The Administrator is authorized to make grants to State, interstate, and regional water pollution control agencies and entities; State coastal zone management agencies; interstate agencies; and other public and private nonprofit agencies, institutions, organizations, and individuals (Section 320(g)(1)). Non-profit organization, as defined by 2 CFR Part 200, means any corporation, trust, association, cooperative or other organization that: (1) is operated primarily for scientific, educational, service, charitable or similar purposes in the public interest; (2) is not organized primarily for profit; and (3) uses its net proceeds to maintain, improve and/or expand its operations. Note that the definition of Nonprofit organization in 2 CFR Part 200 specifically excludes Institutions of Higher Education from the definition of non-profit organization because they are separately defined in the regulation. Profit making organizations are not eligible for grants. For certain competitive funding opportunities under this assistance listing, the Agency may limit eligibility to compete to a number or subset of eligible applicants consistent with the Agency's Assistance Agreement Competition Policy.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is required. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is eligible for coverage under E.O. 12372, "Intergovernmental Review of Federal Programs." An applicant should consult the office or official designated as the single point of contact in his or her State for more information on the process the State requires to be followed in applying for assistance, if the State has selected the program for review. EPA financial assistance programs and activities subject to intergovernmental review that are subject to review under State single point of contact procedures are identified at <https://www.epa.gov/grants/epa-financial-assistance-programs-subject-executive-order-12372-and-section-204-demonstration>. Applicants for programs or activities subject to Intergovernmental Review that are not subject to State single point of contact review must provide directly affected State, area-wide, regional, and local entities at least 60 days to review their application following notification by EPA that the application has been selected for funding as provided by 40 CFR 29.8(a) and (c). Preapplication assistance may be obtained from the appropriate EPA Regional Office. Regarding pre-application assistance with respect to competitive funding opportunities under this program description, EPA will generally specify the nature of the pre-application assistance, if any, that will be available to applicants in the competitive announcement. For additional information, contact the individual(s) listed in the competitive announcement. All work plans should be developed in response to the priority tasks identified in the management conference annual work plan. Work plans should also be developed in response to negotiated schedules for commitments to meet the purpose of a management conference outlined in the Act for the estuary. Each work plan will be considered by the appropriate management conference and the EPA Regional program.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. Applicants, except in limited circumstances approved by the Agency, must submit all initial applications for funding through Grants.gov. Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory formula is not applicable to this assistance listing. Matching Requirements: Percent: 50%. Requirement: Matching requirements are mandatory. Public Law 106-457, which amended Section 320(g) of the Water Quality Act of 1987, limits the amount of grants to 75 percent of the aggregate CCMP development project costs for each estuary program and to 50 percent of the aggregate CCMP implementation project costs for each estuary program, and requires that the nonfederal share be provided from nonfederal sources. The nonfederal share can be contributed by any of the participants in the management conference. For the NEP Coastal Watersheds Grant, the applicant must provide a minimum non-federal cost share/match of 25 percent of the total federal funding provided. Contact the appropriate management conference program office or EPA Regional Office for more information. MOE requirements are not applicable to this assistance listing.

Reporting requirements shall be determined at the time of grant award. Reporting requirements shall be determined at the time of grant award.

Audits:

In accordance with the provisions of 2 CFR 200, Subpart F - Audit Requirements, nonfederal entities that expend financial assistance of $750,000 or more in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. Non-Federal entities that expend less than $750,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in 2 CFR 200.503. Grants and cooperative agreements are subject to inspections and audits by the Comptroller General of the United States, the EPA Office of Inspector General, other EPA staff, or any authorized representative of the Federal government. Reviews by the EPA Project Officer and the Grants Specialist may occur each year.

EXAMPLES OF FUNDED PROJECTS:

2021 Assistance agreements are awarded to states, interstate agencies, academic institutions and other nonprofit organizations to implement NEP CCMPs. Activities associated with CCMP implementation include those that: (1) protect and restore water quality by conducting monitoring, assessing water quality conditions, implementing best management practices that help restore degraded waters to healthy conditions, and reducing loadings of pollutants like nutrients and toxics to estuarine water bodies; (2) protect and restore habitat and living resources by implementing local stormwater management programs, eradicating invasive species, removing dams that obstruct fish passage, and providing technical assistance on low-impact development practices that reduce sediment loadings to water bodies; (3) conduct climate change vulnerability assessments and develop and implement climate adaptation strategies; (4) revise CCMPs to reflect new local priorities; (5) develop annual work plans and design and maintain systems to track and report on priority action implementation, deliverables, and environmental results; (6) evaluate and report on CCMP implementation progress and environmental results; and (7) reach out to and build local capacity of urban community residents to participate in estuarine urban waters protection and restoration; those residents may not have had access to water bodies in NEP study areas nor have been actively engaged in urban water body protection and restoration. In FY 2021, EPA has continued to fund through the NEP Coastal Watersheds Grant an intermediary organization to award subawards that support projects that address urgent and challenging issues that threaten the ecological and economic well-being of coastal and estuarine areas. Subaward projects will focus on the following priorities: loss of key habitats resulting in significant impacts on fisheries and water quality such as seagrass, mangroves, tidal and freshwater wetlands, forested wetlands, kelp beds, shellfish beds, and coral reefs; recurring harmful algae blooms; unusual or unexplained marine mammal mortalities; proliferation or invasion of species that limit recreational uses, threaten wastewater systems, or cause other ecosystem damages; flooding and coastal erosion that may be related to sea level rise, changing precipitation, or salt marsh, seagrass, or wetland degradation or loss; impacts of nutrients and warmer water temperatures on aquatic life and coastal ecosystems, including low dissolved oxygen conditions in estuarine waters; and contaminants of emerging concern found in coastal and estuarine waters such as pharmaceuticals, personal care products, and microplastics.

CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:

Title Clean Water Act, Section 518(c)

OBJECTIVES:

To create State Revolving Funds (SRFs) through a program of capitalization grants to States which will provide a long term source of State financing for construction of wastewater treatment facilities and implementation of other water quality management activities. Funding Priority - Fiscal Year 2021: Capitalization grants are available to each State for the purpose of establishing a Clean Water SRF for providing assistance for: (1) construction of publicly owned wastewater treatment works; (2) implementation of nonpoint source management activities included in State Plans developed pursuant to Section 319; (3) development and implementation a National Estuary Program comprehensive conservation and management plan under Section 320; (4) the construction, repair, or replacement of decentralized wastewater treatment systems that treat municipal wastewater or domestic sewage; (5) measures to manage, reduce, treat or recapture stormwater or subsurface drainage water; (6) any municipality or intermunicipal, interstate, or State agency for measures to reduce the demand for publicly owned treatment works capacity through water conservation, efficiency or reuse; (7) the development and implementation of watershed projects meeting the criteria set forth in section 122; (8) any municipality or intermunicipal, interstate, or State agency for measures to reduce the energy consumption needs for publicly owned treatment works; (9) reusing or recycling wastewater, stormwater, or subsurface drainage water; (10) measures to increase the security of publicly owned treatment works; (11) any qualified nonprofit entity, as determined by the Administrator, to provide assistance to owners and operators of small and medium publicly owned treatment works to plan, develop, and obtain financing for eligible projects under section 603(c), including planning, design, and associated preconstruction activities and to assist such treatment works in achieving compliance with the Clean Water Act; and (12) any qualified nonprofit entity, as determined by the Administrator, to provide assistance to an eligible individual (as defined in subsection (j)) (A) for the repair or replacement of existing individual household decentralized wastewater treatment systems or in a case in which an eligible individual resides in a household that could be cost effectively connected to an available publicly owned treatment works, for the connection of the applicable household to such treatment works. The capitalization grant is deposited in the State's SRF, which is used to provide loans and other types of financial assistance, to local communities, intermunicipal and interstate agencies, and other eligible entities as described in Title VI of the Clean Water Act. Four percent of the grant amounts, $400,000 each year or 1/5 percent per year of the current valuation (total net position) of the fund may be used by the States for the cost of administering the SRF. States determine priorities for funding within their State in accordance with the CWA. A portion of the funding must be used to provide additional subsidy in the form of grants, principal forgiveness, or negative interest loans. The maximum percentage that may be provided as additional subsidy will range from 0 percent to 30 percent based on the amount of the total appropriation. For example, if the total appropriation is less than or equal to $1 billion, no additional subsidy would be authorized; if the total appropriation is greater than or equal to $1.3 billion, additional subsidy up to 30 percent of the grant would be authorized; but, if the total appropriation is greater than $1 billion but less than $1.3 billion, a percentage equal to the percentage by which the appropriation exceeds $1 billion would be authorized. Additional subsidy may only be provided to a municipality or intermunicipal, interstate, or State agency which meets the SRF affordability criteria or benefits individual ratepayers in residential user rate class or to any eligible entity implement a process, material, technique, or technology to address water efficiency goals, energy efficiency goals, mitigate stormwater runoff or encourage sustainable project planning, design and construction. The program supports the Agency's strategic goal of providing clean and safe water.

Four percent of the grant amounts, $400,000 each year or 1/5 percent per year of the current valuation (total net position) of the fund may be used by the States for the cost of administering the SRF. States determine priorities for funding within their State in accordance with the CWA. The Disaster Relief Act, 2019, (Public Law 116-20), provides additional funding for states and water systems impacted by Hurricanes Florence and Michael, Typhoon Yutu, and the 2018 wildfires and earthquakes. These disasters affected drinking water and wastewater in EPA regions 4, 9, and 10. Based on the information EPA has, only California had wildfires with major disaster declarations for public assistance during calendar year 2018 and only Alaska had an earthquake with major disaster declaration for public assistance. The Act did not provide an allocation among affected states. The distribution of the disaster supplemental resources took into account several variables, including the number and geographical location of facilities that were directly impacted during the incidents, and the population served by those systems. Assistance agreement awards under this program may involve or relate to geospatial information. Further information regarding geospatial information may be obtained by viewing the following website: Geospatial Resources at EPA (<https://www.epa.gov/geospatial>).

Applicant Eligibility:

U.S. Territories and possessions; State; Federally Recognized Indian Tribal Governments; States and Puerto Rico are eligible to receive capitalization grants under Title VI. ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

AUTHORIZATION:

Title Clean Water Act, Section 201(g)(1)(B) Under Sec. 319(h), Title Clean Water Act, Section 319(h), Title Clean Water Act, Section 518(e)

OBJECTIVES:

To assist States, the District of Columbia, American Samoa, Guam, Northern Marianas, Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands (hereinafter referred to as States), and qualified Indian Tribes and intertribal consortia in implementing EPA-approved Section 319 nonpoint source management programs. Funding Priority - Fiscal Year 2021: EPA's funding priority is to award grants that implement a grant recipient's nonpoint source management program plan, particularly the development and implementation of watershed-based plans, focusing on watersheds with water quality impairments caused by nonpoint sources, which result in improved water quality in impaired waters. These watershed plans are a mechanism to coordinate monitoring and planning on a watershed basis and will build a foundation for effective implementation actions using federal and other funding. Nonpoint source implementation projects include best management practice (BMP) installation for animal wastes, sediment, pesticide and fertilizer control, a variety of other structural and non-structural practices, watershed planning, monitoring, watershed coordinators, technology demonstration, and a variety of education/outreach programs, among others.

FEDERAL AGENCY:

ASSISTANCE LISTINGS DESCRIPTIONS

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

AUTHORIZATION:

Title Clean Water Act, Section 104(b)(3), as amended, Public Law 92-500, 33 USC Code 1254(b)(3).

OBJECTIVES:

To assist state, territory, tribal, and/or local government (S/T/LG) agencies in building programs which protect, manage, and restore wetlands. The primary focus of the grants is to build state, territory, and tribal wetland programs. A secondary focus is to build local (e.g. county or municipal) programs. Funding Priority - Fiscal Year 2021: Under the Regional Wetland Program Development Grant (WPDG) competition, EPA has identified the following four Core Elements for improving state/tribe/local governments' (S/T/LGs) ability to protect and restore their wetlands: (1) Monitoring and Assessment; (2) Voluntary Restoration and Protection; (3) Regulatory Approaches Including CWA 401 Certification; and (4) Wetland-Specific Water Quality Standards. EPA will include a website in each Regional Request For Applications (RFA) where potential applicants can find a list of actions and activities under each Core Element that will develop or refine a S/T/LG's wetlands program. In addition, EPA has identified two funding Tracks. Track One is for states and tribes that propose to develop a Wetlands Program Plan (WPP) as described at <https://www.epa.gov/wetlands/developing-wetland-program-plan> or carrying out projects from an EPA-approved WPP. WPPs can be found on-line at <https://www.epa.gov/wetlands/state-and-tribal-wetland-program-plans#r1>. Track Two is for states, tribes, local governments, interstate agencies, intertribal consortia, and universities that are agencies of a state that submit proposals that are consistent with the Four Core Elements as described above. Regions may add additional Region specific priorities that are compatible and consistent with the core element(s) and action(s) in the Appendix of development and refinement actions found at https://www.epa.gov/sites/production/files/2016-03/documents/wpdg_cef_appendix.pdf. Under the National Tribal competition EPA has identified the following four Core Elements for improving a tribe's ability to protect and restore their wetlands: (1) Monitoring and Assessment; (2) Voluntary Restoration and Protection; (3) Regulatory Approaches Including CWA 401 Certification; and (4) Wetland-Specific Water Quality Standards. EPA will include a website in the National Tribal RFA where potential applicants can find a list of actions and activities under each Core Element that will develop or refine a tribe's wetlands program. In addition, EPA has identified two funding Tracks. Track One is for tribes that propose to develop a WPP as described at <https://www.epa.gov/wetlands/developing-wetland-program-plan> or carrying out projects from an EPA-approved WPP. WPPs can be found on-line at <https://www.epa.gov/wetlands/state-and-tribal-wetland-program-plans#r1>. Track Two is for tribes and intertribal consortia that submit proposals that are consistent with the Four Core Elements as described above.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Cooperative Agreements, Project Grants (Discretionary)

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

These grants are intended to encourage comprehensive wetlands program development by promoting the coordination and acceleration of research, investigations, experiments, training, demonstrations, surveys, and studies relating to the causes, effects, extent, prevention, reduction, and elimination of water pollution. Projects build the capacity of States, Territories, Tribes, and local governments to effectively protect wetland and riparian resources. Projects funded under this program support the development of a wetlands protection, restoration, or management program or support enhancement/refinement of an existing program. Interstate agency and intertribal consortia projects must be broad in scope and encompass more than one State, Territory, Tribe, or local government. The Regional Office will accept submissions only for projects that affect the States, Tribes, and Territories within their Region. Funds cannot be used for implementation of individual mitigation projects, mitigation banks, or in-lieu-fee mitigation programs. Additional uses and restrictions on funds will be described in detail in the competitive announcements. Projects that are national in scope are not eligible for funding under this Regional program but may be eligible for funding under EPA's National Wetland Program Development Grants program (CFDA 66.462). In order to be eligible for WPDG funds, Tribes must be federally recognized, although "Treatment as a State" status is not a requirement. The term "interstate agency" is defined in CWA Section 502 as "an agency of two or more States established by or pursuant to an agreement or compact approved by the Congress, or any other agency of two or more States, having substantial powers or duties pertaining to the control of pollution as determined and approved by the Administrator." Intertribal consortia that meet the requirements of 40 CFR Part 35.504 are eligible for direct funding. Intertribal consortia projects must be broad in scope and encompass more than one State, Tribe, or local government. Universities that are agencies of a State government are eligible to receive funds through these competitions. Universities must include documentation showing that they are chartered as a part of a State government in their proposal. For certain competitive funding opportunities under this assistance listing, the Agency may limit eligibility to compete to a number or subset of eligible applicants consistent with the Agency's Assistance Agreement Competition Policy. 66.462 National Wetland Program Development Grants and Five-Star Restoration Training Grant

National WPDGs or the 5-Star and Urban Waters Grants,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

AUTHORIZATION:

Title Clean Water Act, Section 104(b)(3), as amended, Public Law 92-500, 33 USC Code 1254(b)(3).

OBJECTIVES:

To assist state, territory, tribal, and/or local government (S/T/LG) agencies in building programs which protect, manage, and restore wetlands. The primary focus of the grants is to build state, territory, and tribal wetland programs. A secondary focus is to build local (e.g. county or municipal) programs. Funding Priority - Fiscal Year 2021: For the National WPDGs: EPA has identified the following national priorities - National Priority Area 1: Core Elements Framework. National Priority Area 1 is based on the four core elements of a Comprehensive State/Tribal Wetlands Program: 1) Monitoring and Assessment; 2) Voluntary Wetland Restoration and Protection; 3) Regulatory Approaches Including CWA 401 Certification; and 4) Wetland-Specific Water Quality Standards. Further explanation of all of the elements can be found at the following website address: <https://www.epa.gov/wetlands/wetland-program-development-grants>. The Wetlands Program Development Grants (WPDG) program strives to develop State/Territory/Tribal/local government programs that will incorporate each of these elements. For the Five-Star Restoration Training Grants, EPA funds an intermediary organization to provide subawards to eligible subawardees to bring together citizen groups, corporations, youth conservation corps, students, landowners, and government agencies to undertake projects that achieve environmental training through voluntary, community/watershed-based wetland restoration projects.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Cooperative Agreements, Project Grants (Discretionary)

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

The National WPDGs are intended to encourage comprehensive, national wetlands program development by promoting the coordination and acceleration of research, investigations, experiments, training, demonstrations, surveys, and studies relating to the causes, effects, extent, prevention, reduction, and elimination of water pollution. Projects build the capacity of States, Territory, Tribes, and local governments programs to effectively protect wetland and riparian resources.

Activities must help S/T/LGs develop and refine wetland programs. Projects funded under this program support the initial development of a national wetlands protection, restoration or management program, or support enhancement/refinement of an existing national program. Projects must be broad in scope and include more than one EPA Region or be national in scope and cannot be limited to activities that affect such entities in only one EPA region. For example, projects and tasks can involve advancing science or collecting and making available through publications and other appropriate means, such as training on information about how various wetland programs across the nation protect, manage, and restore their wetland resources and about initiatives to improve S/T/LG wetland programs. Projects that are local or encompass only one EPA Region in scope are not eligible for funding under this program but may be eligible for funding under EPA's Regional Wetland Program Development Grants program (CFDA 66.461). Funds cannot be used for the purchase of land or conservation easements. Funds cannot be used for implementation of individual mitigation projects, mitigation banks, or in-lieu-fee mitigation programs. Assistance agreement awards under this program may involve or relate to geospatial information. Further information regarding geospatial information may be obtained by viewing the following website: Geospatial Resources at EPA (<https://www.epa.gov/geospatial>). EPA's Five Star Restoration Training Grant is anticipated to fund one cooperative agreement to an organization to manage the Five Star Restoration Training Grant subaward process that will award subgrants to achieve environmental training through voluntary, community/watershed-based wetland restoration projects. Projects funded under the subgrant process must be limited to activities that conduct or promote the coordination and acceleration of training relating to the causes, effects, extent, prevention, reduction, and elimination of water pollution. Other activities under section 104(b)(3) will not be considered for funding. Funds cannot be used for the purchase of land or conservation easements. Funds cannot be used for implementation of individual mitigation projects, mitigation banks, or in-lieu-fee mitigation programs. Wetland restoration training projects cannot include wetlands constructed for the purposes of treating wastewater or stormwater only.

66.466 Chesapeake Bay Program

Chesapeake Bay Program,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

AUTHORIZATION:

Title Clean Water Act, Section 117(e), Title Clean Water Act, Section 117(d), Title
Clean Water Act, Section 117(g)(2)

OBJECTIVES:

The EPA's Chesapeake Bay Program (CBP) awards competitive grants and cooperative agreements to states, tribal and local governments, non-governmental organizations, interstate agencies and academic institutions to reduce and prevent pollution and to improve the living resources in the Chesapeake Bay. Grants are awarded for implementation projects, as well as for technical assistance, monitoring, environmental education, and other related activities. EPA's funding priority is to achieve the goals and objectives established in the 2014 Chesapeake Bay Watershed Agreement through the implementation of the management strategies. More detail on these can be found at <http://www.chesapeakeprogress.com>. Funded projects have helped support the commitments set forth in Chesapeake Executive Council agreements and amendments (The Chesapeake Bay Agreement of 1983 through the 2014 Chesapeake Bay Watershed Agreement) and subsequent directives, adoption statements, endorsements and resolutions to expand and strengthen cooperative efforts to restore and protect the Chesapeake Bay. The competitive assistance agreements under this program include: Small Watershed Grants (SWG): This EPA program component supports local governments and non-governmental organizations working to protect and improve local waters and habitats across the Bay watershed while building citizen-based resource stewardship. Innovative Nutrient and Sediment Reduction Grants (INSR): This program component supports regional innovative solutions to reduce or eliminate nutrient and sediment pollution to the Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries. Technical Assistance and General Assistance Grants: This program component supports nonprofit organizations, state, tribal and local governments, academic institutions, and others to implement the goals of the 2014 Chesapeake Bay Watershed Agreement. Funding Priorities - Fiscal Year 2021: The funding priorities remain the same as in FY 2020. Work in this program directly supports Goal 1/Objective 1.2, Provide Clean and Safe Water in EPA's FY 2018 - 2022 Strategic Plan. Most of EPA's direct efforts for FY 2021 will focus on supporting implementation of the two-year Logic & Action Plans for the 25 Management Strategies developed under the Agreement, with particular focus on accelerating implementation of outcomes where progress is lagging. The program is increasing focus on environmental justice ensuring the benefits of the Chesapeake Bay Program are distributed equitably. In addition, the program is increasing efforts in the climate change space by focusing initiatives on the resiliency of the watershed. Specific emphases include: Implementation of the water quality outcomes that describe the commitment of the Agreement signatories for having all practices in place by 2025 to achieve the necessary pollutant reductions; Accelerating implementation of outcomes that help keep the watershed resilient in the face of climate change (including forest and wetland protection and restoration); Ensuring the most up-to-date science is used throughout the Chesapeake Bay Program to support decision-making, implementation, and future condition assessment. For example, improving computer models to help predict the impact of climate change on the Chesapeake Bay Programs ability to meet water quality standards in the tidal waters of the Chesapeake Bay; and Implementing an action plan to improve diversity, equity, inclusion, and justice in Chesapeake Bay Program restoration efforts.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants, Project Grants (Discretionary)

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Assistance Agreements awarded under the Chesapeake Bay Program include the following: (1) 117(d) Technical Assistance and General Assistance Grants - These grants will be awarded competitively to nonprofit organizations, State and local governments, colleges, universities, and interstate agencies to implement the goals of the Chesapeake Bay Agreements; such as activities to support living resource protection and restoration; vital habitat protection and restoration; water quality protection and restoration; sound land use; and stewardship and community engagement. All applicants applying for grants under Section 117(d) must commit to a cost share ranging from 5 to 50 percent of the total project costs, as determined at the sole discretion of EPA. This determination will be stated in Request for Applications (RFAs) or Agency policy. (2) 117(e)(1)(A) Chesapeake Bay Regulatory and Accountability Grants (CBRAP) - As a result of EO 13508, these grants help each watershed state and the District of Columbia to develop new regulations, design TMDL watershed implementation plans, reissue and enforce permits, and provide technical and compliance assistance to local governments and regulated entities. The grants aid the states and DC in implementing and expanding their jurisdiction's regulatory, accountability and enforcement capabilities, in support of reducing nitrogen, phosphorus and sediment loads delivered to the Bay to meet the water quality goals of the 2014 Chesapeake Bay Watershed Agreement. EPA awards these grants non-competitively. Signatory jurisdictions applying for regulatory and accountability program grants under Section 117(e)(1)(A) must identify 50% cost share of total project costs (equal match/dollar for dollar) as required by statute. (3) Section 117(e)(1)(A) Chesapeake Bay Implementation Grants (CBIG) - The Chesapeake Bay Implementation Grants are authorized under Section 117(e)(1)(A) to signatory jurisdictions. Implementation Grants are for the purpose of implementing the management mechanisms established under the 2014 Chesapeake Bay Watershed Agreement, with particular emphasis on state programs for control and abatement of nonpoint source nutrient and sediment pollution (including atmospheric deposition as a nonpoint source). Specifically, CBIG awards support the jurisdictions' implementation of the management strategies developed for each of the applicable outcomes identified in the 2014 Chesapeake Bay Watershed Agreement. CBIG awards may support the jurisdictions' implementation of their watershed implementation plans (WIPs) and milestone commitments, including addressing EPA's evaluation of the WIPs and milestones, and comparable actions that support nutrient and sediment load reduction goals. If the signatory jurisdictions do not use 117(e)(1)(A) grants for projects consistent with furthering the 2014 Chesapeake Bay Watershed Agreement goals and outcomes, EPA may reallocate, conditionally award, or withhold funds. These grants are awarded non-competitively to any jurisdiction that signed the 2014 Chesapeake Bay Watershed Agreement. Signatory jurisdictions applying for implementation under Section 117(e)(1)(A) must identify 50% cost-share of total project costs (equal match/dollar for dollar). (4) Section 117(e)(1)(B) Monitoring Grants - The monitoring grants are authorized under Section 117(e)(1)(B) for signatory jurisdictions. These grants support the characterization of water and habitat quality and benthic community conditions for the main stem Chesapeake Bay and tidal tributaries, characterizing nutrient and sediment loadings to the Chesapeake Bay and its tidal tributaries from the surrounding Chesapeake Bay watershed, assessing changes in nutrient and sediment concentrations in local streams and rivers throughout the Chesapeake Bay watershed, and providing data analysis and interpretation support for water quality and living resources status and trends. These grants are awarded non-competitively to any signatory jurisdiction that signed the 2014 Chesapeake Bay Watershed Agreement. Signatory jurisdictions applying for monitoring grants under Section

ASSISTANCE LISTINGS DESCRIPTIONS

117(e)(1)(B) must identify 50% cost share of total project costs (equal match/dollar for dollar). (5) Section 117(g)(2) Small Watershed Grants - The Small Watershed Grants Program was established under Section 117(g)(2), which provides that grants can be awarded under Section 117(d) to local governments and nonprofit organizations in the Chesapeake Bay region working on a local level to protect and improve watersheds, while building citizen based resource stewardship. The purpose of the grants program is to demonstrate effective techniques and partnership-building to achieve Chesapeake Bay Program objectives at the small watershed scale. The Small Watershed Grants Program was designed to encourage the sharing of innovative ideas among the many organizations wishing to be involved in watershed protection activities. Assistance agreement awards under this program may involve or relate to geospatial information. Further information regarding geospatial information may be obtained by viewing the following website: Geospatial Resources at EPA (<https://www.epa.gov/geospatial>).

