribal court recipients.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Formula Grants, Project Grants (Discretionary)

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Grants under the State Court Improvement Program may be used for assessment and improvement activities, broadly defined, of the child welfare functions of a court system to promote continuous quality improvement with respect to: due process; timeliness and quality of court hearings; quality legal representation; engagement of the entire family in court processes; improved case tracking and analysis of child welfare cases; data collection, analysis and sharing; and training of legal and judicial personnel in child welfare cases, including cross-training with child welfare agency staff and contractors.

Applicant Eligibility:

Tribal courts or tribal governments of federally recognized Tribes may apply for grants. To be eligible, a tribe must be operating an approved title IV-E program in accordance with section 479B of the Act; or plan to operate a title IV-E program and have received a title IV-E plan development grant, as authorized by section 476 of the Act; or have a court responsible for proceedings related to foster care or adoption (section 438(c)(3)(A)(iv) of the Act).

Native American Language Preservation and Maintenance (P&M) and the Esther Martinez Immersion (EMI),

FEDERAL AGENCY:

ADMINISTRATION FOR CHILDREN AND FAMILIES, HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES, DEPARTMENT OF

AUTHORIZATION:

Native Americans Programs Act (NAPA) of 1974, as amended, Title , Part , Section 803C(a) and (b)(7), 42 USC Code 2991b-3. The American Rescue Plan Act (ARP) authorized Section 816 of the Native Americans Programs Act (NAPA) of 1974 (42 USC 2992d) to amend Section 803C of NAPA(42 USC 2991b-3) to create (g) Emergency Grants for Native American Language Preservation and Maintenance to award grants to entities eligible to receive assistance under subsection (a) (1) to ensure the survival and continuing vitality of Native American languages during and after the public health emergency declared by the Secretary with respect to the COVID-19 pandemic., Title , Section

OBJECTIVES:

The Administration for Native Americans (ANA) offers Native Language programs to promote and ensure the survival and continuing vitality of Native American languages for American Indians, Alaska Natives, Native Hawaiians, and Native American Pacific Islanders from American Samoa, Guam, and the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands (CNMI). The Native American Language Preservation and Maintenance (P&M) Grants are 12, 24 or 36-month projects that enable communities to conduct a broad range of projects including teacher credentialing, language instruction, language resource developments, language assessments, and other projects that support the communities long-term language preservation goals. The Esther Martinez Immersion (EMI) Grants are 36, 48, or 60-month projects that will be awarded to applicants that meet the statutory requirements for immersion projects with language nests or language survival schools in accordance with 42 USC 2991b-3(c)(7). ANA supports locally determined projects that achieve community goals through specific, measurable outcomes. In an effort to perpetuate language preservation efforts for Native communities, if appropriate, all ANA funded language projects should identify opportunities for the replication or modification of such project for use by other Native Americans; and include a plan for the preservation of the products of the Native American language project for the benefit of future generations of Native Americans and other interested persons. The American Rescue Plan Act (ARP) makes emergency awards available to ensure the survival and continuing vitality of Native American languages during and after the public health emergency with respect to the COVID-19 pandemic. Native languages and cultures are at a critical point in their existence due to the number of Elders and language speakers that have died as a result of the COVID-19 virus. This emergency funding is intended to support as many tribal and Native communities as possible in their efforts to maintain and preserve Native languages. The ARP Grants are 12, 24, or 36-month projects. The proposed emergency language projects should identify one or two of the following domains that will be the focus of the project: Resources and Documentation; Instruction; Technology and Infrastructure; Planning; Elder or intergenerational engagement.

