

A delineated area with a 5-mile radius was used for the purpose of identifying average market rents of comparable properties while completing the market survey