66.468 Capitalization Grants for Drinking Water State Revolving Funds

Drinking Water State Revolving Fund,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

AUTHORIZATION:

Title Safe Drinking Water Act, Section 1452, Title Additional Supplemental Appropriations for Disaster Relief Act of 2019, . Public Law 116-20

OBJECTIVES:

Grants are made to States and Puerto Rico to capitalize their Drinking Water State Revolving Funds (DWSRFs) which will provide a long-term source of financing for the costs of drinking water infrastructure. Grants are also made to the District of Columbia, U.S. Territories (Virgin Islands, Northern Mariana Islands, American Samoa, and Guam), and Indian Tribes. Funding Priority - Fiscal Year 2021: The funding priority established by the SDWA are for capitalization grants to each state for infrastructure improvement projects that are needed to achieve or maintain compliance with SDWA requirements, protect public health, and assist systems with economic need. A state may use a portion of the capitalization grant funds for programs that emphasize preventing contamination problems through source water protection and enhancing water system management. States and EPA Regions determine priorities for funding in accordance with SDWA. The program supports the Agency's strategic goal of providing for clean and safe water.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Formula Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Capitalization grants are made available to each State and Puerto Rico for the purpose of establishing a DWSRF for providing assistance to drinking water systems for infrastructure improvements. States award loans and other types of financial assistance to eligible public water systems for projects. Once invoices for these projects are submitted, the state can request reimbursement from the Federal Treasury up to the amount of their capitalization grant. A State may elect to use up to approximately 31% of the capitalization grant for other eligible activities, including 4%, $400,000 or 1/5th percent of fund valuation for administration of the program. States may also elect to transfer up to one-third of the DWSRF capitalization grant amount to the Clean Water State Revolving Fund (CWSRF) or an equivalent amount from the CWSRF to the DWSRF program. Grants are also made available to Federally Recognized Indian Tribal Governments, U.S. Territories, and the District of Columbia. Assistance agreement awards under this program may involve or relate to geospatial information. Further information regarding geospatial information may be obtained by viewing the following website: Geospatial Resources at EPA (<https://www.epa.gov/geospatial>).

Applicant Eligibility:

State (includes District of Columbia, public institutions of higher education and hospitals); Federally Recognized Indian Tribal Governments; U.S. Territories and possessions; States, the District of Columbia, U.S. Territories or Possessions (the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands, Mariana Islands American Samoa, and Guam), and Federally Recognized Indian Tribal Governments are eligible for grants from the program. The Disaster Relief Act, 2019, (Public Law 116-20), provides additional funding for states and water systems impacted by the Hurricanes Florence and Michael, Typhoon Yutu, and the 2018 wildfires and earthquakes. These disasters affected drinking water and wastewater in EPA Regions 4, 9, and 10. Based on the information EPA has, only California had wildfires with major disaster declarations for public assistance during calendar year 2018, and only Alaska had an earthquake with major disaster declaration for public assistance. The Act did not provide an allocation among affected states. The distribution of the disaster supplemental resources took into account several variables, including the number and geographical location of facilities that were directly impacted during the incidents, and the population served by those systems.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

U.S. Territories; Intrastate; State; Local; Federally Recognized Indian Tribal Governments; States, U.S. Territories or Possessions (the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands, Mariana Islands American Samoa, and Guam), Federally Recognized Indian Tribal Governments, local, and intrastate.

Credentials/Documentation:

To receive a grant, an applicant enters into an agreement with the EPA Regional Administrator which shall include, but is not limited to, the requirements set forth in Section 130 of the SDWA. Recipients must follow 2 CFR 200 Subpart E. 2 CFR 200, Sub-part E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is required. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is eligible for coverage under E.O. 12372, "Intergovernmental Review of Federal Programs." An applicant should consult the office or official designated as the single point of contact in his or her State for more information on the process the State requires to be followed in applying for assistance, if the State has selected the program for review. Note that EPA has determined that states meet their intergovernmental review responsibilities under 40 CFR Part 29 when they comply with the public notice requirements for Intended Use Plans prescribed in 40 CFR 35.3555. States are required to prepare and provide for public comment on a plan identifying the intended uses (Intended Use Plan, or IUP) of the funds in the DWSRF and how those uses support the goals of the DWSRF. The IUP is to be submitted no later than the application. An environmental impact statement is not required prior to grant award; however, a State environmental review process must be applied to all subsequent State assistance for drinking water systems.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. Applicants, except in limited circumstances approved by the Agency, must submit all initial applications for funding through Grants.gov. Additional information on the EPA grant package can be found at: http://www.epa.gov/ogd/grants/how_to_apply.htm. EPA requires final applications to be made on Standard Form 424. Grants for Tribes, U.S. Territories, and the District of Columbia are selected based on funding priorities established by EPA Regional Offices. States must certify that they have the legal authority to receive a capitalization grant and that they have the legal authority to operate the program. States must provide assurance in their applications that they have the legal, managerial, technical and operational capabilities to administer the DWSRF program competently and that they will comply with all applicable Federal cross-cutting authorities and Federal statutes. Notice of Funding Opportunities (NOFO) for this listing will be posted on Grants.gov.

Award Procedure:

A grant application is reviewed by the appropriate Regional Office, and if approved, the grant is awarded by the Regional Administrator under a delegation of authority from the Administrator of EPA. EPA Headquarters retains the authority to review certain applications or parts thereof. For competitive awards, EPA will review and evaluate applications, proposals, and/or submissions in accordance with the terms, conditions, and criteria stated in the competitive announcement. Competitions will be conducted in accordance with EPA policies/regulations for competing assistance agreements.

Deadlines:

Contact the headquarters or regional location, as appropriate for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

From 30 to 60 days. Approval time averages 45 days.

Appeals:

Other. Assistance agreement competition-related disputes will be resolved in accordance with the dispute resolution procedures published in 70 FR (Federal Register) 3629, 3630 (January 26, 2005). Copies of these procedures may also be found at: <https://www.epa.gov/grants/grant-competition-dispute-resolution-procedures>. Disputes relating to matters other than the competitive selection of recipients will be resolved under 2 CFR 1500 Subpart E, as applicable.

Renewals:

Not Applicable. For those portions of the applicant's program that do not change from year to year, a subsequent grant application may incorporate by reference relevant portions of the previous year's application which have not changed.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory Formula: Title Protection of the Environment, Chapter 40, Part 35, Subpart 3515, 3540, and 3585, Public Law Safe Drinking Water Act, Sec. 1452. Matching Requirements: Percent: 20%. Requirement: Matching requirements are mandatory. The required State match is 20% of the amount of the capitalization made to the State. The funds available for allotment to State DWSRF programs are those funds appropriated by Congress under the Safe Drinking Water Act (SDWA 1452; 40 CFR 35.3540 and 35.3585). EPA allots funds to each State based on the State's proportional share of total eligible needs reported for the most recent Drinking Water Infrastructure Needs Survey (which is conducted every four years). The minimum proportional share that each State can receive is 1% of total funds available to States. EPA reserves up to 1.5% of the funds available for allotment to the States to provide grants to the U.S. Territories (Virgin Islands, Mariana Islands American Samoa, and Guam). The SDWA also requires the Administrator to reserve 1% of the funds available for allotment to the States to provide grants to the District of Columbia. The SDWA also allows EPA to reserve funds for national set-asides that include: up to 2.0% of the national appropriation for grants to Indian Tribes as well as funding for health effects studies, small system technical assistance, and monitoring of unregulated contaminants. The required State match is 20% of the amount of the capitalization made to the State. For Recovery Act funds, the required State match of 20% of the amount of the capitalization grant was waived. The match requirement for the Disaster Relief Act, 2019 funds is 20%. Allocations for the Disaster Relief Act, 2019 funds were developed based on impacts from Hurricanes Florence and Michael, Typhoon Yutu, and the 2018 wildfires and earthquakes. For additional information go to <https://www.epa.gov/drinkingwatersrf/annual-allotment-federal-funds-states-tribes-and-territories>. MOE requirements are not applicable to this assistance listing.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

Recovery Act funds were available for EPA's obligation to the State until September 30, 2010. The term of the grant shall be determined at the time of award. States must agree to enter into binding commitments with loan recipients to provide financial assistance from the DWSRF in an amount equal to the sum of Federal assistance, less amounts used by the State for eligible set-aside purposes, and the State match. States are also required to agree to commit and expend all funds in the DWSRF as efficiently as possible, and in a timely manner. Method of awarding/releasing assistance: other

66.473 Direct Implementation Tribal Cooperative Agreements

DITCA,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

AUTHORIZATION:

Title EPA's Annual Appropriations Acts,

OBJECTIVES:

Direct Implementation Tribal Cooperative Agreements (DITCAs) enable EPA to award cooperative agreements to federally recognized Indian tribes and eligible intertribal consortia to help carry out the Agency's function to directly implement Federal environmental programs required or authorized by law in the absence of an authorized or delegated tribal program, notwithstanding the Federal Grant and Cooperative Agreement Act. DITCAs are an increasingly important avenue for EPA and the tribes to realize meaningful environmental protection in Indian Country. DITCAs enable EPA to partner with tribes to help fulfill EPA's direct implementation authorities, yield environmental results, and assist the Agency in meeting its Strategic Plan goals and targets. DITCAs also provide tribes with flexibility and opportunity by allowing tribes, through a workplan with EPA and under federal authority, to choose aspects of a program that address their tribal environmental needs and priorities, to determine the scope and pace of tribal involvement, and to build tribal capacity to implement environmental programs. Funding Priorities - Fiscal Year 2020/2021: Under Goal 2 of the FY18-22 EPA Strategic Plan, EPA is committed to work on a government-to-government basis to build tribal capacity to implement federal programs through delegations, authorizations, and primacy designations to enable tribes to meaningfully participate in the Agency's policy making, standard setting, and direct implementation activities under federal environmental statutes. EPA will work with individual tribes to develop and implement an EPA-Tribal Environmental Plan (ETEP), a joint planning document for achieving stronger environmental and human health protection in Indian country. ETEPs identify tribal, EPA, and shared priorities, and the roles and responsibilities for addressing those priorities. EPA will focus its direct implementation efforts on areas of high need for human health or environmental protection, including programs identified in the ETEP for which tribes are not eligible, as well as those for which tribes do not currently anticipate seeking delegation, authorization, or primacy. In carrying out its direct implementation activities, EPA will work closely with tribes to develop tribal capacity to meaningfully participate in programs for which they do not anticipate seeking delegation, authorization, or primacy. EPA will also encourage tribes to participate in policy making and to assume appropriate partial roles in the implementation of programs, including through the use of DITCAs or other agreements, as available. DITCAs provide an avenue for tribes and EPA to partner in implementing meaningful environmental protection programs in Indian country. Because DITCAs can address a wide range of activities, and the need for implementation of these activities in Indian country is great, the funding priority is for any eligible activity that addresses a tribal environmental need or priority, and yields meaningful environmental and/or public health results for the tribe and the Agency.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Cooperative Agreements (Discretionary Grants), Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

DITCAs assist Tribes in helping EPA directly implement Federal environmental programs required or authorized by law in the absence of an acceptable Tribal program, and may only be awarded to Tribes to assist the Administrator in directly implementing Federal environmental programs for Indian Tribes required or authorized by law. For example, activities under the following programs may be eligible for DITCA funding: Water quality standards promulgation and review and the National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System permit program under the Clean Water Act. Implementation plan development and the Title V permit program under the Clean Air Act. The Public Water System program and the Underground Injection Control program under the Safe Drinking Water Act. The Underground Storage Tank program and the Subtitle C permit program under the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act. The Certification and Training program

66.483 Disaster Relief Appropriations Act (DRAA) Hurricane Sandy Capitalization Grants for Drinking Water State Revolving Funds

Drinking Water State Revolving Fund Hurricane Sandy Supplemental Appropriation.

FEDERAL AGENCY:

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

AUTHORIZATION:

Title Disaster Relief Appropriations Act, 2013,, Public Law 113-2

OBJECTIVES:

Grants are made to New York and New Jersey to fund resiliency projects for facilities impacted by Hurricane Sandy through the State DWSRF Programs. Funding Priority - Fiscal Year 2021: The funding priority established by the Hurricane Sandy Supplemental Appropriation is to fund projects at drinking water facilities that will improve the resiliency of those facilities against future disasters. Only facilities that were impacted by Hurricane Sandy in the States of New York and New Jersey are eligible. No additional awards are anticipated in FY 2021.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Formula Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Capitalization grants were made available to New York and New Jersey for the purpose of funding resiliency related projects for facilities that were impacted by Hurricane Sandy. States award loans and other types of financial assistance to eligible public water systems for projects. Once invoices for these projects are submitted, the state can request reimbursement from the Federal Treasury up to the amount of their capitalization grant. A State may elect to use up to 31% of the capitalization grant for other eligible activities, including 4% for administration of the program. States may also elect to transfer funds between either of the CWSRF and DWSRF capitalization grants. Transfers are subject to the statutory limits of the DWSRF. Assistance agreement awards under this program may involve or relate to geospatial information. Further information regarding geospatial information may be obtained by viewing the following website: Geospatial Resources at EPA (<https://www.epa.gov/geospatial>).

Applicant Eligibility:

State; The States of New York and New Jersey.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

State; Local; Anyone/general public; Major Metropolis (over 250,000); Other Urban; Suburban; Rural; The States of New York and New Jersey, and drinking water facilities funding resiliency projects that were impacted by Hurricane Sandy.

Credentials/Documentation:

To receive a capitalization grant, a State shall enter into an agreement with the EPA Regional Administrator which shall include, but is not limited to, the requirements set forth in Section 130 of the SDWA. 2 CFR 200, Sub-part E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is required. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is eligible for coverage under E.O. 12372, "Intergovernmental Review of Federal Programs." An applicant should consult the office or official designated as the single point of contact in his or her State for more information on the process the State requires to be followed in applying for assistance, if the State has selected the program for review. Note that EPA has determined that states meet their intergovernmental review responsibilities under 40 CFR Part 29 when they comply with the public notice requirements for Intended Use Plans prescribed in 40 CFR 35.3555. An applicant (State) should seek pre-application assistance from the appropriate EPA Regional Office. The State is required to prepare and provide for public comment on a plan identifying the intended uses of the funds in the DWSRF (Intended Use Plan, or IUP) and how those uses support the goals of the DWSRF. The IUP is to be submitted no later than the application. An environmental impact statement is not required prior to grant award; however, a State environmental review process must be applied to all subsequent state assistance for wastewater facilities.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. Applicants, except in limited circumstances approved by the Agency, must submit all initial applications for funding through Grants.gov. The State must certify in its application that it has the legal, managerial, technical, and operational capabilities to administer the DWSRF program competently and that it will comply with Federal anti-discrimination laws and other applicable Federal statutes. Establishment of the DWSRF is a prerequisite for a grant award. Notice of Funding Opportunities (NOFO) for this listing will be posted on Grants.gov.

Award Procedure:

A grant application is reviewed by the appropriate Regional Office and, if approved, the grant is awarded by the Regional Administrator under a delegation of authority from the Administrator of EPA.

Deadlines:

Contact the headquarters or regional location, as appropriate for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

From 30 to 60 days. Approval time averages 45 days.

Appeals:

Other. Disputes will be resolved under 2 CFR 1500 Subpart E, as applicable.

Renewals:

Not Applicable. For those portions of the State program that do not change from year to year, a subsequent grant application may incorporate by reference relevant portions of the previous year's application which have not changed or an operating agreement approved by the Region.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory formula is not applicable to this assistance listing. Matching Requirements: Percent: 20%. Requirement: Matching requirements are mandatory. A non-federal match of 20% of the federal capitalization grant is required. This program does not have a statutory formula. However, the supplemental appropriation left the development of an allocation formula to US EPA. New York is eligible for 59.7% of the appropriation and New Jersey is eligible for 40.3% of the appropriation. The allocation percentages were determined in accordance with the population of the counties of each state that were declared disaster areas by FEMA for Hurricane Sandy. Census data from the most recent census was used. 59.7% of all the total impacted population live in New York and 40.3% live in New Jersey. MOE requirements are not applicable to this assistance listing.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

Funds are available for EPA's obligation to the State during the fiscal year in which they are allotted and during the following year. The term of the grant shall be determined at the time of award. States must enter into binding commitments with loan recipients to provide financial assistance from the DWSRF in an amount equal to the sum of Federal assistance, less amounts used by the State for eligible set-aside purposes, and the State match. States are also required to agree to commit and expend all funds in the DWSRF as efficiently as possible, and in a timely manner. Method of awarding/releasing assistance: other

Reports:

The State shall provide biennial reports to the Regional Administrator in accordance with the schedule established in the grant agreement. The biennial report shall describe how the State has met the goals and objectives for the preceding two fiscal years of the overall program, including the supplemental appropriation for Hurricane Sandy, including identification of loan recipients, loan amounts, and loan terms. Cash reports are required under this program. Reporting requirements shall be determined at the time of grant award. Reporting requirements shall be determined at the time of grant award. Reporting requirements shall be determined at the time of grant award.

Audits:

In accordance with the provisions of 2 CFR 200, Subpart F - Audit Requirements, nonfederal entities that expend financial assistance of $750,000 or more in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. Non-Federal entities that expend less than $750,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in 2 CFR 200.503. Grants and cooperative agreements are subject to inspections and audits by the Comptroller General of the United States, the EPA Office of Inspector General, other EPA staff, or any authorized representative of the Federal government. Reviews by the EPA Project Officer and the Grants Specialist may occur each year. The audit of the fund to be prepared by the State or an independent auditor must be in accordance with the standards of the Government Accountability Office (known as the Generally Accepted Government Auditing Standards). To the extent that the set-asides are used for project purposes that must be repaid, or are directly related to the DWSRF (e.g., administration) or are revolving funds themselves, they must be part of an audited opinion(s). The audits must provide an auditor's opinion on the DWSRF financial statements, a report on internal controls and a report on compliance with laws and regulations. Those set-aside funds that are not loaned out may be audited in conjunction with audits conducted under the provisions of 2 CFR 200, Subpart F.

Records:

Recipients must keep financial records, including all documents supporting entries on accounting records and to substantiate changes in grants available to personnel authorized to examine EPA recipients grants and cooperative agreements records. Recipients must maintain all records until 3 years from the date of submission of final expenditure reports as required by 2 CFR 200.334. If questions, such as those raised because of audits remain following the 3-year period, recipients must retain records until the matter is completely resolved. As part of the annual review conducted by the Agency to access a State's performance against activities identified in the intended use plan and biennial report, and to determine compliance with the terms of the capitalization grant agreement, the State or assistance recipient shall make available to EPA such records as the Regional Administrator reasonably requires to review and determine State compliance with the requirements of the SDWA.

66.484 South Florida Geographic Initiatives Program

FEDERAL AGENCY:

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

AUTHORIZATION:

Title Clean Water Act, Section 104(b)(3), Title EPA Annual Appropriations Act,

OBJECTIVES:

The Florida Keys National Marine Sanctuary (FKNMS) was created through Public Law 101-605, the Florida Keys National Marine Sanctuary and Protection Act of 1990. The Sanctuary includes 2,900 square nautical miles of nearshore waters and coral reefs extending from Biscayne Bay to the Dry Tortugas. Recognizing the critical role of water quality in maintaining Sanctuary resources, Congress directed the Environmental Protection Agency and the State of Florida, in cooperation with the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), to develop a Water Quality Protection Program (WQPP) for the Sanctuary. The Act directs the WQPP to develop corrective actions and compliance schedules to address point and nonpoint sources of pollution to maintain the chemical, physical and biological integrity of the Sanctuary. This includes restoration and maintenance of a balance, indigenous population of corals, shellfish, fish and wildlife, and recreational activities in and on the water. In addition to corrective actions, the 1990 Act requires public participation developing and implementing the program. In 1998, the U.S. Coral Reef Task Force (USCRTF) was established by Executive Order 13089 to lead U.S. efforts to restore and protect coral reef ecosystems. In October 2002, the USCRTF implemented a National Action Plan to conserve coral reefs. The Southeast Florida Coral Reef Initiative (SEFCRI) characterizes the existing condition of the coral reef ecosystem; quantifies and characterizes the land-based sources of pollution, identifies how sources of pollution impact the coral reef; develops strategies to reduce the impact of land-based sources of pollution; and increases public awareness and understanding of the effects of land-based sources of pollution on water quality and coral reefs. Funding Priorities - Fiscal Year 2021: 1) Florida Reef Tract Coral Health: Develop innovative techniques to treat or mitigate the effects of Stony Coral Tissue Loss Disease (SCTLD) impacting half of the reef building coral species on the Florida Reef Tract. 2) Harmful Algal Blooms in South Florida: The research and development of tools and technologies that help promote scientific progress towards preventing, mitigating and reducing HABs such as red tide, microcystis/cyanobacteria and sargassum impacting beaches, canals and nearshore waters in priority regions that include Florida Bay, Caloosahatchee Estuary, Biscayne Bay, Indian River Lagoon and the Florida Keys. 3) Water Quality and/or Seagrass Monitoring: Enhance water quality and/or seagrass monitoring networks in targeted areas such as the Caloosahatchee Estuary, Indian River Lagoon, Biscayne Bay or Florida Bay to quantify environmental impacts from land-based pollution; assess changes of ecological conditions and functions; evaluate effectiveness of management actions; determine causes of seagrass decline and evaluate health, species, and composition; evaluate impacts from Lake Okeechobee management; or develop early detection pollutants or harmful algal blooms. 4) Aquatic Habitat Restoration in South Florida: The design of habitat projects to reestablish, rehabilitate or enhance oysters, seagrass, or mangroves by building local capacity and engaging community volunteers to protect and restore these living resources within South Florida's ecosystem. 5) Reducing Trash in South Florida: Trash removal from rivers, estuaries, wetlands and beaches through clean-up events, trash prevention and education. 6) Analyses of Water Quality Data: Conduct alternative analyses or "mining" of the existing suite of water quality data and satellite imagery to determine if water quality improvements, hotspot area, or specific sources contributing to water quality degradation can be determined. 6) Sponge Restoration Techniques: Incorporate current knowledge of hardbottom sponge community filtration and recruitment dynamics in a study for improving water quality.