Tribal Governments to Regulate Environmental Quality;

EXAMPLES OF FUNDED PROJECTS:

2020 For Native American Language Preservation and Maintenance, the Southern Ute Indian Tribe in partnership with the Ute Mountain Ute Tribes, will increase Ute language usage and fluency among the community through inter-generational language preservation and education. The Ute language is currently not spoken in familial settings nor at tribal gatherings. Compounding this, there are only 32 elder speakers left in the community who are fluent in the language. To address the decline in language use, this project will establish the Southwest Indigenous Language Development Institute (SILDI) certification program in tandem with Fort Lewis College and elder speakers. SILDI will provide fluency and linguistic pedagogical training to a cohort of 15 teachers. This cohort will also develop an online audio-visual dictionary of the Ute language and develop a Ute textbook that will expand their capacity, skill, and opportunities for language immersion instruction. The project will ultimately bring older and younger tribal citizens together so that the Ute language can regain its rightful place in the lives, hearts, and minds of Utes now and into the future. Under the Esther Martinez Immersion program, the Oneida Nation of Wisconsin aims to expand the capacity of language immersion programming for the Tehatiwanakha Language Nest (TLN) by increasing student proficiency of the Oneida language, increasing instructional hours and number of staff, and increasing cultural connectedness by parents and families of students enrolled in the program. At the end of the five-year project, language nest students, ages 3 -8 years old, will increase their proficiency of the Oneida language by three steps as measured by the Oneida Language Proficiency scale. Language nest instructional staff will increase their abilities in Oneida pedagogy by three steps as measured by the CREDE-ECE standards for effective Indigenous pedagogy. Language instruction will be offered to parents through online learning to help foster language acquisition in the home and community. Parents of students will increase overall well-being through bimonthly engagement in language nest activity by two levels as measured by the cultural connectedness scale (CCS). Presently, only 2 fluent speakers remain and are between 55 and 65 years of age. By focusing on students, parents, and teachers learning the language, this project will reinvestigate the Oneida language into the future.

CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:

The criteria for selecting proposals will be published in the NOFOs. In general, proposals are evaluated on the basis of relevance to program objectives as stated in the NOFO, project viability, community support, reasonable cost estimates, and qualifications of applicant organization and personnel. For ARP in general, proposals are evaluated to ensure projects align with one of the 5 domains that will preserve and protect the vitality of the applicants native language during and after the COVID-19 pandemic, and document the status of their living language.

Disqualified applications are considered to be non-responsive and are excluded from the competitive review process. Applications competing for financial assistance will be reviewed and evaluated by objective review panels using only the criteria described in FOIA. Each panel is composed of experts with knowledge and experience in the area under review. Generally, review panels include three reviewers and one chairperson. Results of the competitive objective review are taken into consideration by ACF in the selection of projects for funding; however, objective review scores and rankings are not binding. Scores and rankings are only one element used in the award decision-making process. ACF reserves the right to evaluate applications in the larger context of the overall portfolio by considering geographic distribution of federal funds (e.g. ensuring coverage of states, counties, or service areas) in its pre-award decisions. ACF will complete a review of risk posed by applicants as described in 45 CFR 75.205. ACF may elect not to fund applicants with management or financial problems that would indicate an inability to successfully complete the proposed project. Applications may be funded in whole or in part. Successful applicants may be funded at an amount lower than requested.

ACF reserves the right to evaluate applications in the larger context of the overall portfolio by considering geographic distribution of federal funds (e.g. ensuring coverage of states, counties, or service areas) in its pre-award decisions. ACF will complete a review of risk posed by applicants as described in 45 CFR 75.205. ACF may elect not to fund applicants with management or financial problems that would indicate an inability to successfully complete the proposed project. 93.596 Child Care Mandatory and Matching Funds of the Child Care and Development Fund

Child Care and Development Fund (CCDF),

FEDERAL AGENCY:

ADMINISTRATION FOR CHILDREN AND FAMILIES, HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES, DEPARTMENT OF

AUTHORIZATION:

Social Security Act, as amended, Title IV, Section 418, 42 USC Code 618. Child Care and Development Block Grant Act of 1990, as amended (42 USC 9857, et seq), , Public Law -

OBJECTIVES:

The Mandatory and Matching portion (or Child Care Entitlement or CCE) of the Child Care and Development Fund (CCDF) program consists of Mandatory funds (which are 100% federal) and Matching funds (which require a State match and maintenance of effort). The Mandatory and Matching funds are made available in section 418 of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 618) and are not subject to annual appropriations. Allocations of the Mandatory Funds are based on a State's Federal share of the expenditures for the now-repealed AFDC-linked child care programs (AFDC/JOB Child Care, Transitional Child Care, and At-Risk Child Care) in 1994 or 1995, or the average of 1992 through 1994, whichever was greater. A State is not required to expend any State funds in order to receive its share of the Mandatory Funds. Previously, the Mandatory and Matching funds provided about $2.9 billion in federal funding per year for child care. The American Rescue Plan (ARP) Act of 2021 (P. L. 117-2) was enacted March 11, 2021 and appropriated

ASSISTANCE LISTINGS DESCRIPTIONS

$3,550,000,000 (Section 9801) in mandatory and matching funding for CCDF, which is a permanent annual appropriation effective fiscal year 2021. The appropriation includes $3.375 billion to States, $75 million to Territories (previously not eligible), and $100 million to Tribes. To access Matching Funds, a State must obligate all of its Mandatory Funds allotted in a fiscal year and maintain 100% of the State's share of expenditures for the former programs in fiscal year 1994 or fiscal year 1995, whichever is greater (i.e., maintenance of effort). Matching Funds must be matched at the applicable Federal Medical Assistance Percentage (FMAP) rate, which is the Medicaid Program matching rate. The Matching Funds are distributed based on the number of children under age 13 in a State compared with the national total of children under age 13. Section 9801 of the ARP Act of 2021 (P. L. 117-2) appropriated $3.375 billion in CCDF Mandatory and Matching funds to States. Because the state Mandatory fund amount remains fixed in law, the $512,250,000 increase appropriated to states by the ARP Act are awarded in Matching funds. Matching funds are available to states if three conditions are met by the end of the fiscal year in which the funds are awarded: (1) all Mandatory funds are obligated; (2) the states Maintenance-of-Effort funds are expended; and (3) the state provides its share of Matching funds at the FMAP rate. However, states are not required to match the additional funds awarded in section 9801 of the ARP Act in FY 2021 or FY 2022. Section 9801 of the ARP Act appropriated CCDF Mandatory funds to territories for the first time, including American Samoa, Guam, Puerto Rico, the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands, and the Virgin Islands of the United States. Mandatory funds to territories are allotted based on the number of children under age five living in territories and per capita income in the territories. Territory Mandatory funds are not subject to any matching requirements. Territory Mandatory funds must be obligated in the fiscal year that they are awarded and liquidated in the following year. Not less than 1%, but not more than 2% of the total Mandatory and Matching Funds are reserved for Tribes and tribal organizations based on the number of children living on or near Tribal reservations or other appropriate area served by the tribal recipient. Tribes and tribal organizations are not required to provide matching funds. Prior to the ARP Act, Tribal lead agencies received a proportion of the child care funds appropriated under Section 418 of the Social Security Act. Section 9801 of the ARP Act of 2021 (P. L. 117-2) amended the Social Security Act to explicitly appropriate $100 million in Mandatory funds to Tribal lead agencies. This increases the initial FY 2021 Mandatory funds awarded to Tribal lead agencies by 70 percent. Otherwise, the requirements for Tribal Mandatory funds remain the same. Mandatory funds to Tribes are allocated based on the number of children under the age of 13 in a Tribes service area.

Trafficking Victim Assistance Program (TVAP), and the National Human Trafficking Hotline (NHTH),

AUTHORIZATION:

22 U.S.C. 7105(b)(1)(B) (Section 107(b) of the Trafficking Victims Protection Act of 2000, as amended by Section 4(a)(2)(B)(ii) of the Trafficking Victims Protection Act of 2003; and Section 603 of the Justice for Victims of Trafficking Act of 2015); 22 U.S.C. 7104(b) (Section 106(b) of the Trafficking Victims Protection Act of 2000).