EXAMPLES OF FUNDED PROJECTS:

2021 The Environmental Programs Assistance Act of 1984 (Pub. L. 98-313) authorized the Administrator of the EPA "to make grants to, or enter into cooperative agreements with private, nonprofit organizations designated by the Secretary of Labor under Title V of the Older Americans Act of 1965." These cooperative agreements are to utilize the talents of older Americans in temporary, full time or part time positions "providing technical assistance to Federal, State, and local environmental agencies for projects of pollution prevention, abatement, and control." "Technical assistance" may include any activity performed for the EPA in support of its projects ranging from inspections of underground storage tanks, to support for a Headquarters staff office. This allows for the coverage of all types of SEE program positions from professional to clerical. Annual funding priorities are not established at the SEE program level. Rather, Senior Resource Officials from the participating 65 program offices establish priorities requiring SEE program support.

CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:

Applications must demonstrate that the Organizations have the capability of operating nationwide; can manage the program within the prescribed administrative funding limits; and can provide a quality fringe benefit package to enrollees under the proposal (including health insurance).

academic and other nonprofit research institutions. STAR funds research on the environmental and public health effects of air quality, environmental changes, water quality and quantity, hazardous waste, toxic substances, and pesticides. Funding Priority - Fiscal Year 2021: The STAR Program will fund the highest quality research in the following research areas: 1) Air quality research that will advance the science and provide the information critical to improving air quality. 2) Safe and sustainable water research that will support the development of innovative, cost-effective solutions to current, emerging, and long-term water resource challenges for complex chemical and biological contaminants. 3) Sustainable and healthy communities research that supports health, environmental engineering, and ecological research aimed at facilitating regulatory compliance and improving environmental and health outcomes. 4) Chemical safety research that will evaluate and predict impacts from chemical use and disposal, and provide states and tribes with information, tools, and methods to make better informed, more timely decisions about the thousands of chemicals in the United States. Please check the EPA website: <https://www.epa.gov/research-grants> for an updated listing of all solicitations.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants, Project Grants (Discretionary)

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Funds awarded via grants/cooperative agreements are available for allowable direct cost expenditures associated with the performance of research plus allocable portions of allowable indirect costs of the institutions, in accordance with established EPA policies and regulations. Applicants must propose EPA mission relevant research based on excellent science as determined through peer review by experts drawn from the national and international scientific community. Other more specialized scientific areas may be solicited via joint RFAs with other Federal agencies. The STAR program may fund research centers that focus on long-term, multi-disciplinary research. Some solicitations issued under this assistance listing may allow for the submittal of Multiple Investigator applications. The applicability of Multiple Investigator applications will be described in the solicitations. For further information, please see the EPA Implementation Plan for Policy on Multiple Principal Investigators (<https://rbm.nih.gov/toolkit.htm>). Assistance agreement awards under this program may involve or relate to geospatial information. Further information regarding geospatial information may be obtained by viewing the following website: Geospatial Resources at EPA (<https://www.epa.gov/geospatial>). "Geospatial Information" includes: Information that identifies the geographic location and characteristics of natural or constructed features or boundaries on the Earth, or applications, tools, and hardware associated with the generation, maintenance, or distribution of such information. This information may be derived from, among other things, GPS, remote sensing, mapping, charting, and surveying technologies, or statistical data.

EXAMPLES OF FUNDED PROJECTS:

ASSISTANCE LISTINGS DESCRIPTIONS

2021 Examples of the types of activities funded under this assistance listing include: 1) Assessing the impacts of exposure to contaminated groundwater on birth outcomes. Researchers will synthesize soil, hydrological, meteorological and built infrastructure data alongside a statewide database of private well testing to predict contamination events using econometric and machine learning techniques. 2) Developing an innovative integrative approach, which fuses analytical, computational, observational, and statistical methods, to estimate dust/soil ingestion rates of children aged 6 months through 6 years with demographic and environmental variabilities. This project will provide exposure scientists with a hybrid approach to estimate the dust/soil ingestion rate in a defensible and accurate manner and will provide health and risk assessors tabulated, stratified estimates of dust/soil ingestion rates for subgroups of children of interest and a holistic computational tool for population- or site-specific assessments. 3) Implementing an innovative methodology based on non-targeted screening approach to identify specific tracers of dust and soil exposure. Researchers will combine this with relevant information on children's behavior and other characteristics to provide a more accurate estimate of soil and dust ingestion rates. 4) Applying new technologies in both dust and urine analysis to determine child-specific dust ingestion rates, under an experimental design that includes multiple geographic and socioeconomic status (SES) groups. 5) Evaluating biocontainment of Genetically Engineered Microbes (GEMs) in environmental systems and generate a novel GEM kill switch relevant to bioremediation. This project will develop fundamental scientific screening and monitoring techniques to better understand, assess and mitigate environmental risks while advancing research on the reliability of such techniques, and improvements on monitoring of GEMs, particularly for broadly used bioremediation applications.

CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:

The evaluation and selection criteria for competitive awards under this assistance listing will be described in the competitive announcement. See the web page (<https://www.epa.gov/research-grants>) for additional information on the evaluative criteria for the Request for Applications (RFAs.)

OBJECTIVES:

The Office of Research and Developments (ORD) Consolidated Research/Training/Fellowships program supports research and development to: (1) determine the environmental effects of air quality, drinking water, water quality, hazardous waste, toxic substances, and pesticides; (2) identify, develop, and demonstrate effective pollution control techniques; (3) perform risk assessments to characterize the potential adverse health effects of human exposures to environmental hazards; and (4) facilitate training and program participant support in these areas. Awards made under this program further EPA's priorities supporting robust science for air quality, safe and sustainable water resources, sustainable and healthy communities, chemical safety, and human health risk assessment. Funding Priority - Fiscal Year 2021: ORD's research supports EPA's strategic goals. Brief descriptions of this research are as follows: 1) Air quality research assesses human and ecosystem exposures and effects associated with air pollutants; 2) Safe and sustainable water resources research provides the resource management tools that allow decision makers to systematically consider complex tradeoffs occurring in a watershed on a regional or national scale, including development of innovative, cost-effective solutions to current, emerging, and long-term water resource challenges for complex chemical and biological contaminants; 3) Sustainable and healthy communities research supports the Agency's effort to protect and restore the land, and support community health; 4) Chemical safety research underpins the analysis of risks and potential health impacts across the broad spectrum of EPA programs and provides the scientific foundation for pesticide and toxic substances programs, pollution prevention, human health risk assessment, and homeland security; and 5) Human health risk assessment research focuses on the science of assessments that inform Agency, state, and tribal decisions and policies. These risk assessments provide the research and technical support needed to ensure safety of chemicals in the marketplace, revitalize and return land to communities, provide clean and safe water, and work with states and tribes to improve air quality. National priorities research focusing on water quality and availability.

OBJECTIVES:

The Office of Research and Development (ORD), as part of its Science to Achieve Results (STAR) program, offers graduate fellowships for master's and doctoral level students in environmentally related fields of study. The purpose of the fellowship program is to encourage promising students to obtain advanced degrees and pursue careers in environmentally related fields. This goal is consistent with the mission of EPA, which is to provide leadership in the nation's environmental science, research, education, assessment, restoration, and preservation efforts. This program will benefit both the public and private sectors which will need a steady stream of well-trained environmental specialists if society is to meet the environmental challenges of the future. These fellowships are intended to help defray costs associated with advanced environmentally-oriented study leading to a master's or doctoral degree. Funding Priority - Fiscal Year 2021: EPA did not include funding for this activity in the FY 2021 budget request.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants, Project Grants (Discretionary)

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Funds are to provide resources to allow for fellowships related to environmental issues. The EPA is looking to fund students at the graduate level who are committed to meeting the challenges of today and the next generation by pursuing a career related to protecting human health and the environment. Applications may come from students in traditional and interdisciplinary academic disciplines; from students studying in emerging fields that will require increased human capacity such as in the social and exposure sciences; from students utilizing multidisciplinary approaches and/or addressing multiple media; and, in areas which focus on environmental justice, environmental education, and/or building decision making capacity. Assistance agreement awards under this program may involve or relate to geospatial information. Geospatial Information includes: Information that identifies the geographic location and characteristics of natural or constructed features or boundaries on the earth, or applications, tools, and hardware associated with the generation, maintenance, or distribution of such information. This information may be derived from, among other things, GPS, remote sensing, mapping, charting, and surveying technologies, or statistical data. Further information regarding geospatial information may be obtained by viewing the following website: Geospatial Resources at EPA (<https://www.epa.gov/geospatial>).

Applicants do not need to be enrolled in or formally accepted into a full time graduate program at the time they apply for a fellowship, but proof of enrollment or acceptance must be produced prior to the award of the fellowship. To be eligible for this fellowship, applicants must be pursuing a master's or doctoral degree in an environmentally-related topic area at a fully accredited U.S. college or university (based in the U.S. or its territories). Applicants who are in a graduate program at the time of application and meet either of the following two criteria as of the solicitation closing date ARE NOT eligible to receive a fellowship: 1) have completed more than one year in their current master's program; or 2) have completed more than four years in their current doctoral program. However, applicants enrolled in a master's program who intend to pursue a doctoral degree beginning in the fall may apply for a doctoral fellowship. Applicants who currently have another federal fellowship are not eligible. However, acceptance of a fellowship under this announcement does not necessarily preclude acceptance of another private, state, regional, local, or non-profit scholarship, fellowship, traineeship, research assistantship, teaching assistantship, or grant aid. Employees of the U.S. government may apply, but must be able to prove separation from Federal service before accepting this fellowship. Applications must be submitted by the student. Applications submitted by the institution on behalf of the student will be rejected without review. EPA recognizes that scientific, technical, engineering and mathematical (STEM) competence is essential to the Nation's future well-being in terms of national security and competitive economic advantage. For instance, the health and vitality of the economy is predicated, in part, on the availability of an adequate supply of scientists, technicians, engineers and mathematicians, to develop innovative technologies and solutions. In other words, this country must engage all available minds to address the challenges it faces. Minorities, women, and persons with disabilities historically have been under-represented in the STEM fields. For this reason, EPA strongly encourages women, minorities, persons with disabilities and MAI applicants as described in Section I.A. of the solicitation. OBJECTIVES:

The P3 program supports research, development, and design of innovative projects that address real world challenges involving environmental protection and public health. The P3 competition highlights the use of scientific principles in creating innovative technology-based projects that achieve the mutual goals of improved quality of life, economic prosperity, and protection of the planet people, prosperity, and the planet. The P3 Program encourages a shift towards more environmentally benign products, processes, and systems. Funding Priority - Fiscal Year 2021: The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), under the auspices of the Office of Research and Development (ORD), invites submissions to the P3 Awards: A National Student Design Competition Focusing on People, Prosperity and the Planet. The P3 Program supports science-based projects and designs developed by interdisciplinary student teams at colleges and universities. These projects must embody the P3 approach, which is that they have the intention and capability to simultaneously improve the quality of peoples lives, provide economic benefits, and protect the environment. The P3 Award Program is composed of two phases that award grants on a competitive basis. The first phase is a competition for one-year grants to test, research, and develop innovative scientific projects or engineering designs that will use the P3 approach. Recipients of Phase I grant awards will have the opportunity to compete for Phase II grant awards. The Phase II grant awards are to support the demonstration and further development of the projects/designs created in the first phase of the program. The competitors for the P3 Phase II grants will be limited to those selected to receive support as a result of the Phase I competition. Challenges from a wide range of categories will be considered. These include: Air Quality; Safe and Sustainable Water Resources;

Sustainable and Healthy Communities; and Chemical Safety.

EXAMPLES OF FUNDED PROJECTS:

2021 Examples of the types of activities funded under this assistance listing include: 1) A project using a sonication reactor to efficiently remediate per- and polyfluoroalkyl substances (PFAS)-contaminated sites through sonic degradation to reduce human and animal exposure to PFASs. Specifically, the research team designed a novel ultrasound delivery method to generate acoustic cavitation which combined a low frequency probe transducer and a high frequency submersible transducer to create an intense ultrasonic field that stirs up solids in solution and induce cavitation. 2) Developing and demonstrating a self-sustaining selective nutrient capture and recovery unit, capable of both removal and recovery of nitrogen and phosphorus at wastewater treatment plants to reduce the occurrence of harmful algal blooms (HABs). 3) Developing a reliable and cost-effective volatile organic compound (VOC) sensor suite for ambient and residential use with rough speciation, which will enable human exposure estimation. The developed sensor suites will be deployed indoors and outdoors to evaluate their performance. 4) Producing a biochar adsorbent with sustainable materials and incorporating the biochar into an innovative technology for mitigation of surface runoff pollution. This project will address surface runoff of aqueous metals and other contaminants by implementing a sustainable biochar-wattle design. 5) Determining the occurrence and genotype diversity of Naegleria fowleri (Nf), also known as the brain-eating amoeba, in public water systems and biofilms using droplet digital Polymerase Chain Reaction (PCR) and multi-locus genotyping; and to identify the source of food for Nf in these systems using Illumina sequencing.

66.604 Environmental Justice Small Grant Program

EJSG.

FEDERAL AGENCY:

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

AUTHORIZATION:

Marine Protection, Research, and Sanctuaries Act, Section 203, Title Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act, Section 20(a), as amended by P.L. 106-74, Title Toxic Substances Control Act, Section 10(a), as amended by P.L. 106-74, Safe Drinking Water Act, Section 1442(c)(3), Clean Air Act, Section 103(b)(3), Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation and Liability Act, Section 311(c), Solid Waste Disposal Act, Section 8001(a), Clean Water Act, Section 104(b)(3)

OBJECTIVES:

The Environmental Justice Small Grants (EJSG) Program provides funding directly to community-based organizations for projects that help residents of underserved communities understand and address local environmental and public health issues. The term underserved community refers to a community with environmental justice concerns and/or vulnerable populations, including people of color, low income, rural, tribal, indigenous, and homeless populations that may be disproportionately impacted by environmental harms and risks. In general, the EJSG program awards grants that support community-driven projects designed to engage, educate, and empower communities to better understand and address local environmental and public health issues. Community-driven projects are projects that include activities where community residents and/or representatives are integrally involved in the thinking behind and execution of those activities. Therefore, applying organizations should have a direct connection to the underserved community impacted by environmental harms and risks. Funding Priorities - Fiscal Year 2021: 1) Public Education, Training, Emergency Planning, and/or Investigations on Impacts of COVID-19 on Underserved Communities and Vulnerable Populations (UPDATE 4/19/2021) American Rescue Plan (ARP) funds are being made available for projects that address health outcome disparities from pollution and the COVID-19 pandemic and that identify and address disproportionate environmental or public health harms and risks in minority populations or low-income populations under: Clean Air Act, section 103 (b)(3) and the Safe Drinking Water Act, section 1442(c)(3). Currently understood science around COVID-19 transmission indicates that most transmission is via respiratory droplets, airborne transmission, and/or close contact with an infected person. Transmission from contaminated surfaces, while possible, appears to be less common. Additionally, reducing environmental or public health harms and risks in underserved communities requires a well-trained safe drinking water workforce. See Appendix A - Guidance on American Rescue Plan Funding - for examples of which types of projects will be funded with ARP funds and which will be funded with EJ funds. NOTE: EJSG funds cannot be used for Human Health Studies, including taking blood or other medical information from humans. 2) Projects addressing Climate, Disaster Resiliency, and/or Emergency Preparedness The effects of climate change and extreme weather events tend to adversely impact the most vulnerable communities and populations disproportionately. Therefore, EPA may give special consideration to projects that address the needs of underserved and vulnerable communities that have been adversely impacted or are likely to be adversely impacted by natural disasters, including, but not limited to, hurricanes, tornadoes, wildfires, floods, earthquakes, and future pandemics. 3) PORTS INITIATIVE PARTNERSHIP: EPA's Ports Initiative program led by the Office of Transportation and Air Quality (OTAQ) anticipates funding approximately six projects that address clean air issues at coastal and inland ports or rail yards or other relevant projects. Since 2016, EPA's Environmental Justice and Ports Initiative programs have partnered to support effective and meaningful engagement between communities, the port industry and other port stakeholders. Emissions from diesel equipment at ports disproportionately impact nearby communities that are often comprised of low-income populations and people of color. To promote community-port collaboration for effective planning, EPA has developed the Community-Port Collaboration Toolkit, which is designed to help communities and ports develop collaboration skills and to enhance understanding of stakeholders priorities and challenges associated with port-related activities. The Toolkit includes the Ports Primer for Communities, the Community Action Roadmap, and the Environmental Justice (EJ) Primer for Ports along with associated training materials and worksheets. The tools were developed through a collaborative process with feedback from port operators, communities, environmental justice organizations and government agencies. A demonstrated use of the Toolkit during the project period is strongly encouraged, with particular emphasis on Steps 1, 2, and 3 of the Community Action Roadmap: prioritizing goals and concerns; identifying levers of change; and identifying influencers and other stakeholders with whom to build relations. NOTE - To qualify for the Ports Initiative funding, your project must only include activities related to the Clean Air Act, Section 103(b)(3). 4) SMALL NON-PROFIT SET-ASIDE TRACK - EPA intends to set aside approximately half of the total available funding in FY21, $3.6M, for awards to non-profit organizations who have 10 or fewer full-time employees on staff at the time of submission of their application and award. The dollar amount intended for these awards may be adjusted depending upon the quality of applications received and other relevant considerations. This set-aside is intended to promote environmental justice funding to those communities and grassroots organizations that need it the most. Applications from these applicants will be evaluated separately, based on the criteria outlined in Section V of the Request for Proposal (RFA), from the applications from other eligible applicants. Accordingly, there will be two selection lists developed under the competition- for small non-profit organizations and for the remaining applications. To qualify for consideration under this set-aside, applicants must submit documentation with their application (such as an employee roster) verifying the number of full-time employees on staff and the associated hours per week and salary/wage details for each full-time employee. For this announcement, a full-time employee is defined as an employee who works 40 or more hours per week for the applying organization. NOTE - Applicants who meet the standard set forth above for inclusion under the set-aside at the time of submission of their application, but who during this competition subsequently grow larger than 10 full-time employees, must immediately notify EPA of their change in size. If an applicant can confirm that their change in size has no material impact on their original workplan, then they will be moved from the set-aside track and considered for award under the non-set aside track. However, if an applicant fails to notify EPA, then they may be deemed ineligible to receive an award under this competition. Also, please note that Ports Initiative projects as described above will either be in the set aside track or regular non-set aside track depending on whether the applicant who submits the project qualifies for the set aside if they do they will be considered in the set-aside track; if they do not they will be considered under the non-set aside track.

FEDERAL AGENCY:

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

AUTHORIZATION:

Title Appropriations Act of 1996, , Public Law 104-134, Title Appropriations Act of 1998, , Public Law 105-65

OBJECTIVES:

Improving EPA's partnership with the States and Tribes is critical to accelerating environmental outcomes. Performance Partnership Grants (PPGs) are the cornerstone of the National Environmental Performance Partnership System (NEPPS) -- EPA's strategy to strengthen partnerships and build a results-based management system. PPGs are innovative grant delivery tools that allow States and Tribes to combine up to 19 eligible State and Tribal Assistance Grants (STAG) grants into a single grant with a single budget. PPGs can reduce administrative transaction costs, provide the flexibility to direct resources toward the highest priority environmental problems, and support cross-media approaches and initiatives. EPA's overarching goal is to optimize the leveraging power of PPGs to focus strategically on the joint priorities of EPA, States and Tribes. PPGs do not include any funding in addition to the state and tribal assistance grants provided under other statutory authorities. Approval of subsequent funding increments and extensions are dependent on satisfactory project progress, continued relevance of the project to EPA's priorities, availability of funds, and Agency policy on the competitive grant process.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory formula is not applicable to this assistance listing. Matching Requirements: Percent: 0%. Requirement: Matching requirements are mandatory. Major portions of the PPGs are by statutory formula. The allocation for a PPG consists of the cumulative allocations for the categorical grants included in the PPG. Recipients should calculate a single, composite minimum cost share (based on the match or maintenance of effort requirements of the categorical grants included in the PPG) for each of their PPGs. To calculate the minimum cost share for a PPG, start with the amount of federal dollars from each program (source of funds) going into the PPG. The minimum required cost share for each portion is determined by identifying the cost share requirements of the relevant categorical grant program. The minimum recipient cost share for the PPG is the sum of the minimum cost shares of the contributed categorical grants. Tribal governments and intertribal consortia may be eligible for match requirement waivers based on demonstrated hardship. Such waiver eligibility will be determined by the Regional Administrator and will be based on socio-economic criteria. This program has MOE requirements, see funding agency for further details. Additional Information: Refer to the assistance listings of the 19 environmental program grants eligible for inclusion in a PPG. The list can be found at: <https://www.epa.gov/ocir/national-environmental-performance-partnership-system-nepps>.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

The terms of the PPG shall be determined during pre-application negotiations and at the time of the award. Applicants may choose to submit either annual or multi-year work plans and project periods. Budget periods will be for 12 months with the applicant having the flexibility to select, in consultation with the Regional Administrator, the specific start and end date for the budget period. Grant awards are made after review and approval of the application. Grantees are reimbursed for actual expenses based on submissions in financial status reports. EXAMPLES OF FUNDED PROJECTS:

2021 Most states have unique environmental priorities and program implementation needs. Each EPA-state partnership negotiation takes into account the particular capacities, needs, and interests of that state. PPGs have allowed States to take advantage of administrative and program efficiencies and innovations to achieve greater environmental and program results. States and Tribes have used PPGs to address critical emergencies and unplanned events and have used PPG flexibility to overcome periodic budget needs or high program demands in specific programs. States and Tribes have used PPGs to implement multi-program initiatives and innovations that impact many environmental programs. They also have taken advantage of streamlined administrative procedures to make grant processes more efficient. PPGs have allowed Tribes to develop and implement environmental programs in situations where it would have been more difficult using categorical grants.

66.608 Environmental Information Exchange Network Grant Program and Related Assistance

Exchange Network Grant Program,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

AUTHORIZATION:

Title EPA's Annual Appropriations Acts,

OBJECTIVES:

The National Environmental Information Exchange Network (EN) is an inter-governmental partnership to foster better environmental management and decision-making through increased access to timely and high quality environmental information. The EN, launched in 2002, uses a standards-based approach to facilitate environmental data sharing among EPA, states, tribes and territories. This framework allows organizations to exchange and share data over the Internet regardless of the specific information technology used. The EN is the foundation for the E-Enterprise Initiative, also a joint state, tribal, territory and EPA partnership, launched in 2013. Its goals include expanding access to environmental data, personalizing the access experience through customized portals and re-engineering and streamlining regulatory information collection and reporting processes to achieve burden reduction and cost avoidance. Phase 1 of EN implementation focused on transforming the regulatory reporting processes of eight national data flows, by moving them from out-of-date reporting methods to standardized electronic reporting approaches based on EN data standards and technology. Phase 2, which was initiated in 2013, focuses on providing the data management and technology approaches needed by EPA and its co-regulators to collaboratively modernize and improve the implementation of environmental programs. This includes creating and using shared services, data publishing and EPA outbound services to increase access to EPA data, innovative collection, monitoring and analytical methods, and electronic reporting to states by the regulated community. The Exchange Network Grant Program provides funding for projects that develop the Network and enable timely, on-demand access to environmental data through innovative technologies, improved support systems, and expanded collaboration using shared tools and services EPA encourages applicants to propose projects that align with the principles of E-Enterprise for the Environment. Funding Priorities - Fiscal Year 2021: There are three funding areas for the FY 2021 EPA Exchange Network Grant Program: Funding Area 1: Increased Data Access and Innovative Business Processes. The opportunities under this funding area are designed to help agencies adopt innovative business processes and modernize the critical data services that power their systems and workflows. Funding Area 2: Eliminate paper submittals and expand e-reporting. The opportunities under this funding area are designed by EPA National Program Offices to help their stakeholders submit and share programmatic data for fourteen EPA programs. Funding Area 3: Augment the Information Management Capacity of EN Partners. The opportunities under this funding area are designed to enable applicants to build the IT and data management capacity necessary to effectively manage their environmental programs and to identify the most valuable ways for their programs to participate in the EN.

Marine Protection, Research, and Sanctuaries Act, Section 203, Title Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act, Section 311(c), Title Solid Waste Disposal Act, Section 8001(c)(1), Title Clean Water Act, Section 104(b)(3), Title Clean Air Act, Section 103 (b)(3), Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act, Section 20(a), as amended P.L. 106-74, Title Safe Drinking Water Act, Section 1442(c)(3), National Environmental Policy Act, Section 102(2)(F), Title Toxic Substances Control Act, Section 10(a) as amended by PL 106-74

OBJECTIVES:

To support efforts by organizations; educational institutions; and/or State, local, and tribal governmental agencies to establish or enhance their ability to take actions that will reduce environmental risks to the health of children. Since 1997, when the Office of Children's Health Protection was established, EPA has focused on children's health protection, undertaking a variety of efforts to improve the environments where children live, learn and play. EPA has sponsored research to evaluate the impacts of environmental exposures on children's health, ensured that children's health protection is a key component of our risk assessments and regulatory decision-making, and supported efforts to promote the measurement and tracking of environmental health disparities. EPA has launched projects to improve school environments, promote healthy homes, address indoor and outdoor air quality, and reduce children's exposures to chemicals, pesticides, and radiation. EPA has developed tools to enable citizens, communities, governmental and non-governmental agencies to take steps toward protecting children from environmental health threats. EPA has worked with healthcare providers to identify, prevent and reduce environmental threat to children. EPA has also provided international leadership in the protection of children worldwide. EPA's partnerships with other federal agencies; state and local governments; tribes; nongovernmental organizations; healthcare providers; academia; and others are essential to achieving our children's health protection goals. It is only through our combined efforts that we can achieve the goals of making the health protection of children a fundamental goal of public health and environmental protection. Funding Priority - Fiscal Year 2021: In FY2021, EPA's Office of Children's Health Protection issued a Request for Applications (RFA) under the Children's Healthy Learning Environments Grant Initiative to provide capacity building to address children's environmental health in school and childcare settings. The Children's Healthy Learning Environments Grant Initiative provides funding directly to organizations to support school- and/or childcare center-based capacity building projects that help school communities understand and address local environmental and public health issues that affect children.

Grants and cooperative agreements are subject to inspections and audits by the Comptroller General of the United States, the EPA Office of Inspector General, other EPA staff, or any authorized representative of the Federal government. Reviews by the EPA Project Officer and the Grants Specialist may occur each year.

Records:

Recipients must keep financial records, including all documents supporting entries on accounting records and to substantiate changes in grants available to personnel authorized to examine EPA recipients grants and cooperative agreements records. Recipients must maintain all records until 3 years from the date of submission of final expenditure reports as required by 2 CFR 200.334. If questions, such as those raised because of audits remain following the 3-year period, recipients must retain records until the matter is completely resolved.

Range and Average of Financial Assistance:

No competitive solicitations were awarded in FY2021. In prior years, when funding was available to support competitive solicitations, funding amounts would generally range between $50,000 to $250,000. Smaller, non-competitive award amounts were used to support workshops on research topics, or provided funding support technical assistance to help communities learn about and implement smart growth approaches. Awards on the upper end of the range would typically support multiple year projects focusing on identified priority research topics (e.g., using alternative survey methods; examination of alternative market-based mechanisms).

evaluations, conferences, workshops, and demonstration projects on the benefits, costs, and impacts of environmental programs; (3) improve economic information and analytic methods to support studies, surveys, analyses, evaluations, conferences, workshops, and demonstration projects of incentive-based and voluntary environmental management strategies and mechanisms; (4) support research to explore and develop strategies and mechanisms for those in the economic, social, governmental, and environmental arenas to use in environmental management decisions; (5) provide technical assistance to help communities to learn about and implement locally led, community driven approaches that deliver environmental, economic, and quality-of-life benefits; and (6) build and strengthen the adaptive capacity of states, tribes, and local communities to anticipate, prepare for, and adapt to the impacts of extreme weather (e.g., storms and droughts) and other events (e.g., wildfires, sea level rise and storm surges) now and in the future. Funding Priorities - Fiscal Year 2021: Other than the limited support for small and unsolicited grants, there were no competitive environmental economic research solicitations issued in FY2021 due to limited available resources. If resources become available in future fiscal years, research priorities in the field of environmental economics and related research continue to include: work on improvements in the valuation of environmental benefits, including human health and ecological services; measuring economic costs and impacts to society from regulations, including effective ways to forecast future pollution control technologies, regulatory costs and impacts on employment and competitiveness of regulated sectors of the economy; integrating economic and natural science models for purposes of assessing environmental risks and consequences; and utilization of alternative regulatory management approaches, including use of voluntary and incentive-based programs to achieve environmental objectives. Additionally, if resources become available for community driven environmental protection strategies in FY 2021, priorities for funding will include providing assistance to communities around revitalization strategies that improve environmental outcomes, training on technical assistance methods that connect economic development and environmental protection, and assistance to states to advance their environmental objectives through policy reform or capacity building.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants, Project Grants (Discretionary)

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Grants and cooperative agreements are available to support recipients' allowable direct costs incident to approved Environmental Policy and Innovation plus allowable indirect costs, in accordance with established EPA policies and regulations. Funding awarded for research does not include research within the purview of EPA's Office of Research and Development. Funds awarded under Section 311(b)(3) of CERCLA must be used for projects relating to innovative or alternative treatment technologies that may be utilized in response actions to achieve more permanent protection of human health and welfare and the environment. Environmental economic research supported under this assistance can be used for the following: (1) To support analyses, studies, evaluations, workshops, conferences, and demonstration projects that lead to reduced pollutants generated and conservation of natural resources; (2) to improve economic information and analytic methods to support studies, surveys, analyses, evaluations, conferences, workshops, and demonstration projects on the benefits, costs, and impacts of environmental programs; (3) to improve economic information and analytic methods to support studies, surveys, analyses, evaluations, conferences, workshops, and demonstration projects of incentive-based and voluntary environmental management strategies and mechanisms; (4) to support research to explore and develop strategies and mechanisms for those in the economic, social, governmental, and environmental arenas to use in environmental management decisions; and (5) to provide technical assistance to help communities to learn about and implement locally led, community driven approaches that deliver environmental, economic, and quality-of-life benefits. Assistance agreement awards under this program may involve or relate to geospatial information. Further information regarding geospatial information may be obtained by viewing the following website: Geospatial Resources at EPA (<https://www.epa.gov/geospatial>).

Applicant Eligibility:

Interstate; Intrastate; State (includes District of Columbia, public institutions of higher education and hospitals); Local (includes State-designated Indian Tribes, excludes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Public nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Federally Recognized Indian Tribal Governments; U.S. Territories and possessions (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Individual/Family; Private nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Assistance under this program is generally available to States and local governments, territories and possessions, foreign governments, international organizations, Indian Tribes, interstate organizations, intrastate organizations, and possessions of the U.S., including the District of Columbia, public and private universities and colleges, hospitals, laboratories, other public or private nonprofit institutions, and individuals. Nonprofit organizations described in Section 501(c)(4) of the Internal Revenue Code that engage in lobbying activities as defined in Section 3 of the Lobbying Disclosure Act of 1995 are not eligible to apply. Non-profit organization, as defined by 2 CFR Part 200, means any corporation, trust, association, cooperative or other organization that: (1) is operated primarily for scientific, educational, service, charitable or similar purposes in the public interest; (2) is not organized primarily for profit; and (3) uses its net proceeds to maintain, improve and/or expand its operations. Note that the definition of Nonprofit organization in 2 CFR Part 200 specifically excludes Institutions of Higher Education from the definition of non-profit organization because they are separately defined in the regulation. For profit organizations are generally not eligible for funding. Some of EPA's statutes may limit assistance to specific types of interested applicants. See "Authorization" listed above. National Laboratories funded by Federal Agencies (Federally-Funded Research and Development Centers, "FFRDCs") may not apply. FFRDC employees may cooperate or collaborate with eligible applicants within the limits imposed by applicable legislation and regulations. They may participate in planning, conducting, and analyzing the research directed by the applicant, but may not direct projects on behalf of the applicant organization. The institution, organization, or governance receiving the award may provide funds through its grant from the EPA to an FFRDC for research personnel, supplies, equipment, and other expenses directly related to the research. Federal Agencies may not apply. Federal employees are not eligible to serve in a principal leadership role on a grant, and may not receive salaries or augment their Agency's appropriations in other ways through grants made by this program. For certain competitive funding opportunities under this assistance listing, the Agency may limit eligibility to compete to a number or subset of eligible applicants consistent with the Agency's Assistance Agreement Competition Policy.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

State; Local; Federally Recognized Indian Tribal Governments; Individual/Family; Private nonprofit institution/organization; State and local governments, U.S. territories and possessions, Indian Tribes, universities and colleges, hospitals, laboratories, other public and private nonprofit institutions, individuals, and international organizations.

Credentials/Documentation:

Documentation of nonprofit status may be required. Applicants may be requested to demonstrate they have appropriate background, academic training, experience in the field, and necessary equipment to carry out projects. EPA may ask applicants or principle investigators to provide curriculum vitae and relevant publications. 2 CFR 200, Sub-part E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is required. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is eligible for coverage under E.O. 12372, "Intergovernmental Review of Federal Programs." An applicant should consult the office or official designated as the single point of contact in his or her State for more information on the process the State requires to be followed in applying for assistance, if the State has selected the program for review. EPA financial assistance programs and activities subject to intergovernmental review that are subject to review under State single point of contact procedures are identified at <https://www.epa.gov/grants/epa-financial-assistance-programs-subject-executive-order-12372-and-section-204-demonstration>. Applicants for programs or activities subject to Intergovernmental Review that are not subject to State single point of contact review must provide directly affected State, areawide, regional, and local entities at least 60 days to review their application following notification by EPA that the application has been selected for funding as provided by 40 CFR 29.8(a) and (c). Regarding pre-application assistance with respect to competitive funding opportunities under this assistance listing, EPA will generally specify the nature of the pre-application assistance, if any, that will be available to applicants in the competitive announcement. For additional information, contact the individual(s) listed in the competitive announcement.

ASSISTANCE LISTINGS DESCRIPTIONS

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. Applicants, except in limited circumstances approved by the Agency, must submit all initial applications for funding through Grants.gov. Notice of Funding Opportunities (NOFO) for this listing will be posted on Grants.gov.

Award Procedure:

For non-competitive awards, EPA will conduct an administrative evaluation to determine the adequacy of the application in relation to grant regulations and to technical and program evaluation to determine the merit and relevance of the project. The Agency will then advise the applicant if funding is being considered. A final work plan will then be negotiated with the applicant. For competitive awards, EPA will review and evaluate applications in accordance with the terms, conditions, and criteria stated in the competitive announcement. Competitions will be conducted in accordance with EPA policies/regulations for competing assistance agreements. For competitions involving research that are administered as part of the Economic and Decision Sciences program, OP will continue to adhere to the policies established by ORD, NCER and their Science to Achieve Results (STAR) program, which includes engaging an external technical peer review panel to evaluate the technical merits of research applications.

Deadlines:

Contact the headquarters or regional location, as appropriate for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

From 120 to 180 days. Approximately 180 days for most competitive solicitations. For competitive solicitations administered under the Economic and Decision Sciences program, the time for notification is approximately 240 days.

Appeals:

Other. Assistance agreement competition-related disputes will be resolved in accordance with the dispute resolution procedures published in 70 FR (Federal Register) 3629, 3630 (January 26, 2005). Copies of these procedures may also be found at: <https://www.epa.gov/grants/grant-competition-dispute-resolution-procedures>. Disputes relating to matters other than the competitive selection of recipients will be resolved under 2 CFR 1500 Subpart E, as applicable.

Renewals:

Other. Generally, EPA may sometimes choose to either fully or incrementally fund awarded grants and cooperative agreements for Environmental Policy and Innovation. Approval of subsequent funding increments and extensions are dependent on satisfactory project progress, continued relevance of the project to EPA's priorities, availability of funds, and Agency policy on the competitive grant process. Extensions for environmental economic research awards are subject to limitations placed on research grants, which presently allow consideration of up to seven years for the period of performance.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory formula is not applicable to this assistance listing. Matching requirements are not applicable to this assistance listing. MOE requirements are not applicable to this assistance listing.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

Grants and cooperative agreements are usually funded on a 12-month basis. However, EPA can negotiate the project period with each applicant based on project requirements. EPA has limitations on project periods, and grants and cooperative agreements may be fully funded or incrementally funded. These determinations are made by EPA. Method of awarding/releasing assistance: other

Reports:

For grants awarded to fund environmental economic research, recipients shall submit a Final Technical Report that provides a complete description of all research undertaken and all results achieved. Grant funded workshops shall provide summaries of papers presented, attendance and feedback from attendees on the quality and successful accomplishment of the workshop objectives. Additional guidance and information on suitable formats for the semi-annual Progress Reports, Annual Programmatic Reviews, and Final Technical Reports will be provided by the designated EPA Project Officer. EPA includes reporting requirements for grants and cooperative agreements in the terms and conditions of the agreements. Agreements may require quarterly, interim, and final progress reports, and financial, equipment, and invention reports. Specific reporting requirements are also identified in the Grant Regulations 2 CFR Parts 200 and 1500. In general, it is the policy of the Office of the Administrator to require Progress Reports from recipients on a routine schedule - either quarterly, semiannually or on an annual basis. This requirement, or a different requirement when applicable, will be spelled out in solicitations issued under this assistance listing, and confirmed in the Terms and Conditions section for funded assistance agreements. Grant recipients are required to provide financial information to confirm that actual spending is consistent with the approved budget and allowable uses of EPA funds.

Audits:

In accordance with the provisions of 2 CFR 200, Subpart F - Audit Requirements, nonfederal entities that expend financial assistance of $750,000 or more in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. Non-Federal entities that expend less than $750,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in 2 CFR 200.503. Grants and cooperative agreements are subject to inspections and audits by the Comptroller General of the United States, the EPA Office of Inspector General, other EPA staff, or any authorized representative of the Federal government. Reviews by the EPA Project Officer and the Grants Specialist may occur each year.

Recipients must keep financial records, including all documents supporting entries on accounting records and to substantiate changes in grants available to personnel authorized to examine EPA recipients grants and cooperative agreements records. Recipients must maintain all records until 3 years from the date of submission of final expenditure reports as required by 2 CFR 200.334. PROGRAM ACCOMPLISHMENTS:

Fiscal Year 2021: Competitive and open solicitations for environmental economics research and workshop grant applications under this assistance listing ended in FY2010 and the final performance period of awards closed in FY2016. Up until FY2021, there have been no new awards, and therefore there are no program accomplishments to report for this year. With the awarding of a set of small research and workshop grants in FY2021, it is expected that there will be information on Program Accomplishments to include in the FY2022 update. Due to limited funds, during Fiscal Year 2021, EPA's Office of Community Revitalization did not fund any new cooperative agreements.

RELATED PROGRAMS:

66.510 Surveys, Studies, Investigations and Special Purpose Grants within the Office of Research and Development;

EXAMPLES OF FUNDED PROJECTS:

2021 A series of five small unsolicited research grants were funded in FY2021, awarded for the following purposes: 1) A research project to measure the monetary benefits to people over age 65 from the 1997 revision to the NAAQS under sections 108 and 109 of the Clean Air Act to add a new annual standard for PM_{2.5} of 15 ug/m³. This retrospective evaluation leverages novel data and causal inference methods to develop new estimates for key metrics used to prospectively evaluate benefits of PM_{2.5} reductions under the CAA for reductions in actual PM_{2.5} exposure from 2000-2010. 2) A research project to retrospectively estimate how reductions in coal-fired power-plant emissions of PM_{2.5} precursors impacted local air quality and related health outcomes, focusing on benefits projected under the Clean Air Interstate Rule and the Transport Rule. Research uses state-of-the-art particulate trajectory modeling, integrated with mortality and morbidity health data and local regulatory management decisions affected by upwind emission sources to examine potential regulatory rebound effects. 3) A research project to support the provision of data and models on the US fuel refining industry as open source (i.e., free to the public) resources, including a model of the US refining industry that can be used by other researchers to study economic and environmental regulations of this industry. The model provides an improved tool to investigate implications of regulatory alternatives for the refining industry market structure and impacts inputs to production, including evaluating outcomes from carbon pricing mechanisms and trading programs. 4) A research project to assess the effectiveness and efficiency of exhaust standards over the last half century, investigating how air pollution from passenger vehicles changed over time, exploring long-term causes for declines in pollution emissions for the new and used US light duty vehicle fleets. The research will also examine the cost-effectiveness of these standards and develop quantitative mathematical models of new and used vehicle fleets to study how feasible alternative policies would affect vehicle pollution emissions, consumer choices, and consumer well-being. 5) A research project to produce a comprehensive database of the introduction and seasonal use of all boutique fuels used in the United States since 1990 combined with ambient air quality monitoring data to develop statistical estimates of boutique fuel specific estimates of air quality improvements by monitor. Another small grant was awarded to help to support conferences gathering researchers, students, and policy practitioners to share information on cutting edge environmental economics research on pollution and environmental policy options. The conferences provide discussions on current issues and state-of-the-art research methods; identify research needs for advancing sound ideas and new approaches; enhance opportunities for collaborative efforts among researchers and policy practitioners; and encourage scholarship, offering young professionals feedback and connections with the research community.

CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:

The evaluation and selection criteria for competitive awards under this assistance listing will be described in the competitive announcement. Non-competitive applications are judged for: (a) technical merit in terms of: (1) strengths and weaknesses of the project; (2) adequacy of overall project design; (3) competency of proposed staff; (4) suitability of applicant's available resources; (5) appropriateness of the proposed project period and budget; and (6) probability that the project will accomplish stated objectives; and, for (b) program interest in terms of: (1) the need for the proposed project; and (2) relationship to program objectives.

PROGRAM ACCOMPLISHMENTS:

Fiscal Year 2021: The Consolidated Pesticide Enforcement Cooperative Agreements are continuing environmental program grants. It is anticipated that 70 applications for pesticide enforcement grants will be received and 70 grants awarded in fiscal year 2021. Agencies participating in the federal cooperative agreement program receive funds to support and strengthen pesticide compliance monitoring, inspection, and enforcement activities. Typical program activities include inspections and observations at pesticide application sites to ensure user compliance with label directions and acceptable use practices; inspections of pesticide products at production facilities and in the retail marketplace to ensure industry compliance with registration, classification, and labeling requirements; and initiation of appropriate enforcement action when violations are detected including civil and criminal prosecution, stop sale orders, seizures, recalls, and warning notices. The states will also develop implementation plans for special pesticide initiatives. States will be responsible for dissemination of information and materials related to these pesticide initiatives. States, territories, and tribes that are participating in the pesticide enforcement cooperative agreements program are expected to conduct approximately 75,000 compliance monitoring inspections in FY 2020. These inspections will be conducted at agricultural establishments, pesticide producers and retailers, ports of entry, at pesticide applicators, as well as at other site where pesticides were distributed, sold, or used. These grants fund state and tribal pesticide programs that are part of a consolidated agreement. As EPAs co-regulators, these pesticide programs work extensively with pesticide applicators, growers, commodity groups, as well as other government agencies to promote the proper use of pesticides and address pesticide issues. These programs conduct extensive technical assistance for all stakeholders as well as the general public, and provide outreach and education on EPAs national pesticide priorities such as worker protection, pollinator protection and emerging public health pesticide issues. If enforcement funds are included, these funds are used to enforce FIFRA.

66.701 Toxic Substances Compliance Monitoring Cooperative Agreements

FEDERAL AGENCY:

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

AUTHORIZATION:

Title Toxics Substances Control Act, Section 404(g), Title Toxic Substances Control Act, Section 28(a)

OBJECTIVES:

The objectives of this assistance program are to: 1) assist Grantees, including States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, Guam, America Samoa, the Northern Marianas, the Trust Territories of the Pacific Islands, the Virgin Islands, and Indian Tribes, in developing and maintaining compliance monitoring programs to prevent or eliminate unreasonable risks to health or the environment associated with chemical substances or mixtures in their communities, specifically Lead-based paint, Asbestos, and PCB; 2) encourage regulatory activities within the Grantees communities to establish their own programs for Lead-based paint and Asbestos (waiver programs); and 3) provide funds to support enforcement activities for Asbestos waiver state programs and Lead-based paint programs. EPA may provide funding for cooperative compliance monitoring grants to Grantees under TSCA to conduct inspections to ensure compliance with the PCB regulations, the Asbestos-in-Schools requirements (inspections at charter schools, public schools, private, non-profit schools and religious schools), the Model Accreditation Plan (MAP), TSCA section 6 Ban and Phase Out Rule, and the TSCA Asbestos Worker Protection Standards and to conduct Lead-based paint activities. Authorized Grantees also conduct enforcement responses for the Lead-based program. Grantees that have obtained an EPA waiver from the Asbestos regulation (Subpart E of Part 763) also have enforcement responsibilities. Fiscal Year 2021 funding priorities for the TSCA PCB and Asbestos programs are: 1) ensure existing compliance monitoring programs continue to meet established standards; 2) promote activities that lead to waiver status for Asbestos programs; 3) ensure states meet EPA inspector training requirements necessary to obtain and keep EPA credentials in those programs which require the use of EPA credentials

(the PCB compliance monitoring programs and Asbestos programs in non-waiver states); 4) provide inspection activity where there is an identified need including, but not limited to, Children's Health and Environmental Justice areas.

This approach establishes a weighted formula that emphasizes lead-based paint, maximizing environmental benefits and program performance. The new formula provides more specificity regarding multiple program areas including Lead Renovation, Repair and Repainting, Lead Abatement, and the Lead Hazard Information Pamphlet: Renovation of Target Housing programs. Within the asbestos program, more weight is given to asbestos grants for Grantees that obtain waivers from EPA in order to self-implement. The following are ranges of possible funding for: Lead: $22,000 to $48,000/year per authorized lead-based paint program and PCB and Asbestos: $27,000 to $55,000/year.

businesses/facilities on source reduction/P2 techniques to help them adopt and implement source reduction/P2 approaches that may increase the development, adoption, and market penetration of sustainable manufacturing and processing practices and greener products. 2. Identify, develop, document, and share source reduction/P2 best management practices and innovations so the information generated may inform future technical assistance and encourage practices and innovations that may be replicated by others. The technical assistance provided must use P2/source reduction techniques to reduce and/or eliminate pollution from air, water and/or land prior to performing recycling, reuse, clean up or disposal activities. The P2 grant program may fund grants and/or cooperative agreements. Funding Priorities - Fiscal Year 2021: 1. To help businesses adopt P2 techniques into day-to-day operations to reduce and/or eliminate harmful pollutants from entering the air, water or land; 2. To encourage education and/or training in P2/source reduction techniques by adopting one or more of the P2 Program's National Emphasis Areas (NEAs). NEAs will be described in anticipated grant solicitation announcements; 3. To support P2 information sharing of best management practices and innovations among States, federally-recognized tribes, local technical assistance programs, businesses, and industry in order to replicate work of others.