OBJECTIVES:

Under the Services to Victims of a Severe Form of Trafficking, the Office on Trafficking in Persons (OTIP) has established the Trafficking Victim Assistance Program (TVAP) and the National Human Trafficking Hotline (NHTH) to build health and human service capacity to respond to human trafficking. The primary purpose of TVAP is to efficiently fund time-limited comprehensive case management services on a per capita basis to foreign national victims of a severe form of trafficking in persons and potential victims of trafficking seeking the U.S. Department of Health and Human Service (HHS) certification so they can reestablish their ability to live independently. Each TVAP Notice of Funding Opportunity (NOFO) was divided into ACF regions, specifically regions 14, regions 58, and regions 910. The NHTH provides 24/7, yearlong, timely, person-centered, trauma-informed, culturally responsive, and linguistically appropriate emergency assistance and information to potential domestic and foreign victims of sex and labor trafficking. Under the NHTH, the following activities are required: operate the NHTH, a 24/7 U.S. national hotline that receives signals through telephone, text, chat, and website; promote NHTH services to increase the identification and protection of victims of severe forms of human trafficking; provide information and service referrals to victims of trafficking using a trauma-informed, person-centered, culturally responsive, and linguistically appropriate approach, and in a timely manner; and notify law enforcement agencies of potential cases of human trafficking, as well as instances when a trafficking victim is in imminent danger, and document emerging trafficking schemes to assist in the detection and investigation of trafficking cases. The NHTH must respond to and track calls and texts in a timely manner; operate website and respond to online signals; maintain national coverage to serve the U.S. and all U.S. territories; develop and maintain a referral database; and raise awareness about NHTH and resources.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Cooperative Agreements (Discretionary Grants), Direct Payments for Specified Use, Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

The Administration for Children and Families (ACF) leads HHS's efforts to combat human trafficking and modern forms of slavery by administering anti-trafficking programs through grants and contracts and collaborating with federal, state, tribal, and local government and non-government organizations. OTIP is responsible for the overall leadership of anti-trafficking programs and services under the purview of ACF, including, but not limited to implementing provisions of relevant federal legislation and advising the Assistant Secretary in the development of anti-trafficking strategies, policies, and programs. The TVPA of 2000, as amended, and subsequent reauthorizations authorize HHS to assist foreign national and domestic (United States citizen and lawful permanent resident) victims of human trafficking through a number of efforts including screening and identifying victims; providing victims benefits and services; conducting research; training for the identification of trafficking survivors; and raising awareness and preventing human trafficking. Funds may be used only for the purpose set forth in the NOFOs. NHTH funding may be used to support the operation of a dedicated, toll-free, 24-hour, seven days a week, every day of the year U.S. national telephone and online communication system staffed by trained and experienced human trafficking advocates that provide services and assistance to victims of severe forms of labor and sex trafficking in persons. No funds made available through NHTH may be used to promote, support, or advocate the legalization or practice of prostitution. Nothing in the preceding sentence shall be construed to preclude assistance designed to promote the purposes of the TVPA by ameliorating the suffering of, or health risks to, victims while they are being trafficked or after they are out of the situation that resulted from such victims being trafficked. No funds may be paid for international travel. TVAP funding may be used to fund time-limited comprehensive case management services on a per capita basis to foreign national victims of a severe form of trafficking in persons and potential victims of trafficking seeking the Health and Human Services (HHS) certification so they can re-establish their ability to live independently. No funds made available through TVAP may be used to promote, support, or advocate the legalization or practice of prostitution. Nothing in the preceding sentence shall be construed to preclude assistance designed to promote the purposes of the TVPA by ameliorating the suffering of, or health risks to, victims while they are being trafficked or after they are out of the situation that resulted from such victims being trafficked. No funds may be paid for international travel.