Statutory Formula: Title Pollution Prevention Act of 1990, Chapter , Part , Subpart ,Public Law .Matching Requirements: Percent: 50%. Requirement: Matching requirements are mandatory. The statutory match/cost share requirement for P2 and PPIN grants is authorized by the Pollution Prevention Act of 1990. Eligible awardees receiving P2 or PPIN grant funds are required to match federal funding by at least 50 percent. As such, EPA will provide half of the total allowable project cost and the grantee will provide the remaining half. To further illustrate, if the total project cost is $100,000, in order to meet the 50 percent cost share or match requirement, the grantee must be able to provide $50,000 in cash or in-kind contributions in order to be eligible to receive $50,000 in federal grant funds from EPA. Cash or in-kind contributions may include: dollars, in-kind goods and services, and/or third party contributions. When applying for P2 or PPIN grant funding, the applicant must note in their budget the application and use of matching funds. The match requirement may be applied at the time of award or at specified intervals during the project period. The grant project officer in the EPA Region will monitor the grantee's compliance addressing the match requirement. If the match requirement is not met or is not applied at specified intervals during the project period, federal funding will cease and the grantee may be held liable for all incurred costs. With concern to federally-recognized tribes or intertribal consortia only -- If a federally-recognized tribe or intertribal consortium is selected for a P2 grant award and tribe then chooses to place their approved P2 grant workplan in a performance partnership grant (PPG) agreement, the match or cost share requirement will be reduced from 50 percent to 5 percent. The reduction in match will be applied during the first two years of the PPG agreement. If applicable, after two years of funding, the EPA Regional Administrator will make the determination through objective assessment whether the federally-recognized tribe or intertribal consortium meets the socioeconomic needs test to warrant keeping the match/cost share at 5 percent. For further information on match and cost share requirements, please reference the applicable P2 or PPIN grant announcement that is posted to Grants.govMOE requirements are not applicable to this assistance listing.

Reports:

P2 grant reporting requirements may be found in the solicitation announcement to inform potential applicants and are also provided as part of the terms and conditions of grantees' federal assistance agreements. The terms and conditions detail the type of information grantees are to provide in their program reports/semi-annual progress reports and final technical reports. More information on P2 grant reporting and the type of information required can be found on: EPA's P2 Grant Programs page - Measuring P2 page: <https://www.epa.gov/p2/measuring-pollution-prevention> and the P2 Grant reporting web page: <https://www.epa.gov/p2/grant-programs-pollution-prevention#reporting>. Note: EPA provides excel-based reporting templates on its P2 Grant Programs web page:

(<https://www.epa.gov/p2/grant-programs-pollution-prevention#reporting>). The templates help grantees document three types of grant reporting: 1) technical assistance provided to one business, 2) green certification reporting and 3) technical assistance provided to multiple businesses. The templates also allow grantees to record actions taken to implement P2 practices. Separately, as part of the semi-annual progress and/or final technical report, EPA will require grantees to provide expenditure and financial reports, and equipment and inventory reports (if applicable). Specific reporting requirements are also identified in the Grant Regulations at 2 CFR 200 and 1500, as applicable. The P2 and PPIN grant programs require grantees to submit budget information to the grant project officer. The information should be included in the grantees' semi-annual progress report. Refer to "Program Reports" Refer to "Program Reports". Final technical report describing work accomplished, milestones achieved or missed, P2 best practices implemented and/or shared, lessons learned, activities transferred to others to replicate and possible case study work accomplished. EXAMPLES OF FUNDED PROJECTS:

2021 The following is a sampling of funded projects issued under the FY 2020-FY2021 P2 grant cycle: 1) Providing technical assistance to businesses in the metal fabrication industry. The primary goal of the project is to help businesses to reduce the use of toxic chemical by identifying safer alternatives. The grantee will also help businesses reduce water and hazardous material use; and will provide outreach and educational materials in the form of webinars and presentations to industry. 2) Grantee and local partners will collaborating to assist chemical, metal, and food and beverage manufacturers in identifying P2 opportunities and implement cost-effective and energy-efficient technology-based solutions. The grantees team will prioritize manufacturing companies in environmental justice communities with historically higher health risks and proximity to contaminated sites. The grantee will partner with its team of technical assistance providers to determine best practices for each industry; provide direct pollution prevention assistance to businesses in the region through both on-site assessments and training; expand awareness of P2 strategies through educational workshops and online videos with TAPs; recognize solutions in an awards ceremony and certification program; and document and share best practices with the network. 3) Conducting research on safer chemical alternatives to perfluorinated and polyfluorinated alkyl substances (PFAS) in the carpet and food packaging industry sectors and educate manufacturers on their findings via webinars and roundtable meetings. The project seeks to inform these industries about the hazards found in formulations, tools to use in performing alternative and chemical hazard assessments, training in how to use the tools, and case studies of safer substitutions and a broad methodology for finding alternatives. 4) Providing training and technical assistance to 25 food and beverage manufacturers and another 20 businesses in auto repair and maintenance. The grantee will also encourage manufacturers and businesses to join a statewide green business program that hosts P2 trainings for brewers, generalized P2 for food manufacturers and automotive repair and maintenance shops. 5) Pairing trained student P2 interns with businesses to provide direct technical assistance by researching current practices and recommending P2 opportunities. The P2 interns and the grantees staff work with businesses for 10 weeks, then transfer that assistance through presentations at a roundtable and workshop, conferences, case summaries/studies, webinars, and on-site activities to promote replication. The grantee will also provide specific technical assistance available to businesses seeking information about source reduction opportunities and will produce a video series, 60-seconds to P2" to promote P2 best practices and its P2 technical assistance approaches. In addition, the grantee will implement an awareness and recognition project to educate businesses and communities, enabling them to implement P2 practices to improve environmental stewardship by adopting more efficient, sustainable, and protective policies, practices, materials, and technologies.

66.717 Source Reduction Assistance

SRA Grants,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

AUTHORIZATION:

Title Toxic Substances Control Act, Section 10 (a), Public Law 106-74, Title Clean Air Act, Section 103, Title Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act (FIFRA), Section 20 (a), Public Law 106-74, Title Clean Water Act, Section 104, Title Safe Drinking Water Act, Section 1442, Title Solid Waste Disposal Act, Section 8001

OBJECTIVES:

The goal of the SRA program is to award grants that support research, investigation, study, demonstration, education and training using source reduction approaches (also known as pollution prevention and herein referred to as P2). P2 means reducing or eliminating pollutants from entering any waste stream or otherwise released into the environment prior to recycling, treatment, or disposal. This program provides applicants the opportunity to utilize hands on practical P2 tools, information and/or innovative P2 approaches to measurably improve the public health and the surrounding environment, by reducing the use of hazardous substances, reducing toxic pollutants, supporting efficiencies in reducing resource use (e.g., water and energy), and reducing business expenditures and liability costs. Funding Priorities - Fiscal Year 2021: The Pollution Prevention (P2) Program has adopted five national emphasis areas (NEAs) for the FY 2020/2021 grant cycle. Grant projects selected for award must support at least one of these NEAs. Establishing these grant priorities is intended to help focus resources to generate more impactful and measurable results, and to facilitate sharing of information among grantees working on similar issues. The following NEAs offer significant opportunities for pollution prevention, economic and environmental impact: NEA #1: Food and Beverage Manufacturing and Processing; NEA #2: Chemical Manufacturing, Processing and Formulation; NEA #3: Automotive Manufacturing and Maintenance; NEA #4: Aerospace Product and Parts Manufacturing and Maintenance; NEA #5: Metal Manufacturing and Fabrication. For more information on the P2 National Emphasis Areas (NEA), visit: <https://www.epa.gov/p2/p2-national-emphasis-areas-neas>.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants, Project Grants (Discretionary)

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Source reduction projects can include but are not limited to: 1) improving facility and institutional operations that reduce hazardous material use and exposure, 2) reformulating and procuring products to reduce toxics, 3) providing direct technical assistance to businesses and other organizations, 4) encouraging green product design and manufacturing, 5) conducting outreach, 6) collecting and analyzing P2 data, and 7) integrating P2 concepts into state, regional and tribal environmental multimedia programs. Grant activities must be consistent with the grant guidelines of the statutory authorities listed for this program. The statutory authorities are listed in this assistance listing and in the applicable grant solicitations. SRA assistance agreements must carry out activities within the terms of EPA's statutory authorities. The statutes authorize the agency to award grants or cooperative agreements using methods of: research, investigations, experiments, education, training, surveys, studies and/or demonstration of innovative techniques. SRA assistance agreement activities must relate to gathering or transferring information or advancing awareness. Applications must emphasize this "learning" concept, as opposed to "fixing" an environmental problem using a well-established method. Examples of unacceptable grant applications involve: recycling, treatment, clean-up, disposal and/or energy recovery projects. In addition, demonstrations of P2 practices must involve new or experimental technologies, methods, or approaches, where the results of the project will be disseminated so that others can benefit from the knowledge gained in the demonstration project. A project that is accomplished through the performance of routine, traditional, or established practices, or a project that is simply intended to carry out a task rather than transfer information or advance the state of knowledge, however worthwhile the project might be, is not a demonstration.

Reports:

SRA grant reporting requirements may be found in the competitive announcement to inform potential applicants and are also provided as part of the terms and conditions of grantees' federal assistance agreements. The terms and conditions detail the type of information grantees are to provide in their program reports/semi-annual progress reports and final technical reports. More information on SRA grant reporting and the type of information required can be found on: EPA's Pollution Prevention Grant Programs - Measuring P2 page:

<https://www.epa.gov/p2/measuring-pollution-prevention> and the Grant reporting page: <https://www.epa.gov/p2/grant-programs-pollution-prevention#reporting>.

Note: EPA provides excel-based reporting templates on its Pollution Prevention Grant Programs web page: (<https://www.epa.gov/p2/grant-programs-pollution-prevention#reporting>). The templates help grantees document three types of grant reporting: 1) technical assistance provided to one business, 2) green certification reporting and 3) technical assistance provided to multiple businesses/entities. The templates also allow grantees to record actions taken to implement P2 practices. Separately, as part of the semi-annual progress and/or final technical report, EPA will require grantees to provide expenditure and financial reports, and equipment and invention reports (if applicable). Specific reporting requirements are also identified in the Grant Regulations at 2 CFR 200 and 1500, as applicable. Budget information should be submitted to the grant project officer. This information should be included in the semi-annual progress report and the final technical report. Semi-annual progress reports marking milestones. Also refer to "Program Report". An explanation of budget, resources and expenditures should be included in the semi-annual progress report and the final technical report. Also refer to "Program Reports". A final technical report is due at the completion of the federal funding period of the grant or cooperative agreement. The performance report should note milestones achieved, environmental results, lessons learned, transferability of information to others and possible inclusion of case studies highlighting project activities. Also refer to "Program Reports"

Audits:

In accordance with the provisions of 2 CFR 200, Subpart F - Audit Requirements, nonfederal entities that expend financial assistance of $750,000 or more in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. Non-Federal entities that expend less than $750,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in 2 CFR 200.503. Grants and cooperative agreements are subject to inspections and audits by the Comptroller General of the United States, the EPA Office of Inspector General, other EPA staff, or any authorized representative of the Federal government. Reviews by the EPA Project Officer and the Grants Specialist may occur each year.

Records:

Recipients must keep financial records, including all documents supporting entries on accounting records and to substantiate changes in grants available to personnel authorized to examine EPA recipients grants and cooperative agreements records. Recipients must maintain all records until 3 years from the date of submission of final expenditure reports as required by 2 CFR 200.334. If questions, such as those raised because of audits remain following the 3-year period, recipients must retain records until the matter is completely resolved.

EXAMPLES OF FUNDED PROJECTS:

2021 The following is a sampling of funded projects issued under the national FY2020-FY2021 SRA grant competition cycle: 1) Grantee working with several industry and agency partners to present a model for water and energy conservation in the agrochemical and pharmaceutical industry that includes facilitating pollution prevention education, informing local industry of the disparity between water supply and demand, creating a regional partnership network, and encouraging a culture of conservation. This project will employ real-time monitoring in manufacturing facilities to detect corrosion, microbial activity, salt content, and other contaminants that can adversely affect water and energy consumption. 2) Providing four food and beverage manufacturers with industrial assessments recommending actions that will minimize operating costs and reduce the use of water, energy, and hazardous substances in their processes. The grantee will also create a new intern pollution prevention program and will develop a best management practices training manual as part of this effort. 3) Grantee helping businesses and industrial facilities to improve their environmental performance by providing four P2 internships and produce three videos demonstrating use of P2 monitoring equipment. Videos will feature a P2 staff person demonstrating the use of a piece of equipment, explaining the equipments purpose, and how it is used in P2 projects. The videos will also discuss how to apply the data once collected to make a P2 recommendation. The grantee will also conduct on-site assessments, follow up assistance, and other general outreach for businesses. Businesses will also benefit from the grantees workshop series, annual webinar, electronic P2 Resources Library, and P2 Infohouse. 4) Providing a series of online trainings to promote P2 strategies and helping chemical and metal manufacturers implement pollution prevention techniques that will reduce hazardous chemical use and waste. The grantees internship program will enlist University engineering students and will identify projects that will result in the reduction or elimination of hazardous substances generated. The grantee anticipates recruiting 30 manufacturers through marketing programs, create two sector-specific promotional videos to help recruit manufacturers, prepare training modules to be presented online, conduct trainings with follow-up calls and recommendations, and conduct a minimum of two projects with businesses to reduce or eliminate the use of hazardous chemicals. 5) Grantee, in partnership with states within their region, will conduct P2 activities in to reduce the use of chemicals regulated under the Toxic Chemicals Control Act (TSCA) such as perchloroethylene (PERC), trichloroethylene (TCE), methylene chloride (MC) and n-propyl bromide (nPB), which are commonly used in auto repair. The grantee will provide webinar trainings, meetings and roundtable conferences, industrial on-site assessments, and educational resources such as checklists, fact sheets and case studies. The grantee will give P2 assessment training to interns and project participants, assisting as necessary with on-site P2 assessments, and advising participating businesses and interns. The grantee will conduct one webinar in safer alternatives in auto repair in the first year of the project, and a second webinar targeting breweries for P2 technical assistance in wastewater in the second year.

PROGRAM ACCOMPLISHMENTS:

Fiscal Year 2020: In Fiscal Year 2020, EPA Regional Offices awarded cooperative agreements to lead cleanup actions, or to support EPA-lead cleanup actions, at hazardous waste sites. Cooperative agreements were awarded to lead the evaluation of newly discovered sites, to assess and investigate sites that have been identified as needing further action, to select, in partnership with EPA, the appropriate technologies and cleanup actions for these sites, to design the selected technologies and cleanup actions, and to construct the designed remedy. Funding was used to start or continue long term remedial actions to treat ground water where remediation goals have not yet been reached. Finally, funding was provided to meaningfully and substantially participate in cleanup actions where EPA led the cleanup, and to conduct statutorily required five-year reviews. 66.804 Underground Storage Tank (UST) Prevention, Detection, and Compliance Program

UST Prevention, Detection and Compliance Program,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

AUTHORIZATION:

Title Solid Waste Disposal Act, Section 2007(f)(2), Title Solid Waste Disposal Act, Section 9011, 42 USC Code 6991. Title Solid Waste Disposal Act, Section 9013 & EPA's Annual Appropriation Acts

OBJECTIVES:

To assist states, territories, tribes or intertribal consortia (leaking underground storage tank prevention only for tribes or intertribal consortia) that meet the requirements at 40 CFR 35.504 to develop and implement underground storage tank (UST) programs and for leak prevention, compliance, and other activities authorized by the Energy Policy Act (EPAct) of 2005, Public Law 105-276, and EPA's annual appropriations acts. Funding Priorities - Fiscal Year 2021 and 2022: Assistance agreements to states under Section 2007 of the Solid Waste and Disposal Act will support core program UST activities, implement their leak prevention and detection programs, as well as the 2005 Energy Policy Act (EPAct) leak prevention activities. High priority tasks include providing financial assistance to states for the following: 1) adopting and implementing EPA's recently-released regulatory revisions; 2) approving specific technologies to detect leaks from tank systems; 3) ensuring that tank owners and operators are complying with notification and other requirements; 4) ensuring equipment compatibility; 5) conducting UST inspections; 6) implementing operator training; 7) prohibiting delivery for non-complying facilities; 8) seeking state program approval to operate the UST program in lieu of the federal program; and 9) requiring secondary containment. Leaking underground storage tank (LUST) prevention assistance agreements to states, tribes, or intertribal consortia for activities authorized by EPAct will support states with inspections and other release prevention and compliance assurance activities for federally-regulated UST systems, as well as for enforcement activities related to release prevention. A main cause of releases is the lack of proper operation and maintenance of UST systems, which is why the EPA published revised UST regulations in FY 2015 that address these and other important issues. These changes will require subsequent state adoption, applicable updates to state regulations, and updates to state program approval. For tribes, the LUST prevention assistance agreements will assist with all aspects of the tribal programs, e.g., inspection capacity. High priority tasks include providing financial assistance to tribes for: 1) inspecting UST facilities to complete the three-year inspection requirement; 2) developing inspection capacity for tribes; 3) enforcement activities related to release prevention; 4) development of leak prevention regulations and other program infrastructure; 5) helping tribes develop the capacity to administer UST programs, such as providing funding to support training for tribal staff and educating owners and operators in Indian country about UST requirements. These activities are geared toward bringing all UST systems into compliance with release detection and release prevention requirements and minimizing future releases. Priority will be given to providing funds to enable the states to meet their responsibilities under Title XV, Subtitle B of the Energy Policy Act of 2005. States that have entered into assistance agreements with EPA must have the authority to inspect and take other compliance and related enforcement actions to prevent releases from USTs. As outlined in the FY 2022 President's Budget Request, this program will support core program activities required by the EPAct and the EPAs grant guidelines, such as inspecting UST facilities to meet the three-year inspection requirement and assisting states in adopting prevention measures (for example, delivery prohibition, secondary containment, and operator training). Due to the Covid-19 pandemic, many states fell behind in their 3-year EPAct inspection frequency requirement. EPA will work with states to ensure they come back into compliance and return to their regular inspection cycles.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Formula Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

LUST prevention assistance agreements are Continuing Environmental Program Grants. States and tribes may use financial assistance under this program for eligible and allowable costs incurred under assistance agreements for leak prevention, detection, and compliance, as described in the Section:50 Funding Priority. Assistance agreements are available to support recipients' eligible and allowable direct costs incurred under an approved work plan plus allowable indirect costs, in accordance with established EPA policies and regulations. Unlike State and Tribal Assistance Grant (STAG) funding under Section 2007(f) of the Solid Waste Disposal Act (SWDA), the LUST prevention funding under Section 9011 and other applicable provisions of Subtitle I of the SWDA is not eligible for inclusion in Performance Partnership Grants under 40 CFR 35.133. EPA may award combined STAG funded UST prevention, detection, and compliance assistance agreements authorized by Section 2007(f) with LUST prevention assistance agreements authorized by Subtitle I if the combined agreement is not included in a PPG. Assistance agreement awards under this program may involve or relate to geospatial information. Further information regarding geospatial information may be obtained by viewing the following website: Geospatial Resources at EPA (<https://www.epa.gov/geospatial>).

Applicant Eligibility:

State (includes District of Columbia, public institutions of higher education and hospitals); Federally Recognized Indian Tribal Governments; U.S. Territories and possessions (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Prevention, detection, and compliance assistance agreements are only available to states and territories and to federally-recognized tribes and intertribal consortia that must meet the requirements, as described in the Federal Register Notice, Vol. 67, No. 213, pp. 67181-67183, "Update to EPA Policy on Certain Grants to Intertribal Consortia." These assistance agreements may also be used for EPA to help states, who request it, to obtain SEE enrollees through a SEE assistance agreement to work on the state's USTs and to support direct UST implementation programs.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

U.S. Territories; State; Federally Recognized Indian Tribal Governments; States, Territories, Tribes and Intertribal Consortia.

Credentials/Documentation:

States and Territories must either submit certification indicating the State or Territory meets the applicable EPAct provisions, or submit documentation describing the State or Territory's efforts to meet the requirements, in accordance with EPA's EPAct grant guidelines (see <https://www.epa.gov/ust/energy-policy-act-2005-and-underground-storage-tanks-usts>). The EPA Regional Offices maintain the credentials/documentation for State and Territorial programs and federally-recognized Tribes and Intertribal Consortia. 2 CFR 200, Sub-part E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is required. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is eligible for coverage under E.O. 12372, "Intergovernmental Review of Federal Programs." An applicant should consult the office or official designated as the single point of contact in his or her State for more information on the process the State requires to be followed in applying for assistance, if the State has selected the program for review. EPA financial assistance programs and activities subject to intergovernmental review that are subject to review under State single point of contact procedures are identified at <https://www.epa.gov/grants/epa-financial-assistance-programs-subject-executive-order-12372-and-section-204-demonstration>. Applicants for programs or activities subject to Intergovernmental Review that are not subject to State single point of contact review must provide directly affected State, areawide, regional, and local entities at least 60 days to review their application following notification by EPA that the application has been selected for funding as provided by 40 CFR 29.8(a) and (c).

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. Applicants, except in limited circumstances approved by the Agency, must submit all initial applications for funding through Grants.gov. Notice of Funding Opportunities (NOFO) for this listing will be posted on Grants.gov.

Award Procedure:

These funds are awarded non-competitively. Applications will be subjected to administrative evaluation to determine the adequacy of the application in relation to assistance agreement regulations and to technical and program evaluation to determine the merit and relevance of the project. The Agency will advise the applicant if funding is being considered. A final work plan will be negotiated with the applicant. An assistance agreement must be signed between EPA and the state or territory or EPA and the tribe or intertribal consortia. EPA awards the assistance agreements to states through a previously established allocation process, issued under national guidance rather than through competition (see 40 CFR 35.332 and EPA Order 5700.5, Section 6(c)(1)). If EPA elects to hold competitions for tribal or intertribal consortia assistance agreements, EPA will review and evaluate applications in accordance with the terms, conditions, and criteria stated in the competitive announcement. Competitions will be conducted in accordance with EPA policies/regulations for competing assistance agreements.

Deadlines:

Not Applicable.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

From 90 to 120 days.

Appeals:

Other. Disputes will be resolved under 2 CFR 1500 Subpart E, as applicable.

Renewals:

Other. Contact the appropriate Regional Office. See <https://www.epa.gov/ust/underground-storage-tank-ust-contacts>.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory formula is not applicable to this assistance listing. Matching Requirements: Percent: 25%. Requirement: Matching requirements are voluntary. The UST prevention, detection, and compliance Solid Waste Disposal Act 2007(f) assistance agreement (STAG) program has no statutory formula or matching requirement. However, there is a 25 percent matching requirement (cost share) for States under 40 CFR 35.335. State matches (cost shares) may include in-kind contributions. Under 40 CFR 35.332, EPA regions allocate funds to states based on their programmatic needs and applicable EPA guidance. Factors include the number of active federally regulated petroleum underground storage tanks. LUST Prevention funding is awarded under Section 9011 and other applicable provisions of Subtitle I of the Solid Waste Disposal Act subject to an allocation process developed by the Agency. The Agency distributes funds based on the number of federally-regulated petroleum USTs in a State and other indicators of State needs. States will provide a 25 percent match (cost share) for assistance agreements awarded under Section 9011 and other applicable provisions of Subtitle I. If EPA awards a State a combined UST prevention, detection, and compliance (STAG) and LUST prevention assistance agreement, the 25 percent cost share will apply to total project costs for the combined assistance agreement. There is no matching requirement (cost share) for prevention, detection and compliance assistance agreements for Tribes or Intertribal Consortia awarded pursuant under Public Law 105-276 or the Agency's annual appropriation acts. MOE requirements are not applicable to this assistance listing.

ASSISTANCE LISTINGS DESCRIPTIONS

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

The terms of the assistance agreement shall be determined at the time of award by the specific EPA regional office. Assistance agreements can be awarded on a single- or multiple-year basis up to seven years. Method of awarding/releasing assistance: lump sum.

Reports:

Reporting requirements are identified at 2 CFR 200.327. EPA regional offices may include additional information regarding the content and frequency of reporting requirements in the terms and conditions of the agreements. Recipients submit annual reports which include a description of the progress made towards meeting environmental goals as expressed by the environmental indicators and program measures. Recipients report program performance results semi-annually that provide updates for commitments and priorities. Progress reports are required and identified at 2 CFR 200.327. States must certify that they are meeting or are making progress in meeting the EPA requirements. States are required to provide expenditure reports for overall funding for UST prevention, detection, and compliance (STAG) assistance agreements. For LUST prevention assistance agreements, States are required to submit Federal Financial Reports (SF-425). Annual reviews are conducted to determine recipients' progress in meeting overall program goals.

Audits:

In accordance with the provisions of 2 CFR 200, Subpart F - Audit Requirements, nonfederal entities that expend financial assistance of $750,000 or more in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. Non-Federal entities that expend less than $750,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in 2 CFR 200.503. Grants and cooperative agreements are subject to inspections and audits by the Comptroller General of the United States, the EPA Office of Inspector General, other EPA staff, or any authorized representative of the Federal government. Reviews by the EPA Project Officer and the Grants Specialist may occur each year.

Records:

The record retention requirements of 2 CFR 1500.6 are applicable depending upon the identity of the recipient. Financial records, including all documents to support entries on accounting records and to substantiate changes to each grant must be kept available to personnel authorized to examine EPA grant accounts. All records must be maintained until expiration of three years from the date of submission of the final expenditure report. If questions still remain, such as those raised as a result of audit, related records should be retained until the matter is completely resolved.

The Agency will advise the applicant if funding is being considered. A final work plan will be negotiated with the applicant. A cooperative agreement must be signed between EPA and the state or territory or EPA and the tribe or intertribal consortia. EPA awards cooperative agreements to states through a previously established allocation process, issued under national guidance rather than through competition. See EPA Order 5700.5A1, EPA's Policy for Competition of Assistance Agreements, Section 6(c)(1) at: <https://www.epa.gov/grants/epa-order-57005a1-epas-policy-competition-assistance-agreements>.

Deadlines:

Contact the headquarters or regional location, as appropriate for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

From 90 to 120 days. Generally from 3 to 4 months.

Appeals:

Renewals:

Other. Contact the appropriate Regional Office. See <https://www.epa.gov/ust/underground-storage-tank-ust-contacts>.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory formula is not applicable to this assistance listing. Matching Requirements: Percent: 10%. Requirement: Matching requirements are voluntary. LUST corrective action funding awarded under Section 9003(h)(7) of the Solid Waste Disposal Act is subject to an allocation process developed by the Agency. By guidance, the Agency has established a process for allocating funds to states under Section 9003(h)(7) based on the cumulative numbers of confirmed UST releases, total number of existing registered petroleum UST systems, cleanups initiated, cleanups completed, the percentage of the population using groundwater for drinking water, and the number of states with approved UST programs. This program allocates funding to tribes and intertribal consortia non-competitively based on their programmatic needs and national guidance. States must provide a 10 percent cost share for cooperative agreements awarded under Section 9003(h)(7). There is no matching requirement for corrective action cooperative agreements for tribes or intertribal consortia awarded pursuant to Public Law 105-276. MOE requirements are not applicable to this assistance listing.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

The terms of the grant shall be determined at the time of the grant award by the specific EPA Regional Office. LUST Trust Fund Corrective Action Program cooperative agreements are awarded to states annually on a multi-year cycle. Method of awarding/releasing assistance: lump sum.

Reports:

EPA includes reporting requirements for grants and cooperative agreements in the terms and conditions of the agreements. Agreements may require interim and final progress reports, and expenditure/financial, equipment, and invention reports. Progress reports are generally required at least semi-annually. Specific reporting requirements are also identified in the Grant Regulations at 2 CFR 200.329 and 2 CFR 1500, as applicable. Reporting requirements are determined at time of award. Non-Federal entities that expend less than $750,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in 2 CFR 200.503. Grants and cooperative agreements are subject to inspections and audits by the Comptroller General of the United States, the EPA Office of Inspector General, other EPA staff, or any authorized representative of the Federal government. Reviews by the EPA Project Officer and the Grants Specialist may occur each year.

Records:

The record retention requirements of 2 CFR 1500.6 are applicable depending upon

66.806 Superfund Technical Assistance Grants (TAG) for Community Groups at National Priority List (NPL) Sites

TAG,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

AUTHORIZATION:

Title Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act (CERCLA), Section 117(e) as amended by 42 USC 9617

OBJECTIVES:

The statutory authority for this project is CERCLA 117(e) as amended by 42 USC 9617(e); it authorizes Technical Assistance Grants to be awarded to groups of individuals affected by or threatened by a release at a Superfund site so that they can obtain independent technical assistance to interpret site-related documents and share this information to the rest of the community. The objective of each TAG is to procure an independent technical advisor(s) to review and inform the community on EPA documents related to cleaning up the Superfund site that is affecting them. The goal of each TAG is that the technical advisor's information aids the community in the preparation of public comments which assists the community to more meaningfully participate in the cleanup decision-making process. Funding Priorities - Fiscal Year 2021: Only one grant is available per site, at any time. EPA does not prioritize among eligible sites. All TAG applications are given equal priority as long as the site and group are eligible. The applicant group must meet minimum administrative and management capability requirements by demonstrating they have or will have reliable procedures for record keeping and financial accountability related to TAG management. In addition, all applications must address: plans for using a technical advisor's services, plans and ability to inform other members of the community, and the group's membership (representative of the different individuals/groups affected by the site). Funding must be used to obtain technical assistance so that the community better understand technical issues related to the cleanup of the Superfund site affecting them and to provide comments on technical and decisions throughout the cleanup process. Groups may obtain a technical advisor to help them understand site-related documents and information, such as: the nature of the environmental and public health hazards at the site; the various stages of health and environmental investigations; cleanup and operation and maintenance activities for a site; exposure investigation and health studies; site monitoring plans and reports; the remedial investigation feasibility study, record of decision, remedial design documents; site reuse options and considerations; selection and construction of remedial action; removal activities; and operation and maintenance.

listing are described in the programmatic regulations (40 CFR Part 35) as follow. In selecting a proposal: 1) EPA will determine if a group meets the following eligibility criteria: (a) The community group is a group of people who may be "affected" by a release or a threatened release at any facility listed on the NPL or proposed for listing under the NCP where a response action is underway; and (b) The group meets the minimum administrative and management capability requirements found in 2 CFR 200 by demonstrating they have or will have reliable procedures for record keeping and financial accountability related to managing the TAG. 2) EPA will also determine if there are factors which make the group ineligible. A group is ineligible if: (a) The group is a "potentially responsible party" (PRP), receives money or services from a PRP, or represents a PRP; (b) The group is "affiliated" with a national organization; (c) The group is an academic institution; (d) The group is a political subdivision; (e) The group was established or is presently sustained by any of the ineligible entities listed above; or (f) The group is not incorporated as a nonprofit organization for the specific purpose of representing affected people except as provided in 40 CFR 35.4045. 3) Once EPA determines if eligibility requirements have been met, the Agency considers whether and how successfully a group meets the following, equally weighted, criteria: (a) Representation of groups and individuals affected by the site; (b) The group's plans to use the services of a technical advisor throughout the Superfund response action; and (c) The group's ability and plan to inform others in the community of the information provided by the technical advisor. 4) Additionally, a group must incorporate as a nonprofit for the purpose of participating in decision making at the Superfund site for which the TAG was granted (for exception see 40 CFR 35.4045). Applicant groups should consult with the Regional TAG Coordinator and the Superfund TAG Handbooks, "Applying for a Grant" and "The Application Forms with Instructions," for details on applying for a TAG.

Performance monitoring is in accordance with the terms and conditions of the cooperative agreement.

Audits:

In accordance with the provisions of 2 CFR 200, Subpart F - Audit Requirements, nonfederal entities that expend financial assistance of $750,000 or more in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. CERCLA Section 128(a) Funding,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

AUTHORIZATION:

Title Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act (CERCLA), Section 128(a)

OBJECTIVES:

EPA's CERCLA Section 128(a) grant program funds activities that establish or enhance state and tribal response program capacity, capitalize revolving loan funds (RLFs), and support insurance mechanisms. The goal of this funding is to provide financial support to establish and enhance the four elements of an effective state or tribal response program as specified in CERCLA Section 128 and to ensure that states and tribes maintain a public record of sites included in their programs. In addition, the CERCLA Section 128(a) grant program provides technical assistance funding for training and research to small communities, Indian tribes, rural communities, and disadvantaged areas as defined in Section 128(a)(1)(B)(III)(iv). Funding Priorities - Fiscal Year 2022: Funding will be prioritized as follows: (1) Funding for program development activities to establish or enhance the four elements of a state or tribal response program and to enable states and tribes to comply with the public record requirement, including activities related to institutional controls. (States and tribes that have established one or more of the four elements will not be prejudiced in funding distributions if their work plan includes activities that enhance the four elements. States with Voluntary Cleanup Program Memorandum of Agreement will not be prejudiced in funding distributions if their work plan does not include tasks related to establishing or enhancing the four elements.) (2) Funding for program development activities to enhance the response program or the cleanup capacity of a state or tribal response program. (3) Funding for site-specific activities at eligible brownfields sites. (4) Funding for environmental insurance mechanisms. (5) Funding to capitalize brownfields cleanup RLFs. In addition, pursuant to Section 128(a)(1)(B)(ii)(III), the program will allocate up to $1.5 M of CERCLA 104(k) funding for technical assistance grants to small communities, Indian tribes, rural areas, or disadvantaged areas to carry out activities described in Section 9604(k)(7)(A). "Establish" includes activities necessary to build the foundation for the four elements of a state or tribal response program or may also include activities that keep their program at a level that meets the four elements. "Enhance" is related to activities that add to or improve a state or tribal response program or increase the number of sites at which response actions are conducted under a state or tribal response program. States and tribes may use Section 128(a) funds for activities that establish and enhance their response programs, even if their response programs address petroleum contamination. Restrictions apply to site-specific activities, such as assessment and cleanup. Assessments and cleanups must be conducted at eligible brownfields sites, as defined in CERCLA 101(39). In addition, states and tribes may provide technical assistance, training and research to small communities and or disadvantaged areas as defined in Section 128(a)(1)(B)(III)(iv).

ASSISTANCE LISTINGS DESCRIPTIONS

CERCLA Section 128(a), a state or tribe must demonstrate that its response program includes, or is taking reasonable steps to include, the four elements of a response program. States or tribes that are parties to voluntary response program memoranda of agreement (MOAs) are automatically eligible for Section 128(a) funding. Additionally, states and tribes, including those with MOAs, must maintain and make available to the public a record of sites at which response actions have been completed in the previous year and are planned to be addressed in the upcoming year in order to qualify for Section 128(a) funding.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

U.S. Territories; State; Federally Recognized Indian Tribal Governments;

Credentials/Documentation:

States and tribes must provide documentation that they have met or are making reasonable progress towards meeting the four statutory elements, or have a Voluntary Cleanup Program Memorandum of Agreement with EPA, and have established and are maintaining the public record. Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is required. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is eligible for coverage under E.O. 12372, "Intergovernmental Review of Federal Programs." An applicant should consult the office or official designated as the single point of contact in his or her State for more information on the process the State requires to be followed in applying for assistance, if the State has selected the program for review. EPA financial assistance programs and activities subject to intergovernmental review that are subject to review under State single point of contact procedures are identified at <https://www.epa.gov/grants/epa-financial-assistance-programs-subject-executive-order-12372-and-section-204-demonstration>. Applicants for programs or activities subject to Intergovernmental Review that are not subject to State single point of contact review must provide directly affected State, areawide, regional, and local entities at least 60 days to review their application following notification by EPA that the application has been selected for funding as provided by 40 CFR 29.8(a) and (c). Annually, states and tribes will work with the EPA regional offices to develop their work plans and funding requests for the upcoming year. Each cooperative agreement must have an annual budget period tied to an annual work plan. Annual funding guidance provides the requirements for submitting requests.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. Applicants, except in limited circumstances approved by the Agency, must submit all initial applications for funding through <http://www.grants.gov>. States and tribes submit requests to EPA regional offices for funding on an annual basis by submitting a proposed work plan. Annual funding guidance provides the information that should be submitted to the regional office. Once initial requests are submitted, EPA headquarters consolidates requests and provides a final allocation based on factors provided in the funding guidance.

Award Procedure:

EPA regional offices will negotiate and enter into a single cooperative agreement with interested states or tribes. States and tribes may distribute these funds among the appropriate state and tribal agencies to meet their specific needs within their state or tribal agency structures. At least annually, the regional offices must verify that a public record as described above exists for each of the state or tribal response programs that are receiving funding.

Deadlines:

Contact the headquarters or regional location, as appropriate for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

From 90 to 120 days. Approximately 90 days are required for the application request to be approved or disapproved.

Appeals:

Other. Disputes will be resolved under 2 CFR 1500 Subpart E, as applicable.

Renewals:

Other. Each state and tribal cooperative agreement will be evaluated on an annual basis to ensure that the requirements to receive funding are being met. If funding is not used, it may be carried over into the next budget period.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory formula is not applicable to this assistance listing. Matching Requirements: Percent: 20%. Requirement: Matching requirements are voluntary. States and tribes are not required to provide matching funds for grants awarded under Section 128(a). However, if the state or tribe uses Section 128(a) funds to capitalize a Brownfields Revolving Loan Fund (RLF) under CERCLA 104(k)(3), a 20% cost share is required on the amount of Section 128(a) funds used to capitalize an RLF. This program has no statutory formula, but does take into account use of prior years' funding in determining future awards. MOE requirements are not applicable to this assistance listing.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

EPA regions will evaluate cooperative agreements annually to ensure that requirements to receive funding are being met. EPA regional offices will determine the project period for each cooperative agreement. These may be for multiple years depending on the regional office's grants policies. Each cooperative agreement must have an annual budget period tied to an annual work plan. Funds are awarded on an annual basis and may be drawn down according to regional financial processes. Method of awarding/releasing assistance: other

Reports:

States and tribes will provide progress reports under 2 CFR 200.328 and 1500, in accordance with terms and conditions of the cooperative agreement negotiated with EPA regional offices. At a minimum, state or tribal progress reports must include both a narrative discussion and performance data relating to the state's or tribe's accomplishments with Section 128(a) funding. Depending upon the activities included in the state's or tribe's scope of work, an EPA regional office may request that a progress report include other elements as described in the Grant Funding Guidance for State and Tribal Response Programs. The regional offices may also request other information be added to the progress reports, as appropriate, to properly document activities described by the cooperative agreement work plan. Expenditure information should be provided in the progress reports. Performance monitoring is in accordance with the terms and conditions of the cooperative agreement.

Audits:

In accordance with the provisions of 2 CFR 200, Subpart F - Audit Requirements, nonfederal entities that expend financial assistance of $750,000 or more in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. 66.818 Brownfields Multipurpose, Assessment, Revolving Loan Fund, and Cleanup Cooperative Agreements

FEDERAL AGENCY:

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

AUTHORIZATION:

Title Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act (CERCLA), Section 104(k)(2), Title Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act (CERCLA), Section 104(k)(3), Title Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act (CERCLA), Section (k)(4)

OBJECTIVES:

Brownfield sites are real property, the expansion, redevelopment, or reuse of which may be complicated by the presence or potential presence of a hazardous substance, pollutant, or contaminant. The objectives of the Brownfield Multipurpose, Assessment, Revolving Loan Fund, and Cleanup cooperative agreements (project grants) are to provide funding: (1) to inventory, characterize, assess, and conduct planning and community involvement related to brownfield sites; (2) to capitalize a revolving loan fund (RLF) which provide loans and subgrants to carry out cleanup activities at brownfield sites; (3) to carry out cleanup activities at brownfield sites that are owned by the grant recipient; and (4) to inventory, characterize, assess, plan or remediate one or more brownfield sites in an area proposed for Multipurpose cooperative agreements. Funding Priorities - Fiscal Year 2022: Funding will support at least 90 Assessment cooperative agreements (estimated $47 million) that recipients may use to inventory, assess, cleanup and plan reuse at brownfield sites, as authorized under CERCLA 104(k)(2). Funding will support at least 20 direct Cleanup cooperative agreements (estimated $13 million) to enable eligible entities to clean up properties that the recipient owns, as authorized under CERCLA 104(k)(3). Funding will support at least 8 competitive RLF cooperative agreements (estimated $8 million) and approximately 40 RLF supplemental awards (estimated at $45 million) to capitalize a revolving loan fund which provides loans and subgrants to carry out cleanup activities at brownfield sites, as authorized under CERCLA 104(k)(3). Funding will not be available for Multipurpose cooperative agreements.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Cooperative Agreements, Cooperative Agreements (Discretionary Grants)

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

For site-specific projects, the site must meet the definition of a brownfields site found at CERCLA 101(39). As part of the application process, EPA provides guidance to assist grant applicants in determining whether sites meet this definition. (1) The brownfield grants may be used to address sites contaminated by hazardous and hazardous substances, pollutants, or contaminants (including hazardous substances co-mingled with petroleum). (2) Brownfields Assessment Grant funds may be used to inventory, characterize, assess, and conduct planning and community involvement related to brownfield sites. (3) An RLF project grant recipient must use at least 50 percent of the awarded funds for cleanup loans to capitalize and implement a revolving loan fund; an RLF Grant recipient may use no more than 50 percent of the awarded funds for cleanup subgrants and may not subgrant to itself. Revolving Loan Fund Grants generally are used to provide no-interest or low-interest loans for brownfields cleanups. (4) An RLF project grant recipient may use its funds to award subgrants to other eligible entities, including nonprofit organizations, for brownfield cleanups on sites owned by the subgrantee; (5) Brownfields Cleanup Grant funds must be used to carry out cleanup activities at brownfield sites that are owned by the grant recipient. (6) Multipurpose Grant projects may be used to conduct assessment, cleanup, and planning activities within a defined area. (7) Costs incurred under CERCLA 104(k) grants or cooperative agreements may not be used for a penalty or fine, a Federal cost-share requirement, a response cost for which the recipient of the grant or cooperative agreement is potentially liable under CERCLA 107, or the cost of complying with a Federal law, with the exception of the costs of laws applicable to cleanup of brownfield sites. For further information, please contact the Headquarters or regional office. Administrative costs, including indirect costs, are limited to 5% of the amount of EPA funding as required by CERCLA 104(k)(5)(E). For further information, please contact the Headquarters or regional office. Assistance agreement awards under this program may involve or relate to geospatial information. Further information regarding geospatial information may be obtained by viewing the following website: Geospatial Resources at EPA (<https://www.epa.gov/geospatial>).

However, nonprofit organizations described in Section 501(c)(4) of the Internal Revenue Code that engage in lobbying activities as defined in Section 3 of the Lobbying Disclosure Act of 1995 are not eligible to apply. For profit organizations are not eligible to apply. For certain competitive funding opportunities under this assistance listing, the Agency may limit eligibility to compete to a number or subset of eligible applicants consistent with the Agency's Assistance Agreement Competition Policy.

Specifically, individuals and commercial organizations in communities will benefit from brownfields assessment, cleanup, and revitalization funding. New strategies for promoting environmental cleanup lessons from these grants will provide a growing base of information and knowledge for other communities across the country seeking partnerships with stakeholders to coordinate issues related to brownfields and leverage additional opportunities for redevelopment.

Credentials/Documentation:

EPA may require that nonprofit organizations or eligible entities other than states, tribes, or general purpose units of local government provide documentation of eligibility. EPA may also require that applicants provide site specific information to determine whether a site qualifies as a brownfield site under CERCLA 101(39). 2 CFR 200, Sub-part E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is required. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is eligible for coverage under E.O. 12372, "Intergovernmental Review of Federal Programs." An applicant should consult the office or official designated as the single point of contact in his or her State for more information on the process the State requires to be followed in applying for assistance, if the State has selected the program for review. EPA financial assistance programs and activities subject to intergovernmental review that are subject to review under State single point of contact procedures are identified at <https://www.epa.gov/grants/epa-financial-assistance-programs-subject-executive-order-12372-and-section-204-demonstration>. Applicants for programs or activities subject to Intergovernmental Review that are not subject to State single point of contact review must provide directly affected State, areawide, regional, and local entities at least 60 days to review their application following notification by EPA that the application has been selected for funding as provided by 40 CFR 29.8(a) and (c). Regarding pre-application assistance with respect to competitive funding opportunities under this assistance listing, EPA will generally specify the nature of the pre-application assistance, if any, that will be available to applicants in the competitive announcement. For additional information, contact the individual(s) listed in the competitive announcement.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. Applicants, except in limited circumstances approved by the Agency, must submit all initial applications for funding through Grants.gov. Notice of Funding Opportunities (NOFO) for this listing will be posted on Grants.gov.

Award Procedure:

EPA guidelines for Requests for Applications will specify award procedures. For competitive awards, EPA will review and evaluate applications, and/or submissions in accordance with the terms, conditions, and criteria stated in the competitive announcement. Competitions will be conducted in accordance with EPA policies/regulations for competing assistance agreements.

Deadlines:

Specific information regarding deadlines is provided in the competitive announcement. Please contact the headquarters or regional location, as appropriate, for additional information.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

From 120 to 180 days. Approximately 180 days.

Appeals:

Copies of these procedures may also be found at: <https://www.epa.gov/grants/grant-competition-dispute-resolution-procedures>. Disputes relating to matters other than the competitive selection of recipients will be resolved under 2 CFR 1500 Subpart E, as applicable.

Renewals:

Other. Recipients of RLF Grants may apply for additional funding on a non-competitive basis during any year after the first year the recipient receives an RLF Grant. To seek additional funding, RLF Grant recipients should contact their EPA Regional Office. In awarding this additional funding the Agency will consider: (I) the number of sites and number of communities that are addressed by the revolving loan fund; (II) the demand for funding by eligible entities that have not previously received an RLF Grant; (III) the demonstrated ability of the eligible entity to use the revolving loan fund to enhance remediation and provide funds on a continuing basis; and (IV) other similar factors, including the availability of funds and the recipient's performance history. When specific criteria are met, RLF supplemental funding can be awarded as a new grant in accordance with CERCLA 104(k)(5)(A)(ii); otherwise, RLF supplemental funding is awarded as an amendment to the existing cooperative agreement with additional years added to the performance period. Recipients of Multipurpose, Assessment, and Cleanup Grants generally do not receive additional funding on a non-competitive basis.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory formula is not applicable to this assistance listing. Matching Requirements: Percent: 20%. Requirement: Matching requirements are mandatory. Under CERCLA 104(k)(10)(B)(iii) revolving loan fund and cleanup grants require a 20 percent cost share, which may be in the form of a contribution of money, labor, material, or services, and must be for eligible and allowable costs. Multipurpose grants require a cost share designated by the Brownfields Program. An RLF or cleanup grant applicant may request a waiver of the 20 percent cost share requirement based on financial hardship. EPA intends to grant waivers on a very limited basis. MOE requirements are not applicable to this assistance listing.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

The performance period for Brownfield Assessment cooperative agreement is three to four years. The performance period for Cleanup cooperative agreement is three years. The performance period for Brownfields Multipurpose and Revolving Loan Fund cooperative agreements is five years. Grants are generally announced nationally and awarded by EPA Regional Offices. 66.926 Indian Environmental General Assistance Program (GAP)

GAP Grants,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

AUTHORIZATION:

Title Indian Environmental General Assistance Program Act of 1992, , 42 USC Code 4368b, as amended.

OBJECTIVES:

EPA provides Indian Environmental General Assistance Program (GAP) financial and technical assistance to tribal governments and intertribal consortia to assist tribes in planning, developing, and establishing the capacity to implement federal environmental programs administered by the EPA and to assist in implementation of tribal solid and hazardous waste programs in accordance with applicable provisions of law, including the Solid Waste Disposal Act (commonly known as the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act, or RCRA). See the Indian Environmental General Assistance Program Act of 1992 (42 U.S.C. 4368b). EPA administers this program in accordance with the statute, applicable federal regulations, including 40 CFR part 35, subpart B (Environmental Program Grants for Tribes), and national guidance, including the 2013 Guidance on the Award and Management of General Assistance Agreements for Tribes and Intertribal Consortia (referred to as GAP Guidance). EPA's GAP Guidance provides a consistent national framework for building tribal environmental program capacity under GAP and is designed to improve the management of GAP resources. EPA will apply the following Guiding Principles in awarding GAP grants and cooperative agreements to tribes and intertribal consortia: 1. Ensure tribal governments have the opportunity to build the capacity to: a. Implement federal environmental programs through EPA delegations, authorizations, and primacy designations; and b. Meaningfully participate and engage in environmental protection activities that inform, support, or enhance direct implementation under federal environmental statutes administered by EPA. 2. Promote tribal self-governance by working closely with tribes to: a. Accomplish tribal environmental program goals in EPA-Tribal Environmental Plans that reflect federal environmental program areas of need to protect human health and the environment; b. Support tribes development of strong core environmental program capacities for media-specific programs administered by EPA; and c. Foster tribes capacity to assume the authority to implement programs administered by EPA (e.g., Treatment as a State status or through Direct Implementation Tribal Cooperative Agreements). 3. Promote intergovernmental collaboration and partnership among EPA, tribes, states, and other partners, and focus EPA financial and technical assistance to protect human health and the environment. 4. Support implementation of established solid and hazardous waste regulatory programs in accordance with the purposes and requirements of applicable provisions of law, including the Solid Waste Disposal Act (commonly known as the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act). 5. Maintain strong national program management practices to produce compelling results that align with EPA's statutory authorities. Funding Priorities - Fiscal Year 2021: EPA will continue to apply the following Guiding Principles in awarding GAP grants and cooperative agreements to tribes and intertribal consortia: 1. Ensure tribal governments have the opportunity to build the capacity to: a. Implement federal environmental programs through EPA delegations, authorizations, and primacy designations; and b. Meaningfully participate and engage in environmental protection activities that inform, support, or enhance direct implementation under federal environmental statutes administered by EPA. 2. Promote tribal self-governance by working closely with tribes to: a. Accomplish tribal environmental program goals in EPA-Tribal Environmental Plans that reflect federal environmental program areas of need to protect human health and the environment; b. Support tribes development of strong core environmental program capacities for media-specific programs administered by EPA; and c. Foster tribes capacity to assume the authority to implement programs administered by EPA (e.g., Treatment as a State status or through Direct Implementation Tribal Cooperative Agreements). 3. Promote intergovernmental collaboration and cooperative federalism among EPA, tribes, states, and other partners, and focus EPA financial and technical assistance to protect human health and the environment. 4. Support implementation of established solid and hazardous waste regulatory programs in accordance with the purposes and requirements of applicable provisions of law, including the Solid Waste Disposal Act (commonly known as the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act). 5. Maintain strong national program management practices to produce compelling results that align with EPA's statutory authorities. (Also view "Indian Environmental General Assistance Program Guiding Principles" found at: <https://www.epa.gov/tribal/indian-environmental-general-assistance-program-guiding-principles>).

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants, Project Grants (Discretionary)

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

All prospective applicants should refer to the applicable program guidance for the Indian Environmental General Assistance Program, "2013 Guidance on the Award and Management of General Assistance Agreements for Tribes and Intertribal Consortia", available at <https://www.epa.gov/tribal/2013-guidance-award-and-management-general-assistance-agreements-tribes-and-intertribal>, for detailed information on allowable activities and restrictions for use of GAP funds. The 2013 GAP Guidance provides criteria for the award and administration of GAP grants and applies to the work plans and budgets for all GAP assistance agreements. It reflects statutory and policy guidelines and contains binding requirements that govern the management and use of GAP funds. Activities eligible for funding under this program are those for planning, developing, and establishing capacity to implement federal environmental programs administered by the EPA and to assist in implementation of tribal solid and hazardous waste programs in accordance with applicable provisions of law, including RCRA. GAP financial support promotes tribal government efforts to develop core environmental program capacities (administrative, financial management, information management, environmental baseline needs assessment, public education/communication, legal, and technical/analytical) and baseline capacities for media-specific programs (e.g., ambient air quality, water quality, managing waste, and other EPA-administered statutory programs). These assistance agreements provide the opportunity for the tribes to define and develop administrative and legal infrastructures; to conduct assessments, monitoring, planning, and other actions; and to undertake additional activities within a simplified administrative framework. GAP supports development of tribal environmental programs that foster compliance with Federal environmental statutes, thereby improving environmental and public health protection in tribal communities, and establish tribes communications capability to work with Federal, State, local and other tribal environmental officials. As with many of EPA's grants to states and tribes, GAP grants may be combined with one or more other eligible EPA grant(s) into a Performance Partnership Grant for administrative savings and, with EPA concurrence, programmatic flexibility. Assistance agreement awards under this program may involve or relate to geospatial information. Further information regarding geospatial information may be obtained by viewing the following website: Geospatial Resources at EPA (<https://www.epa.gov/geospatial>).

Applicant Eligibility:

Federally Recognized Indian Tribal Governments; Indian tribal governments (tribes) and intertribal consortia are eligible to receive funds under this program. These terms are defined in 40 CFR 35.502 as follows: An Indian tribal government (tribe), except as otherwise defined in statute or applicable program specific regulation, is any Indian tribe, band, nation, or other organized group or community, including any Alaska Native village, which is recognized as eligible by the U.S. Department of the Interior for the special services provided by the United States to Indians because of their status as Indians. An intertribal consortium is a partnership between two or more tribes authorized by the governing bodies of those tribes to apply for and receive assistance under GAP. Under EPA's tribal grant regulations (40 CFR 35.504), an intertribal consortium is eligible to receive GAP financial assistance when the consortium can adequately document compliance with the following requirements: 1. A majority of its members are eligible to receive GAP grants; 2. All member tribes that meet GAP eligibility requirements authorize the consortium to apply for and receive the award; and 3. Adequate accounting controls are in place to ensure that only members that meet the eligibility requirements will benefit directly from the award and the consortium agrees to an award condition to that effect. This means that a consortium may receive a GAP grant even if the consortium includes members that are not federally recognized tribes, so long as the consortium meets the three regulatory requirements specified above. Authorization of the consortia to apply for and receive the GAP award is required from all GAP-eligible member tribes. For purposes of determining intertribal consortia eligibility, a GAP-eligible tribe is any tribe that meets the definition of Indian tribal government (tribe) in 40 CFR 35.502. With each new or supplemental GAP grant application, an intertribal consortium must provide EPA with adequate documentation of: (1) the existence of the partnership between eligible tribal governments; and (2) authorization by all GAP-eligible member tribes for the consortium to apply for and receive the new or supplemental GAP grant. This documentation ensures clear communication between consortia and member tribes so that EPA is able to appropriately consider individual tribal needs and priorities when awarding GAP funds to intertribal consortia. As an example, tribal authorization may be provided by a tribal council resolution or other written certification from a duly authorized representative of each GAP-eligible member tribe. Applications that do not contain adequate documentation from all GAP-eligible tribes are incomplete. In accordance with Guiding Principle #2, EPA will award GAP funds to help tribes accomplish their tribal environmental program development goals as outlined in their EPA-Tribal Environmental Plan (ETEP). To further this principle, intertribal consortia are advised to describe how their grant proposals support the program development goals outlined in the ETEPs developed by their GAP-eligible member tribes.

Funding Priority - Fiscal Year FY 2021: Selected projects shall demonstrate the broad range of project types that the WIFIA program can finance including wastewater, drinking water, stormwater, and water recycling projects. For FY 2021, WIFIA is offering loans to small communities for up to 80 percent of eligible project costs. Small communities are defined as fewer than 25,000 people.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Direct Loans

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

This is specifically for water infrastructure.

Applicant Eligibility:

U.S. Territories and possessions; Federal; State (includes District of Columbia, public institutions of higher education and hospitals); Local (includes State-designated Indian Tribes, excludes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Public nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Other public institution/organization; Federally Recognized Indian Tribal Governments; Small business (less than 500 employees); Profit organization; Private nonprofit institution/organization (includes institutions of higher education and hospitals); Other private institutions/organizations; The entity applying for WIFIA credit assistance must be one of the following: a corporation, a partnership, a joint venture, a trust, a federal, state or local government entity, agency, or instrumentality, a tribal government or consortium of tribal governments, a State Revolving Fund (SRF) program as defined by the Clean Water Act and the Safe Drinking Water Act.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Beneficiary eligibility is the same as applicant eligibility.

Credentials/Documentation:

Project selection includes a process to identify projects to invite to apply which are: eligible, creditworthy, technically feasible, meet the public policy goals outlined in the WIFIA statute and regulation. This program is excluded from coverage under 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is required. An environmental impact assessment is required for this listing. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. The WIFIA application process is two phases: Phase 1: Project Selection: EPA announces the amount of funding it will have available and solicits letters of interest from prospective borrowers. In their letters of interest, prospective borrowers demonstrate their project's eligibility, creditworthiness, engineering feasibility, readiness to proceed, and alignment with EPA's policy priorities. Based on this information, EPA selects projects which it intends to fund and invites the prospective borrowers to continue to the application process. Phase 2: Project Review, Negotiation, and Closing: Each invitee must apply for its WIFIA loan. The WIFIA program conducts a detailed financial and engineering review of the project. Based on that review, the WIFIA program proposes terms and conditions for the project and negotiates them with the applicant until they develop a mutually agreeable term sheet and loan agreement. Prior to closing, the WIFIA program must receive approval from the Administrator or his designee and the Office of Management and Budget. At closing, the prospective borrower executes the credit agreement, which is the binding legal document that allows the borrower to receive WIFIA funds.

Award Procedure:

Once projects are selected, prospective borrowers are invited to submit an application. At this point, the funds for the loan are set-aside to ensure the WIFIA program will have sufficient funds for the loan. The borrower does not receive disbursements until after loan closing. At that point the funds are obligated.

Deadlines:

EPA may announce multiple selection rounds in a single notice of funding availability (NOFA). For each selection round, the NOFA will identify a deadline by which letters of interest must be submitted to be considered for funding in that selection round.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

Other. Prospective borrowers have 2-3 months to submit a Letter of Interest (LOI). Exact deadlines will be in the Notice of Funding Availability (NOFA). Projects will be selected approximately 2-3 months after the LOI submission deadline. Once prospective borrowers are notified that they have been selected, they have up to a year to submit an application.

Appeals:

From 1 to 15 days. After a prospective borrower receives a written notification that their project is not eligible under the WIFIA statute, the prospective borrower may respond with a written dispute to the program. The written dispute must be received within fifteen days of WIFIA's notification. The written dispute must include a detailed statement of the legal and/or factual basis for the dispute, the remedy that the prospective borrower is seeking, information on how to communicate with the prospective borrower, and any documentation relevant to the dispute.

Renewals:

Other. Borrowers are able to submit another LOI for additional funding.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory formula is not applicable to this assistance listing. Matching Requirements: Percent: 0%. Requirement: Matching requirements are mandatory. WIFIA can only finance up to 49% of total eligible project costs. It is the prospective borrowers responsibility to show that they have other viable sources of funding for the remaining 51% of the eligible project costs. Federal funding cannot exceed 80% of total project costs. MOE requirements are not applicable to this assistance listing.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

WIFIA loans may have a length of up to 35 years after substantial completion, allowing payment amounts to be smaller throughout the life of the loan. Prospective borrower has up to one year to submit their application from the time they are selected. Method of awarding/releasing assistance: other Requests for disbursements are required. Frequency determined during negotiation of terms and conditions of loan agreement. Performance reports are required. awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. Non-Federal entities that expend less than $750,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in 2 CFR 200.503. Grants and cooperative agreements are subject to inspections and audits by the Comptroller General of the United States, the EPA Office of Inspector General, other EPA staff, or any authorized representative of the Federal government. Reviews by the EPA Project Officer and the Grants Specialist may occur each year. In addition, the program requires audited financial statements per WIFIA regulations and in our loan agreements.

PROGRAM ACCOMPLISHMENTS:

Fiscal Year 2020: Accomplishments under this assistance listing include: One project under this grant program is reducing toxic pollution in the Middle Columbia River Basin by educating and inspiring students and community members to prevent pollution discharges. Developed four pollution-prevention curriculum modules tailored to Columbia River toxic pollution, and pollution prevention and reduction strategies. These online curriculum modules are targeted at middle school students in the Columbia River Gorge. Modules focus on four topics: Household Contaminants; Stormwater, Riparian Zones, and Microplastics. Website here: <https://www.columbiariverkeeper.org/engaging-communities/pollution-prevention-curriculum> Created two bilingual pollution prevention fact sheets completed and distributed via web, email, and social media. https://www.columbiariverkeeper.org/sites/default/files/2021-03/Toxins%20in%20Home_d_Spanish_0.pdf https://www.columbiariverkeeper.org/sites/default/files/2021-03/Toxins%20in%20Home_d.pdf Produced two bilingual radio shows produced and aired on Radio Teirra and posted on Riverkeeper website as podcasts. Completed two community education webinars - "Homebodies and Waterbodies" and "Environmental Advocacy and Justice Perspectives from La Comunidad Latina". Together the webinars had 165 attendees who tuned in live, and the recordings have been viewed over 1,000 times to-date and will continue to be available via our website and social media outlets. In just two of the four planned events, total outreach targets of 150 people have been exceeded. <https://www.columbiariverkeeper.org/news/2021/3/environmental-advocacy-and-justice> <https://www.columbiariverkeeper.org/news/2021/2/homebodies-and-waterbodies-recap> The Pesticide Reduction Outreach (PRO) Campaign is a behavior change campaign that promotes citizen engagement and knowledge by targeting residential users of herbicides and insecticides. 92 participants attended virtual Community Based Social Marketing workshop. Another project will provide on-site technical assistance, trainings, resources, and pollution prevention evaluations to automotive and landscaping businesses, and expand the Ecological Business Program (EcoBiz). One of eight Safer Chemical Alternatives Trainings have taken place (Jan 2021), a second is planned for June 2021. Updated EcoBiz

Landscaping Checklist. Have reached out to 100 businesses and offered Ecobiz technical assistance in landscaping and automotive sectors to help implement best practices and reduce toxic chemicals. Another project is expanding an existing stormwater retrofit program that fills a regulatory gap by working with businesses on a voluntary basis who do not have a regulatory requirement to install stormwater facilities or otherwise manage site-produced toxins that impact urban stormwater runoff. These retrofits reduce or eliminate pollution and runoff, improve water quality, and protect habitat while promoting citizen engagement and knowledge. 70 new businesses have been added to the Stormwater Retrofit Project pipeline (Feb 2021) and five of these businesses have carried out site visits.

66.964 Chesapeake Bay Program Implementation, Regulatory/Accountability and Monitoring Grants

Chesapeake Bay Program CBIG, CBRAP and Monitoring Grants,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

AUTHORIZATION:

Title Clean Water Act, Section 117(e), 33 USC Code 1267. Title EPA Annual and Supplemental Appropriation Acts,

OBJECTIVES:

The EPA's Chesapeake Bay Program (CBP) awards annual grants to states, tribes and local governments that are signatories to the 2014 Chesapeake Bay Watershed Agreement to reduce and prevent pollution and to improve the living resources in the Chesapeake Bay. Grants are awarded for implementation projects, regulatory/accountability, and monitoring, as well as other related activities. EPA's funding priority is to achieve the goals and objectives established in the 2014 Chesapeake Bay Watershed Agreement through the implementation of the management strategies. More detail on these can be found at <http://www.chesapeakeprogress.com>. Funded projects have helped support the commitments set forth in Chesapeake Executive Council agreements and amendments (The Chesapeake Bay Agreement of 1983 through the 2014 Chesapeake Bay Watershed Agreement) and subsequent directives, adoption statements, endorsements and resolutions to expand and strengthen cooperative efforts to restore and protect the Chesapeake Bay. These grants are generally awarded non-competitively through allocation formulas provided in program guidance: Chesapeake Bay Regulatory and Accountability (CBRAP) grants: These grants are awarded to the signatory jurisdictions to aid in implementing and expanding their regulatory, accountability, assessment, compliance, and enforcement capabilities to meet the Water Quality Goal for the 2014 Chesapeake Bay Watershed Agreement and the Bay TMDL. Chesapeake Bay Implementation Grants (CBIG): These grants are awarded non-competitively to the signatory jurisdictions for implementation of the management strategies and their two-year Logic & Action Plans developed for each of the applicable outcomes identified in the 2014 Chesapeake Bay Watershed Agreement. Monitoring Grants: These grants are awarded to signatory jurisdictions for enhanced monitoring and assessment of nutrient and sediment loads, habitat quality, benthic community conditions, and trends of the Chesapeake Bay and its tidal tributaries. These grants are generally awarded non-competitively through allocation formulas.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants (Discretionary)

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

ASSISTANCE LISTINGS DESCRIPTIONS

Assistance Agreements awarded under the Chesapeake Bay Program include the following: (1) Section 117(e)(1)(A) Chesapeake Bay Regulatory and Accountability Grants (CBRAP) - As a result of EO 13508, these grants help each watershed state and the District of Columbia to develop new regulations, design TMDL watershed implementation plans, reissue and enforce permits, and provide technical and compliance assistance to local governments and regulated entities. The grants aid the states and DC in implementing and expanding their jurisdiction's regulatory, accountability and enforcement capabilities, in support of reducing nitrogen, phosphorus and sediment loads delivered to the Bay to meet the water quality goals of the 2014 Chesapeake Bay Watershed Agreement. EPA awards these grants non-competitively. Signatory jurisdictions applying for regulatory and accountability program grants under Section 117(e)(1)(A) must identify 50% cost share of total project costs (equal match/dollar for dollar) as required by statute. (2) Section 117(e)(1)(A) Chesapeake Bay Implementation Grants (CBIG) - The Chesapeake Bay Implementation Grants are authorized under Section 117(e)(1)(A) to signatory jurisdictions. Implementation Grants are for the purpose of implementing the management mechanisms established under the 2014 Chesapeake Bay Watershed Agreement, with particular emphasis on state programs for control and abatement of nonpoint source nutrient and sediment pollution (including atmospheric deposition as a nonpoint source). Specifically, CBIG awards support the jurisdictions' implementation of the management strategies developed for each of the applicable outcomes identified in the 2014 Chesapeake Bay Watershed Agreement. CBIG awards may support the jurisdictions' implementation of their watershed implementation plans (WIPs) and milestone commitments, including addressing EPA's evaluation of the WIPs and milestones, and comparable actions that support nutrient and sediment load reduction goals. If the signatory jurisdictions do not use 117(e)(1)(A) grants for projects consistent with furthering the 2014 Chesapeake Bay Watershed Agreement goals and outcomes, EPA may reallocate, conditionally award, or withhold funds. These grants are awarded non-competitively to any jurisdiction that signed the 2014 Chesapeake Bay Watershed Agreement. Signatory jurisdictions applying for implementation under Section 117(e)(1)(A) must identify 50% cost-share of total project costs (equal match/dollar for dollar). (3) Section 117(e)(1)(B) Monitoring Grants - The monitoring grants are authorized under Section 117(e)(1)(B) for signatory jurisdictions. These grants support the characterization of water and habitat quality and benthic community conditions for the main stem Chesapeake Bay and tidal tributaries, characterizing nutrient and sediment loadings to the Chesapeake Bay and its tidal tributaries from the surrounding Chesapeake Bay watershed, assessing changes in nutrient and sediment concentrations in local streams and rivers throughout the Chesapeake Bay watershed, and providing data analysis and interpretation support for water quality and living resources status and trends. These grants are awarded non-competitively to any signatory jurisdiction that signed the 2014 Chesapeake Bay Watershed Agreement. Signatory jurisdictions applying for monitoring grants under Section 117(e)(1)(B) must identify 50% cost share of total project costs (equal match/dollar for dollar). Additional activities may be funded with resources made available in EPA's annual appropriation acts. Assistance agreement awards under this program may involve or relate to geospatial information. The employment may be with the NRC, other Federal agencies, State agencies, nuclear-related industry, or academia in the students sponsored fields of study. Recipients of scholarship and fellowships must commit to the service obligation agreement. OBJECTIVES:

The U.S. Department of Energy (DOE) National Nuclear Security Administrations (NNSA) Office of Material Management and Minimization (NA-23) is leading the effort to demonstrate and achieve commercial-scale production of the medical isotope, Molybdenum-99, hereafter referred to as Mo-99, without the use of highly enriched uranium (HEU) in the United States. Mo-99 is a critical radioisotope whose decay byproduct technetium-99m (Tc-99m), is used in approximately 40,000 nuclear medicine diagnostic procedures performed daily in the United States. Its primary uses include diagnosing heart disease, treating cancer, and studying organ structure and function. The isotopes short half-life and excellent binding properties make it uniquely suited for medical procedures. However, due to its short half-life it must be produced continuously to meet the medical communitys requirements. The United States does not currently have a domestic production capability for Mo-99 sufficient to meet the needs of the U.S. healthcare community, currently estimated at 4,500 6-day curies per week. Until any U.S. producer enters the market, the United States must import all of its supply from foreign producers, which in some instances use proliferation-sensitive HEU in its production processes. The establishment of reliable, commercial, non-HEU-based Mo-99 production in the United States complements the long-standing U.S. policy to minimize and eliminate the use of proliferation-sensitive HEU in civilian applications in order to prevent the potential theft of this material for malevolent use. The United States is at the nexus of two related priorities: the need to ensure a reliable, robust Mo-99 supply for U.S. patient care, and discouraging the use of proliferation-sensitive HEU in civilian applications. NNSA will issue Cooperative Agreements with the purpose of providing additional federal funding to accelerate commercial Mo-99 projects time to market so that industry and government can fulfill these two critical priorities and decrease the U.S. medical communitys reliance on foreign supplies of Mo-99.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Cooperative Agreements

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Only domestic (U.S.) entities with existing projects to achieve full-scale commercial production of Molybdenum-99 in the United States in accordance with the goals of the program may submit applications. Any U.S. commercial entity with an existing project that plans to produce in the United States without the use of HEU is eligible to apply.

Applicant Eligibility:

Other public institution/organization; Profit organization; U.S. commercial entities with existing technologies to achieve commercial-scale production of Mo-99 in the U.S. National Laboratories, M&O Contractors, Institutions of Higher Education, and Federally Funded Research and Development Centers (FFRDC) are not eligible to apply for an award under this FOA, but can be included in teaming arrangements.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

U.S. Citizen; The general public.

NOTE: Applications submitted via FedConnect will not be accepted Notice of Funding Opportunities (NOFO) for this listing will be posted on Grants.gov.

Award Procedure:

The Merit Review Panel Chairperson will be responsible for reviewing the independent findings and ratings of each evaluator, and ultimately completing a Merit Review Panel Chairpersons Report to summarize the findings and make recommendations for awards to the Selection Official. The Selection Official will consider the merit review recommendation, program policy factors, budget evaluations of the Project Management Plan, and the amount of funds available, when making a decision for awards. PROGRAM ACCOMPLISHMENTS:

Fiscal Year 2020: While vehicles with more efficient and sophisticated engines are hitting the road in ever-greater numbers, their performance is limited by the properties of today's conventional fuels. Researchers with the U.S. Department of Energy Co-Optimization of Fuels & Engines (Co-Optima) initiative are exploring how simultaneous innovations in fuels and engines can boost fuel economy and vehicle performance, while reducing emissions advancing the underlying science needed to deliver better fuels and better engines sooner. The Co-Optima team views fuels not as standalone elements in the transportation system, but as dynamic design variables that can work with modern engines to optimize and revolutionize the entire on-road fleet, from light-duty passenger cars to heavy-duty freight trucks. Top scientists, engineers, and analysts from national laboratories, universities, and industry are collaborating on this first-of-its-kind effort to combine biofuels and combustion research and development. Building on decades of advances in fuels and engines, the Co-Optima initiatives three-pronged, integrated approach is providing American industry with the scientific underpinnings needed to identify and develop: Engines designed to run more efficiently on affordable, scalable, and sustainable fuels; Fuels designed to enable high-efficiency, low-emission engines; Strategies that can shape the success of new fuels and vehicle technologies with industry and consumers.

Range and Average of Financial Assistance:

The range of awards vary per funding opportunity and depends on available program funding. Information on awards is published in the Funding Opportunity Announcements and can be found on the NEUP.gov website. For example, NEUP awards typically range from $400,000 to $1,000,000; however, they can be more or less, as described in the FOA. NEUP R&D awards are capped at $800,000, whereas IRP awards can exceed $1,000,000, based upon the program's R&D focus and available funds. NEUP R&D awards with Nuclear Science User Facility (NSUF) access vary in that they can be funded both by DOE award and with NSUF resources and funding. Infrastructure awards greater than $250,000 require the university to share costs, calculated as a percentage of the amount over the $250,000 threshold. For IUP, Fellowship awards are typically $155,000 and Scholarship awards are $7,500 per student.

PROGRAM ACCOMPLISHMENTS:

Fiscal Year 2021: DOE awarded more than $48 million through the Nuclear Energy University Program (NEUP) to support more than 40 university-led nuclear energy research and development projects in approximately 28 states. Additionally, 23 university-led projects received more than $5.9 million for research reactor and infrastructure improvements. 2 research and development projects led by DOE national laboratories and U.S. universities received $5 million in funding for crosscutting research projects. DOE also selected 1 universities, 2 national laboratories, and 1 industry-led projects that will take advantage of NSUF capabilities. DOE will support 3 of these projects with a total of just over $1 million in research funds. All 4 of these projects will be supported by just under $4 million in facility access costs and expertise for experimental neutron and ion irradiation testing, post-irradiation examination facilities, synchrotron beamline capabilities, and technical assistance for design and analysis of experiments through NSUF. Through the Integrated University Program (IUP), the DOE awarded more than $5 million for 50 undergraduate scholarships and 31 graduate fellowships to students pursuing nuclear energy-related disciplines at universities across the country. With this year's awards, the Office of Nuclear Energy has now awarded more than $807 million to continue American leadership in clean energy innovation and to train the next generation of nuclear engineers and scientists through its university programs since 2009. Visit Energy.gov for information on all of DOE's efforts to continue American leadership in low-carbon nuclear energy innovation.

81.114 University Reactor Infrastructure and Education Support;

EXAMPLES OF FUNDED PROJECTS:

2021 The NEUP.gov website is updated regularly with information on financial assistance to universities and colleges through Funding Opportunity Announcements (FOA) to stimulate and guide advanced nuclear energy research and to support students pursuing nuclear energy related disciplines at universities and colleges across the country. The website offers facts on prior awards, reporting information, and upcoming funding opportunity announcements (FOA). The programs covered in this website include the Nuclear Energy University Program (NEUP) and Integrated University Program (IUP). NEUP has three R&D elements: Integrated Research Projects (IRP), NEUP R&D, and Infrastructure. IRPs cover large, collaborative, university-led projects, addressing near-term needs of the DOE Office of Nuclear Energy's (NE) research and development (R&D) programs. NEUP R&D projects are university led projects that focus on more general and longer term R&D, guided by NE's programs. And Infrastructure support, including upgrades to university research reactors and general scientific infrastructure capabilities, advances the R&D and educational missions of universities. With the IUP, DOE supports nuclear science and engineering education and the next generation workforce through financial support to universities and colleges by awarding fellowships to graduate level students and scholarship grants to undergraduate level students. And by encouraging U.S. companies to partner with other U.S. federal agencies, public and private laboratories, institutions of higher education, and other domestic entities, DOE further supports the development of advanced nuclear energy technology and stimulates the sharing of expertise needed to successfully develop these innovative technologies. Through its Industry FOA, DOE solicits proposals for cost-shared projects to develop innovative, industry-driven reactor designs, and accompanying technologies with high potential to advance nuclear power in the United States.

CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:

Each proposal will be evaluated based on an objective merit review in accordance with the requirement of "DOE Financial Assistance Regulations" (2 CFR 200) and the evaluation criteria set forth in the competitive solicitations. These criteria will include: appropriateness of the proposal method or approach, competency of research personnel and adequacy of proposed resources, reasonableness and appropriateness of the proposed budget, and other appropriate factors.

ASSISTANCE LISTINGS DESCRIPTIONS

PROGRAM ACCOMPLISHMENTS:

Fiscal Year 2021: Since 2009, ARPA-E has provided approximately $2.6 billion in R&D funding for more than 1,000 potentially transformational energy technology projects. ARPA-E tracks key early indicators that help illustrate how the advanced R&D funded by the Agency can potentially turn into commercial impact, including private-sector follow-on funding, new company formation, partnership with other government agencies, publications, inventions, and patents. In May 2021, ARPA-E announced that many of its project teams have continued to advance their technologies: 92 new companies have formed; 242 have partnered with another government agency; and 181 teams have together raised more than $5.4 billion in private-sector follow-on funding to continue to advance their technology toward the market. Moreover, as of May 2021, ARPA-E projects have helped advance scientific understanding and technological innovation through 4,871 peer-reviewed journal articles and 751 patents issued by the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office. These indicators demonstrate that ARPA-Es approach to selecting, funding, and actively managing early-stage energy R&D continues to pay off, advancing the state of the art in energy science and engineering and defining new opportunities for commercialization of advanced energy technologies. 81.139 Environmental Management R&D and Validation Testing on High Efficiency Particulate Air (HEPA) Filters

Environmental Management R&D,

FEDERAL AGENCY:

ENERGY, DEPARTMENT OF

AUTHORIZATION:

The activity conducted under this award is authorized pursuant to: The Department of Energy Act, Public Law 95-91, 42 U.S.C. 7256, in conjunction with 42 U.S.C. 7112.

OBJECTIVES:

EM research and development and validation testing (R&DT) provides necessary investments in mid- to long-range activities to address the technological gaps in defense environmental cleanup, including: (1) radioactive liquid and solid waste treatment, storage and disposal; (2) soil and groundwater remediation; (3) nuclear materials and spent fuel management and disposition; (4) facility deactivation and decommissioning; and (5) public, worker, facility/asset, and environmental safety and security. EM R&DT investments seek high-payoff, game-changing technologies and innovations to positively impact EMs program lifecycle baseline by: (1) reducing costs; (2) accelerating schedules; (3) mitigating mission uncertainties, vulnerabilities, and risks; and (4) minimizing the mortgage associated with long-term, post-closure and post-completion stewardship. EM R&DT also provides the opportunity to perform work and operate facilities more effectively and in a manner that assures public, worker and environmental safety. New and novel technologies as well as innovative solutions are needed to address the significant challenges associated with the remaining nuclear cleanup work that will span the next five decades. The program encompasses the entire maturation lifecycle of technology which includes transfer of technologies from other nuclear and non-nuclear industry sectors. EMs technology portfolio will leverage and harness the expertise, resources, and capabilities of US universities and colleges. Academia will support EM in four distinct roles: (1) as an expert-based resource for conducting early-stage and applied scientific research and for providing engineering solutions; (2) as a pool of recognized subject matter experts to support technical peer reviews and independent technical assessments; (3) as incubators and pipelines for EMs future workforce; and (4) as a source of independent testing, verification, and confirmatory evaluation. EM will work to improve the technical training of its workforce through Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math (STEM) education, experiential learning, and apprenticeships. EM R&DT supports the safety and quality of permanent containment and confinement ventilation systems as well as modular worksite and breathing-zone ventilation systems used to support nuclear, radiological, chemical, and other high-consequence facility and environmental operations. Future funds will be executed to: (1) conduct basic and early-stage applied research, particularly in areas that lead to the basis of the development, transfer and industrial utilization (commercialization) of new clean air technologies; (2) perform design-specification and quality control inspection, testing and evaluation of existing, newly available, and emerging designs of High-Efficiency Particulate Air (HEPA) filters and other air filtration technologies; (3) perform testing and evaluation of HEPA filter performance in design-basis and off-normal operating conditions as well as in scenarios of major plant or system failures; (4) perform computer modeling and computational (numerical) simulation of airflow dynamics, including multiphase flow, particle tracking, evaporation, combustion, convection, conduction, and radiation heat transfer; (5) perform in-depth engineering analysis of complex fluid flows, including detailed flow characteristics such as velocity, pressure, turbulence, temperature, and species concentration for internal or external flows; (6) support the research and development of new and plant-specific designs of air filtration technologies, including in-line sensors and measurement devices; and (7) complementary and alternative technologies, such as robotics and remote systems, to support the inspection and maintenance of ventilation systems as critical infrastructure. As air filtration systems perform critical safety functions in many high-consequence facilities, continued focus on the quality of commercial, off-the-self technologies as well as on the advancing state-of-the-art must be maintained to assure safety and quality in environmental management operations. Specific to HEPA filters, R&DT under various normal and upset test conditions will help determine valuable operational information (i.e., develop suggested controls and operational methods, and identify failure modes) that can be applied at various commercial and Government/military facilities that treat, store, or process nuclear material or waste streams (e.g. commercial nuclear power facilities), or filter out hazardous particulates or dust for commercial microelectronic clean rooms or hospital operations. This R&DT may increase the protective nature of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers (ASME) AG-1 Code (Code on Nuclear Air and Gas

ASSISTANCE LISTINGS DESCRIPTIONS

Treatment), enhance the ability of professionals to design filters and air filtration systems, and reduce uncertainty in the development of standard operating procedures for facilities involved in nuclear containment ventilation activities. Improving the durability of HEPA filters used in nuclear containment is a key component in protecting the worker and general population in the event of a fire at a nuclear facility, particularly segments of the population near nuclear facilities.

PROGRAM ACCOMPLISHMENTS:

Fiscal Year 2020: SCDNR serves as primary manager of the Crackerneck Wildlife Management Area and Ecological Reserve (Crackerneck), the South Carolina Department of Natural Resources (SCDNR) implemented all aspects of the comprehensive Management Plan for Crackerneck. The SCDNR formulated and implemented the public, outdoor recreation program, 70 days were planned for recreation at Crackerneck but due to the Covid-19 virus closure only 54 days were implemented. A new site use covering the 2020-2021 recreation schedule for the area was submitted and approved. The SCDNR served as a core team member within the Forest-ID Team to insure Crackerneck natural resource prescriptions were consistent with habitat goals outlined in the Management Plan for the area. Frequent meetings with US Forest Service Savannah River Site (USFS-SRS) personnel were held to ensure implementation of future timber harvests, road construction/maintenance, and prescribed burning complied with approved prescriptions and sites. SCDHEC reviewed two Records of Decisions (ROD), eight secondary documents, and six administrative duties during FY21. SCEMD updated and revised the SRS site specific annex to the SC Operation Radiological Emergency Response Plan. Coordinated, reviewed and validated the local emergency response plans of Aiken, Allendale, and Barnwell Counties. Educated the public about safeguarding themselves and their property from hazards associated with SRS operations. Enhanced alert and warning capabilities. Coordinated training for state, Aiken, Allendale and Barnwell county emergency response personnel. GEMA/HS reviewed and updated Annex C (Savannah River Site) to the Georgia Radiological Emergency Plan (REP). GEMA/HS reviewed and updated in cooperation with Burke County Emergency Management Agency the Burke County REP Plan. GEMA/HS conducted periodic meetings of the Radiation Working Group (RWG) to enhance coordination on emergency management/response issues. GEMA/HS conducted training for state and local emergency response personnel whose services may be required in the event of a radiological incident at SRS. SREL provided the public with an independent evaluation of the ecological effects of Savannah River Site (SRS) operations on the environment through a program of ecological research, education and outreach. The community outreach portion of the program relies on traditional methods of community involvement, including workshops and outreach meetings. SSU provides education and community outreach. The approach in the education arena combines an intern program, with expanding environmental curricula. COS provided daily monitoring of the tritium concentrations in the Savannah River to ensure the integrity of the raw water being used throughout the Savannah area from excessive concentrations of tritium to protect public health and safety. SCIAA continued advancement of State knowledge for the cultural heritage of the SRS, the Central Savannah River Area (CSRA) and the southeastern United States.

84.031 Higher Education Institutional Aid

FEDERAL AGENCY:

OFFICE OF POSTSECONDARY EDUCATION, EDUCATION, DEPARTMENT OF

AUTHORIZATION:

Higher Education Act of 1965, as amended (HEA). Title III, Part A, Part B and Part F, Title V, Part A and B.,

OBJECTIVES:

To help eligible colleges and universities to strengthen their management and fiscal operations and to assist such institutions to plan, develop, or implement activities including endowment building to strengthen the academic quality of their institutions.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Eligible institutions may apply under Part A, Part B or Part F of Title III of the HEA, or Title V of the HEA. Title III Part A includes Strengthening Institutions Program (SIP), American Indian Tribally Controlled Colleges and Universities (TCCUs), Alaska Native and Native Hawaiian-serving (ANNH) institutions, Asian American and Native American Pacific Islander-serving Institutions (AANAPISI), Native American-Serving Nontribal Institutions (NASNTI) and Predominantly Black Institutions (PBIs). Title III Part B includes the Historically Black Colleges and Universities (HBCUs) program and the Historically Black Graduate Institutions (HBGIs) program. Title III Part A provides funds to eligible institutions to plan, develop, and implement activities for development of faculty, fund, and administrative management, and improvement of academic programs, acquisition of equipment for use in strengthening academic programs and institutional management, and joint use of facilities such as libraries, laboratories, and student services. Title III Part B provides funds to undergraduate HBCUs and graduate HBGIs. Funds may be used for purchase, rental, or lease of scientific equipment; construction, maintenance, renovation, improvement in classroom, library and other instructional facilities; support of faculty exchanges and fellowships; academic instruction in disciplines in which African Americans are underrepresented, purchase of library books, periodicals, and other educational materials; tutoring, counseling, and student services; funds and administrative management; acquisition of equipment for use in funds management; endowment funds; and joint use of facilities. Title V Part A, Developing Hispanic Serving Institutions (HSIs) program provides funds to eligible HSIs for activities such as: faculty development; funds and administrative management; development and improvement of academic programs; endowment funds; curriculum development; scientific or laboratory equipment for teaching; construction or renovation of instructional facilities; joint use of facilities; academic tutoring; counseling programs; student support services, purchase of educational materials; articulation agreements; creating facilities for distance learning technologies; teacher education programs; K-12 community outreach programs; and the expansion of graduate and professional programs. Title V Part B, Promoting Postbaccalaureate Opportunities for Hispanic Americans program provides funds to eligible HSIs for activities such as: purchase or rental of scientific or laboratory equipment; construction or renovation of instructional facilities; purchase of educational materials; support for low-income postbaccalaureate students; support of academic instruction and faculty and curricular development; creating facilities for distance learning technologies; and collaboration with other institutions of higher education to expand postbaccalaureate offerings. Title III, Part F, Section 371 authorizes funds for Hispanic-serving Institutions STEM and Articulation Programs to support the kinds of activities being supported under the existing Title V program, except that priority is given for applications that propose to increase the number of Hispanic and other low-income students attaining degrees in fields of science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM) and to applications that propose to develop model transfer and articulation agreements between the 2-year and 4-year HSIs in such fields. Funds provided for Title III and Title V may not be used for activities other than those in an approved application, activities that are inconsistent with any applicable State plan of higher education or State plan for desegregation, a school or department of divinity or any religious worship or sectarian activity; general operating and maintenance expenses; indirect costs; or supplanting of other funds available to the institution. These programs are subject to non-supplanting requirements and must use a restricted indirect cost rate which is referenced under 34 CFR 76.563. In FY 2021, the Administration proposes to combine budget authority in the PPOHA, Strengthening ANNH, Strengthening AANAPISI, Strengthening PBI, Developing HSI, and Strengthening NASNTI programs into a new Consolidated MSI Grant program. Our plan is to fund the same Title III/V programs that normally receive separate funding; however, the plan is to collapse all of the funding into one program and award funding to all eligible institutions using a formula instead of awarding the funds competitively. In last years Guide, we included the funding as separate programs even though the programs were proposed for consolidation in the 2020 CJ (probably because we feel Congress will continue to fund them as separate programs despite our proposal to consolidate them).Consolidate single institutional formula grant program.For assistance call the Office of Chief Financial Officer/Indirect Cost Group on (202) 377-3838.

84.041 Impact Aid

FEDERAL AGENCY:

OFFICE OF ELEMENTARY AND SECONDARY EDUCATION, EDUCATION, DEPARTMENT OF

AUTHORIZATION:

Elementary and Secondary Education Act (OESE), as amended, Title VII,

OBJECTIVES:

To provide financial assistance to local educational agencies (LEAs) where affected by Federal activities, i.e., where the tax base of a district is reduced through the Federal acquisition of real property (Section 7002, ESEA), and where the presence of certain children living on Federal property places a financial burden on the LEAs that educate them (Sections 7003 and 7007, ESEA).

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Formula Grants, Project Grants (Discretionary)

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Under formula awards, most assistance becomes part of the general operating fund of the LEAs. Districts usually deposit the Federal payment in the general operating funds account in accordance with State laws, together with all State and local funds available for current operating expenses and use this combined account to finance the school program in the district. Special additional payments made to LEAs related to enrollments of federally connected children with disabilities must be used for programs and projects designed to meet the special educational and related needs of these children. Payments for construction may be used for construction and renovation, debt service, or other capital fund activities. Under discretionary construction awards, funds must be used for the project grant described in the application and grant award notification. The discretionary construction grant program is subject to non-supplanting requirements and must use a restricted indirect cost rate which is referenced under 34 CFR 76.564-76.569. For assistance call the Office of the Chief Financial Officer/Indirect Cost Group on 202-708-7770.

Applicant Eligibility:

Local (includes State-designated Indian Tribes, excludes institutions of higher education and hospitals; Sponsored organization; Local educational agencies that provide free public elementary or secondary education may apply. Under Section 7002, generally, assistance is provided to districts where an aggregate of 10 percent or more of the assessed valuation of all real property in the school district as of the time(s) of acquisition has been acquired by the Federal Government since 1938 and the district is not being substantially compensated by revenue from activities on the eligible Federal property. Under Section 7003, assistance is provided to districts where at least three percent or 400 of the total number of eligible federally connected children in average daily attendance (ADA) live on Federal property including Indian lands and/or have a parent who works on Federal property or is on active duty in the uniformed services. Under Section 7007(b), "heavily impacted" LEAs that enroll a high proportion (at least 40 percent) of federally connected children, or have little or no funding capacity, may be eligible for a competitive construction award.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

84.268 Federal Direct Student Loans

FEDERAL AGENCY:

OFFICE OF FEDERAL STUDENT AID, EDUCATION, DEPARTMENT OF AUTHORIZATION:

Higher Education Act of 1965, as amended, Title IV, Part D,

OBJECTIVES:

To provide loan capital directly from the Federal government to vocational, undergraduate, and graduate postsecondary school students and their parents.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Direct Loans

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

To help defray costs of education at participating institutions. Repayment on Federal Stafford loans begins six months after the student ceases to carry at least one-half the normal full-time academic workload. Repayment of principal and interest on PLUS loans generally begins within 60 days of disbursement of the last installment; repayment of a Consolidation loan begins within 60 days after the proceeds of the loan have been used to discharge the liability of the borrower on the loans selected for consolidation. Deferments and forbearance of payment may be granted for certain authorized periods.

Applicant Eligibility:

Individual/Family; The applicant must be a U.S. citizen, national, or person in the United States for other than a temporary purpose. A student borrower must be enrolled or accepted for enrollment in a degree or certificate program on at least a half-time basis as an undergraduate, graduate, or professional student at a participating postsecondary institution. An otherwise eligible student is eligible for loans during a single twelve-month period in which the student is enrolled in a non-degree/non-certificate course of study that the institution has determined is necessary in order for the student to enroll in a program leading to a degree or certificate. Under the Direct PLUS program, parents may borrow for dependent undergraduate students. Also, graduate and professional students are eligible to borrow PLUS Loans. Direct Unsubsidized and PLUS loans are available to eligible borrowers regardless of need. However, a financial needs test based on family income is required for an undergraduate student to receive a Direct Subsidized loan. A student that is presently enrolled at a participating institution must be maintaining satisfactory academic progress in the course of study that they are pursuing. The borrower may not owe a refund on any Title IV grant or be in default on any Title IV loan received for attendance at any institution. The borrower must also file a Statement of Registration compliance (Selective Service).

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Individual/Family; Education Professional; Student/Trainee; Graduate Student; Education (13+); Vocational, undergraduate, and graduate postsecondary school students and their parents.

Credentials/Documentation:

The borrower will need certification of eligibility from the institution and may be required to supply documentation to verify the accuracy of data used in the Direct Subsidized loan need analysis. This program is excluded from coverage under 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles.

Preapplication Coordination:

Pre-application coordination is not applicable.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. Applications for the Direct Subsidized and Unsubsidized loans are obtained from the institution. Direct consolidation loan applications are obtained from the Department of Education. To obtain a Direct Subsidized or Unsubsidized loan, a student shall complete and submit a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). All applications (with the exception of PLUS) for Direct Loans are processed by the Central Processor System (CPS) in the initial step to determine a student's Title IV eligibility. Institutions will receive official output from the CPS, and then will be able to assemble a financial aid award package. An institution participating in the Direct Loan program may award Direct Loans as part of the financial aid package. If a Direct Loan is not included in the aid package, a student may contact the institution to request loan information.

Award Procedure:

Institutions participate in the Direct Loan program either by originating loans or by using an alternative originator to originate loans. The institution must certify the borrower's eligibility to receive the funds. To obtain a Direct PLUS Loan, the parent completes an application and authorizes a credit check. If the parent does not have an adverse credit history, the loan may be disbursed. Institutions may disburse funds by crediting them directly to the student's account at the institution, issuing a check or cash, or by initiating an electronic funds transfer.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

Applicants may apply for a loan for any year of attendance at a postsecondary institution. Starting July 1, 2013, the interest rate on new Stafford Loans is fixed at a rate equal to the 10-year Treasury note plus 2.05 percent (capped at 8.25 percent); new Unsubsidized Stafford loans have a fixed interest rate equal to the 10-year Treasury note plus 3.6 percent (capped at 9.5 percent); and Direct PLUS loans have a fixed interest rate equal to the 10-year Treasury note plus 4.6 percent (capped at 10.5 percent). Generally, there are four types of repayment plans that are available to Direct Loan borrowers: (1) A standard repayment plan with a fixed monthly payment amount over a period of up to 10 years; (2) an extended repayment plan with a fixed monthly payment amount paid over a period of 12 to 30 years, depending on the amount owed; (3) a graduated repayment plan with a monthly payment that will increase generally every 2 years. The repayment period varies from 12 to 30 years, depending on the amount owed; and (4) except for Direct PLUS Loan borrowers, income-driven repayment plans such as the income contingent repayment (ICR) plan with a monthly payment that is adjusted annually based on the income of the borrower and paid over an extended period of time not to exceed 25 years. Any unpaid balance remaining after 25 years in the ICR plan is forgiven by the Secretary of Education. However, under current IRS rules, the amount written off is considered taxable income to the borrower in the year it is written off. In 2007, a new income-based repayment plan was created for those borrowers meeting a standard of "partial financial hardship" based on their annual repayment amount in relation to their adjusted gross income. Generally a borrower would not have to repay on a monthly basis more than 15 percent of their discretionary income, and any outstanding balance would be forgiven after 25 years of repayment. For new borrowers on or after July 1, 2014, these limits have been lowered to 10 percent of discretionary income and forgiveness after 20 years of repayment. Additionally, two new income-driven repayment plans extended those benefits to all qualified student borrowers. First, as of December 21, 2012, the Pay As You Earn (PAYE) plan, is an option for those who meet the partial financial hardship standard, were a new borrower as of October 1, 2007, and who received a Direct Loan disbursement on or after October 1, 2011. Second, as of December 17, 2015, the Revised Pay As You Earn (REPAYE) plan became available to all qualified student borrowers regardless of when they borrowed and did not require a partial financial hardship for reduced payments. Direct Loan borrowers who work in public service are eligible for forgiveness during a 10-year period while they are repaying their loans. If these borrowers, during repayment, have an outstanding loan balance after 10 years of working in public service, the Federal Government will forgive the remaining balance on behalf of the borrower. Public service may include a variety of public disciplines such as education, health, law, military service and public safety. Method of awarding/releasing assistance: other

PROGRAM ACCOMPLISHMENTS:

Fiscal Year 2022: Regional Centers provide intensive capacity-building services to help SEAs and other recipients identify, implement, and sustain effective evidence-based practices that improve instruction and student outcomes. The National Center provides universal and targeted capacity-building services to address common high-leverage problems and common programmatic monitoring and audit findings, as well as information on emerging national education issues. The Centers work has taken on additional meaning during the COVID-19 crisis, and Centers successfully pivoted to provide services to help SEAs and LEAs adapt to difficult and changing situations, revising their service plans on an on-going basis to address changing needs. Centers raised awareness of existing resources and services, provided information to SEAs to inform their resource allocation decisions in ways that would support educational equity, improved literacy instruction, and the educator workforce. The National Center supported the Summer Learning and Enrichment Collaborative, a national professional learning community bringing together state and local organizations across all 50 states and U.S. territories to explore how to leverage American Rescue Plan (ARP) and other federal funds to support effective summer learning and enrichment opportunities to meet the needs of students most impacted by the pandemic. As needed, Regional Centers support SEAs implementing recovery plans and help SEAs identify how to integrate stimulus funding into ESEA plans. Information on Comprehensive Center activities is available at <https://compcenternetwork.org/>.
